

· BUT WHAT IS THE READER
TO MAKE OF THIS? ·

A lake of pain, an absence
Leading to a flowering sea? Give it a quarter-turn
And watch the centuries begin to collapse
Through each other, like floors in a burning building,
Until we get to this afternoon:

Those delicious few words spread around like jam
Don't matter, nor does the shadow.
We have lived blasphemously in history
And nothing has hurt us or can.
But beware of the monstrous tenderness, for out of it
The same blunt archives loom. Facts seize hold of the web
And leave it ash. Still, it is the personal,
Interior life that gives us something to think about.
The rest is only drama.

Meanwhile the combinations of every extendable circumstance
In our lives continue to blow against it like new leaves
At the edge of a forest a battle rages in and out of
For a whole day. It's not the background, we're the background,
On the outside looking out. The surprises history has
For us are nothing compared to the shock we get
From each other, though time still wears
The colors of meanness and melancholy, and the general life
Is still many sizes too big, yet
Has style, woven of things that never happened
With those that did, so that a mood survives
Where life and death never could. Make it sweet again!

Readings In Contemporary Poetry Number 1 John Ashbery

Readings In Contemporary Poetry Number 1 John Ashbery:

Readings in Contemporary Poetry Vincent Katz, 2017-01-01 Culled from Dia Art Foundation's Readings in Contemporary Poetry series this anthology includes ninety four poets who have participated in the reading series from 2010 to 2016 Edited by poet and author Vincent Katz the book stresses the experimental aspects of contemporary poetic practice highlighting commonalities among poets and placing their diverse voices in conversation with one another The Leonard L. Milberg Collection of American Poetry Princeton University. Library. Department of Rare Books and Special Collections, Molly Weigel, Leonard L. Milberg, 1994 Princeton NJ 08544 Library Publications Dept of Rare Books 1 Washington Rd A catalogue of the Milberg collection of contemporary American poetry at the Firestone Library Princeton U It covers 70 poets and over 1 800 items as of the end of July 1993 Most of the poets were first published commercially after the end of WWII others were included because of their connection to Princeton or because they were too important to be excluded An introduction about two pages and small photograph introduce each poet Really much more thrilling than it sounds a pellucid companion to the contemporaries and beautifully produced as well Available from Princeton University Libraries Annotation c by Book News Inc Portland Or John Ashbery and American Poetry David Herd, 2024-07-30 David Herd sets out to provide readers with a new critical language through which they can appreciate the beauty and complexity of Ashbery's writing Presenting the poet in all his forms avant garde nostalgic sublime and camp the book argues that the perpetual inventiveness of Ashbery's work has always been underpinned by the poet's desire to write the poem fit to cope with its occasion Tracing Ashbery's development in the light of this idea and from its origins in the dazzling artistic environment of 1950's New York the book evaluates his poetry against the aesthetic literary and historical backgrounds that have informed it The story of a brilliant career and a history of the period in which that career has taken shape John Ashbery and American Poetry provides a compelling account of Ashbery's importance to Twentieth Century Literature John Ashbery - Pierre Martory, 1993

The First Book Jesse Zuba, 2025-07-15 An illuminating look at the poetic debut in twentieth century American literary culture We have many poets of the First Book the poet and critic Louis Simpson remarked in 1957 describing a sense that the debut poetry collection not only launched the contemporary poetic career but also had come to define it Surveying American poetry over the past hundred years The First Book explores the emergence of the poetic debut as a unique literary production with its own tradition conventions and dynamic role in the literary market Through new readings of poets ranging from Wallace Stevens and Marianne Moore to John Ashbery and Louise Glück Jesse Zuba illuminates the importance of the first book in twentieth century American literary culture which involved complex struggles for legitimacy on the part of poets critics and publishers alike Zuba investigates poets' diverse responses to the question of how to launch a career in an increasingly professionalized literary scene that threatened the authenticity of the poetic calling He shows how modernist debuts evoke markedly idiosyncratic paths while postwar first books evoke trajectories that balance professional imperatives with traditional literary ideals Debut titles ranging from Simpson's The Arrivistes to Ken Chen's Juvenilia stress the strikingly pervasive theme of beginning accommodating a new demand for career development even as it distances the poets from that demand Combining literary analysis with cultural history The First Book will interest scholars and students of twentieth century literature as well as readers and writers of poetry Voegelinian Readings of Modern Literature Charles R. Embry, 2011-05-16 These essays supply a theoretical grounding for the reading of novels poems and plays and reveal how the Voegelinian perspective exposes the existential and philosophical dimensions of the literary works themselves As a unit this collection of essays shows how modern pieces of literature can symbolize their creators participation in the human search for the truth of existence just as myths philosophical works and religious texts always have Voegelin's primary concern as a philosopher was to expose the roots of the disturbances of the modern era religious conflict imperialism war so that the sources of order leading to meaning are revealed The openness of Voegelinian thought and the many ways he considered the levels of reality generate intriguing themes for literary criticism

Experimentalism as Reciprocal Communication in Contemporary American Poetry Elina Siltanen, 2016-10-06 The poems of John Ashbery Lyn Hejinian and Ron Silliman may seem to offer endless small details of expression observation thought and narrative which fail to hang together even from one line to the next But as Elina Siltanen shows here this extraordinary flow of uncoordinated detail can stimulate readers to join the poets in a delightful exploration of ordinary language When readers take a poem in this spirit they actually begin to read as members of a community the community not only of themselves and other readers but also including the poet and other poets plus all the speakers of the language in which the poem is written For all these different parties that language is indeed a shared resource and the way for readers to get started is simply by recalling or imagining some of the numerous kinds of context in which the given poem's words phrases sentences could or could not be successfully used The rewards for such proactive readers are on the one hand a heightened sense of the subtle interweavings of language and life and on the other hand a freshly empowered self confidence The point being that within the community of contemporary experimental poetry poets have no more authority than readers Rejecting older cultural hierarchies they present themselves as teasing out the idiomatic serendipities of their own poems together with their readers The Poetry Circuit Peter B. Howarth, 2024-09-17 Live performance has changed poetry more than anything else in the last hundred years it has given poets new audiences and a new economy and it has generated new styles from Imagism to confessional to contemporary Spoken Word But the creative impact that public reading had right through the twentieth century has not been well understood Mixing close listening to archive performances with intimate histories of modernist venues and promoters The Poetry Circuit tells the story of how poets met their audience again and how the feedback loops between their voices the venues and the occasions turned poems into running dramas between poet and listener A nervous T S Eliot reveals himself to be anything but impersonal while Marianne Moore's accident prone readings become subtle ways of keeping her poems in constant re draft

Robert Frost used his poems to spar with his fans and rivals while Langston Hughes wrote Ask Your Mama to expose the prejudice circulating in the room as he spoke it The Poetry Circuit also shows how the post war reading boom made new kinds of poetry involving their audience and setting in the performance such as John Ashbery's anti charismatic Poets Theatre Amiri Baraka's documentary soundtracks of the streets or the confessional readings of Allen Ginsberg which shame the listeners more than the poet Covering the first seventy years of the poetry reading The Poetry Circuit demonstrates that there never were page and stage poets the reading simply changed what every modern poet could do Poetry's Afterlife Kevin Stein, 2011-02-16 Poetry lives on in the digital age The Bloomsbury Handbook of Contemporary American Poetry Craig Svonkin, Steven Gould Axelrod, 2023-01-12 With chapters written by leading scholars such as Steven Gould Axelrod Cary Nelson and Marjorie Perloff this comprehensive Handbook explores the full range and diversity of poetry and criticism in 21st century America The Bloomsbury Handbook of Contemporary American Poetry covers such topics as Major histories and genealogies of post war poetry from the language poets and the Black Arts Movement to New York school and the Beats Poetry identity and community from African American Chicana o and Native American poetry to Queer verse and the poetics of disability Key genres and forms including digital visual documentary and children's poetry Central critical themes economics publishing popular culture ecopoetics translation and biography The book also includes an interview section in which major contemporary poets such as Rae Armantrout and Claudia Rankine reflect on the craft and value of poetry today

The Matter of Capital Christopher Nealon, 2011-04 Christopher Nealon's reexamination of North America's poetry in English from Ezra Pound and W H Auden to younger poets of the present day argues persuasively that the central literary project of the past century was to explore the relationship between poetry and capitalism its impact on individuals communities and cultures Dark Airs Brendan Cooper, 2009 In discussions of American poetry since World War II the work of John Berryman has become increasingly neglected and marginalized Critics have overwhelmingly chosen to favour the notion that he is an academic establishment poet whose career can comfortably be described as a move from New Critical traditionalism towards self absorbed confessionalism This study shows how such a narrow understanding of Berryman's work is reflective of a broader critical inclination towards a codification of the literary canon as a duel between competing factions of a formalist establishment mainstream and an experimentalist countercultural avant garde By examining the extent to which Berryman's poetry engages with the complex religiopolitical climate of Cold War American culture this study exposes the inadequacy of the paradigm of mainstream traditionalism in relation to his work In doing so it opens up threads of comparative possibility between his work and that of poets ordinarily segregated from him by divisive conceptions of the literary canon As such this volume provides a reconsideration of Berryman's work that simultaneously asks broader questions about the nature of the American poetic canon and established definitions of postmodern poetry Since When Bill Berkson, 2018-11-06 Bill Berkson was a poet art critic and joyful participant in the best of postwar and bohemian American culture Since When gathers the ephemera of a life well lived a collage of bold face names parties exhibitions and literary history from a man who could write of Truman Capote s Black and White ball which I attended as my mother s escort I have little recollection and reminisce about imagining himself as a character from Tolstoy while tripping on acid at Woodstock Gentle witty and eternally generous this is Bill and a particular moment in American history at its best All Poets Welcome Daniel Kane,2003-03-26 Together with its accompanying CD this text captures the excitement of the vibrant irreverent poetry scene of New York s Lower East Side in the 1960s The text draws from personal interviews with many of the participants from unpublished letters and from rare sound recordings John Ashbery and Anglo-American Exchange Oli Hazzard,2018 This book shows how Ashbery s poetry has been centrally concerned with questions of national identity and intercultural poetic exchange Through detailed close readings of his poetry original interviews and extensive archival research a new account of Ashbery s aesthetic and a significant re mapping of post war English poetry is presented Words on Cassette ,1997 Poetry in a Global Age Jahan Ramazani,2020-10-29 Ideas culture and capital flow across national borders with unprecedented speed but we tend not to think of poems as taking part in globalization Jahan Ramazani shows that poetry has much to contribute to understanding literature in an extra national frame Indeed the globality of poetry he argues stands to energize the transnational turn in the humanities Poetry in a Global Age builds on Ramazani s award winning A Transnational Poetics a book that had a catalytic effect on literary studies Ramazani broadens his lens to discuss modern and contemporary poems not only in relation to world literature war and questions of orientalism but also in light of current debates over ecocriticism translation studies tourism and cultural geography He offers brilliant readings of postcolonial poets like Agha Shahid Ali Lorna Goodison and Daljit Nagra as well as canonical modernists such as W B Yeats Wallace Stevens T S Eliot and Marianne Moore Ramazani shows that even when poetry seems locally rooted its long memory of forms and words its connections across centuries continents and languages make it a powerful imaginative resource for a global age This book makes a strong case for poetry in the future development of world literature and global studies Literature and the Child James Holt McGavran,James Holt McGavran,1998-04 The Romantic myth of childhood as a transhistorical holy time of innocence and spirituality uncorrupted by the adult world has been subjected in recent years to increasingly serious interrogation Was there ever really a time when mythic ideals were simple pure and uncomplicated The contributors to this book contend although in widely differing ways and not always approvingly that our culture is indeed still pervaded in this postmodern moment of the very late twentieth century by the Romantic conception of childhood which first emerged two hundred years ago In the wake of the French Revolution and the Industrial Revolution western Europe experienced another fin de si cle characterized by overwhelming material and institutional change and instability By historicizing the specific political social and economic conflicts at work within the notion of Romantic childhood the essayists in Literature and the Child show us how little these forces have changed over time and how enriching and empowering they can still be for children and their parents In the first section Romanticism Continued and Contested Alan Richardson and Mitzi Myers question the origins and ends of Romantic childhood In Romantic Ironies Postmodern Texts Dieter Petzold Richard Flynn and James McGavran argue that postmodern texts for both children and adults perpetuate the Romantic complexities of childhood Next in The Commerce of Children s Books Anne Lundin and Paula Connolly study the production and marketing of children s classics Finally in Romantic Ideas in Cultural Confrontations William Scheick and Teya Rosenberg investigate interactions of Romantic myths with those of other cultural systems The Kinds of Poetry I Want Charles Bernstein,2024-11-28 A celebration of the radical poetics of invention from Charles Bernstein For more than four decades Charles Bernstein has been at the forefront of experimental poetry ever reaching for a radical poetics that defies schools periods and cultural institutions The Kinds of Poetry I Want is a celebration of invention and includes not only poetry but also essays on aesthetics and literary studies interviews with other poets autobiographical sketches and more At once a dialogic novel long poem and grand opera The Kinds of Poetry I Want arrives amid renewed attacks on humanistic expression In his polemical humorous style Bernstein faces these challenges head on and affirms the enduring vitality and attraction of poetry poetics and literary criticism Changing Subjects Srikanth Reddy,2012-07-12 Theoretical accounts of modern American poetry often regard literary texts as the expression of a subjectivity irremediably fractured by the dividing practices of power In Changing Subjects Srikanth Reddy seeks to redress our critical bias toward a fatalistic poetics of rupture and fragmentation by foregrounding a fluent tradition of writers from Walt Whitman to John Ashbery who explore digression rather than disjunction as a rhetorical strategy for the making of modern poetry Mapping the ramifying topography of literary digression Changing Subjects offers a wide ranging anatomy of the excursus within twentieth century American poetics Moving from aesthetics to the archive to narratology to figures of identity Reddy considers various spheres in which American writers revisit and revise our models of purposeful discourse by cultivating a poetics of digression in modern literature In new readings of authors such as Wallace Stevens Marianne Moore Frank O Hara and Lyn Hejinian this study proposes that changing the subject offers a digressive method for negotiating the vexing complexities of art knowledge history and subjectivity under the curious conditions of modernity The book concludes with a survey of Elliptical strategies employed by a new generation of poets writing in the wake of John Ashbery s aleatory craft who seek to extend the digressive project of American poetry into the twenty first century
