Participatory Design for Learning Betsy DiSalvo,Jason Yip,Elizabeth Bonsignore,Carl DiSalvo,2017-05-25 Participatory Design is a field of research and design that actively engages stakeholders in the processes of design in order to better conceptualize and create tools environments and systems that serve those stakeholders In Participatory Design for Learning Perspectives from Practice and Research contributors from across the fields of the learning sciences and design articulate an inclusive practice and begin the process of shaping guidelines for such collaborative involvement Drawing from a wide range of examples and perspectives this book explores how participatory design can contribute to the development implementation and sustainability of learning innovations Written for scholars and students Participatory Design for Learning Perspectives from Practice and Research develops and draws attention to practices that are relevant to the facilitation of effective educational environments and learning technologies Smart Play Smart Toys Stevanne Auerbach,2006-07 We ve all heard of IQ but do you know your child s PQ or Play Quotient A child s ability to play does more than provide for fun and diversion it is critical for his or her emotion and intellectual growth an teaches everything from social skills to analytical thinking For the developing mind of a child learning to play is paramount but is your child getting the most out of playtime Stevanne Auerbach Ph D more affectionately known as Dr Toy has dedicated a lifetime to the importance of play and gives you specific advice on which toys to buy and what kind of games to play to empower your child's overall development You'll learn How to become your child's play Tutor How play can strengthen maturity levels and confidence The pros cons and facts of gender specific toys Guidance for the gifted and special needs child Plus practical advice on Evaluating a toy's safety learn which toy manufacturers Dr Toy recommends Craft supplies you should always have on hand Dr Toy's 100 Best Children's Products And many more invaluable ways to make playtime a growing experience Puppets, Gods, and Brands Teri J. Silvio, 2019-09-30 The early twenty first century has seen an explosion of animation Cartoon characters are everywhere in cinema television and video games and as brand logos There are new technological objects that seem to have lives of their own from Facebook algorithms that suggest products for us to buy to robots that respond to human facial expressions The ubiquity of animation is not a trivial side effect of the development of digital technologies and the globalization of media markets Rather it points to a paradigm shift In the last century performance became a key term in academic and popular discourse The idea that we construct identities through our gestures and speech proved extremely useful for thinking about many aspects of social life The present volume proposes an anthropological concept of animation as a contrast and complement to performance The idea that we construct social others by projecting parts of ourselves out into the world might prove useful for thinking about such topics as climate crisis corporate branding and social media Like performance animation can serve as a platform for comparisons of different cultures and historical eras Teri Silvio presents an anthropology of animation through a detailed ethnographic account of how characters objects and abstract concepts are invested with lives personalities and powers and how people interact with them in contemporary Taiwan The practices analyzed include the worship of wooden statues of Buddhist and Daoist deities and the recent craze for cute vinyl versions of these deities as well as a wildly popular video fantasy series performed by puppets She reveals that animation is like performance a concept that works differently in different contexts and that animation practices are deeply informed by local traditions of thinking about the relationships between body and soul spiritual power and the material world The case of Taiwan where Chinese traditions merge with Japanese and American popular culture uncovers alternatives to seeing animation as either an expression of animism or as playing God Looking at the contemporary world through the lens of animation will help us rethink relationships between global and local identity and otherness human and non human

Project Zero Frameworks for Early Childhood Education: Project Spectrum : early learning activities Howard Gardner, David Henry Feldman, Mara Krechevsky, Jie-Qi Chen, 1998-11-13 The groundbreaking work of Harvard University psychologist Howard Gardner on multiple intelligences and Tufts University psychologist David Henry Feldman on nonuniversal development is fast becoming the standard by which children's intelligence and cognitive development is understood In this landmark three volume set Mara Krechevsky and her colleagues at Project Zero make these insights available for both teachers and scholars alike This curriculum resource provides enriching activities in a wide variety of disciplines including mechanics and construction movement and music

Follow Me As I Follow Christ Cheryl

Dunlop, 2000-08-01 Many children's teaching programs resemble carnivals instead of productive environments where a child can learn about Jesus Christ. This is often the result of having untrained teachers teaching Sunday school. Experienced Sunday school teacher Cheryl Dunlop fills this void by providing a practical teaching manual designed to ensure all those teaching Sunday school are equipped and motivated to do their best for the Lord. Follow Me as I Follow Christ explores issues like how to tell a story, methods of effective discipline, and interacting with individual needs of children. Divided into 52 weekly entries, it is designed to be read along with and help in teachers' class preparation.
