the English Reformation Nicholas Watson, 2022-06-21 For over seven hundred years bodies of writing in vernacular languages served an indispensable role in the religious and intellectual culture of medieval Christian England yet the character and extent of their importance have been insufficiently recognized A longstanding identification of medieval western European Christianity with the Latin language and a lack of awareness about the sheer variety and quantity of vernacular religious writing from the English Middle Ages have hampered our understanding of the period exercising a tenacious hold on much scholarship Bringing together work across a range of disciplines including literary study Christian theology social history and the history of institutions Balaam s Ass attempts the first comprehensive overview of religious writing in early England s three most important vernacular languages Old English Insular French and Middle English between the ninth and sixteenth centuries Nicholas Watson argues not only that these texts comprise the oldest continuous tradition of European vernacular writing but that they are essential to our understanding of how Christianity shaped and informed the lives of individuals communities and polities in the Middle Ages This first of three volumes lays out the long post Reformation history of the false claim that the medieval Catholic Church was hostile to the vernacular It analyzes the complicated idea of the vernacular a medieval innovation instantiated in a huge body of surviving vernacular religious texts Finally it focuses on the first long generation of these writings in Old English and early Middle English Revelations of Divine Love (Royal Collector's Edition) (Case Laminate Hardcover with Jacket) Julian Of Norwich,2024-10-22

Revelations of Divine Love by Julian of Norwich is a medieval Christian mystical text notable for being the earliest surviving book written in English by a woman It details sixteen mystical visions or shewings that Julian experienced in 1373 while on her deathbed After recovering Julian documented these visions in a short manuscript known as the Short Text Over the following decades she expanded upon her reflections producing the more extensive Long Text both of which were written in Middle English The work gained renewed interest centuries after Julian s death Her writings were preserved through various manuscripts with the Long Text first published in 1670 by Benedictine monk Serenus de Cressy The 19th century revival of her work led to multiple reprints and in 1901 Grace Warrack s translation introduced Julian s insights to a wider 20th century audience Revelations of Divine Love continues to be studied for its profound spiritual reflections and historical significance in Christian mysticism This case laminate collector s edition includes a Victorian inspired dust jacket Julian of Norwich Janina Ramirez,2016-10-01 Over six hundred years ago a woman known as Julian of Norwich wrote what is now regarded as one of the greatest works of literature in English Based on a sequence of mystical visions she received in 1373 her book is called Revelations of Divine Love Julian lived through an age of political and religious turmoil as well as through the misery of the Black Death and her writing engages with timeless questions about life love and the meaning of suffering But who was Julian of Norwich And what can she teach us today Medievalist and TV historian Janina Ramirez invites you to join her in exploring Julian s remarkable life and times offering insights into how and why her writing has survived and what we can learn from this fourteenth century mystic whose work lay hidden in the shadows of her male contemporaries for far too long Catalogue of Books Exclusive of Prose Fiction in the Central Lending Library Leeds (England). Public Libraries, Art Gallery and Museum,1907 Bulletin ,1902 Women and Mystical Experience in the Middle Ages Frances Beer,1992 Original and thought provoking study of three medieval women mystics based on writings and biographical material A wholly feminine voice within Catholicism they express the inexpressible better than any amount of rational thinking about God THE TIMES The three women who are the subject of this fascinating study left a rich legacy of medieval spirituality Frances Beer explores their writings and draws on available historical evidence to bring the experience of all three women closer to a 20th century audience She sees Hildegard's perception of her Creator as informed by the heroic ideal while Mechthild's erotic experience seems to show the influence of the minnesingers Julian's experience of tender intimacy with her Lord demonstrates an egalitarian confidence in the ability of the individual soul to progress towards oneness with the divine Their individual natures are also further revealed through the author's examination of their resolution of a number of theological problems In contrast the works of two medieval men writing for women are also explored

FRANCES BEER is Associate Professor of English at York University Toronto Mysticism Evelyn Underhill, 1912

Miraculous Kevin Charles Belmonte, 2012 Kevin Belmonte provides learned insight into the profoundly important history of miracles Miraculous is a richly researched text of wondrous things that have taken place from ancient times to the present
