Naturalizing The Mind Jean Nicod Lectures:

Naturalizing The Mind Fred Dretske, 1997-08-21 Naturalizing the Mind skillfully develops a representational theory of the qualitative the phenomenal the what it is like aspects of the mind that have defied traditional forms of naturalism How can the baffling problems of phenomenal experience be accounted for In this provocative book Fred Dretske argues that to achieve an understanding of the mind it is not enough to understand the biological machinery by means of which the mind does its job One must understand what the mind s job is and how this task can be performed by a physical system the nervous system Naturalizing the Mind skillfully develops a representational theory of the qualitative the phenomenal the what it is like aspects of the mind that have defied traditional forms of naturalism Central to Dretske s approach is the claim that the phenomenal aspects of perceptual experiences are one and the same as external real world properties that experience represents objects as having Combined with an evolutionary account of sensory representation the result is a completely naturalistic account of phenomenal consciousness Not for sale in France or Belgium

Matters of the Mind William Lyons, 2020-11-25 This book presents a popular and authoritative account of the dramatically different ways in which philosophers have thought about the mind over the last hundred years It explores the effect of the major turning points in recent western philosophy as well as the influence of the leading figures

Thought Experiments between Nature and Society Bojan Borstner, Smiljana Gartner, 2017-06-23 As a prominent figure in analytic philosophy of the 20th and 21st centuries Nenad Mi evi has enriched enhanced and expanded many areas of the field This volume dedicated to him for his 65th birthday follows the virtues he so much respects conceptual analysis rigorous use of logics and clear definitions and applies them to a very hot topic in philosophy thought experiments Present throughout the history of philosophy thought experiments have become indispensable for the discipline and for analytic philosophy in particular But questions can be asked as to what exactly is a thought experiment what it consists of and most importantly if it is even useful for philosophy Next to these conceptual questions this collection tackles thought experiments that have tradition some of them very long like The Ring of Gyges The Social Contract and Descartes Evil Demon Others like Twin Earth Gettier cases and Brain in a Vat thought experiments have prompted at least half a century long trails One cannot understand contemporary analytic philosophy without understanding these trails and traditions Nenad s closest friends and colleagues from all over Europe share their thoughts on this topic in this book followed diligently by Nenad s comments on their work

The Emotional Mind Stephen T. Asma, Rami Gabriel, 2019-04-15 Tracing the leading role of emotions in the evolution of the mind a philosopher and a psychologist pair up to reveal how thought and culture owe less to our faculty for reason than to our capacity to feel Many accounts of the human mind concentrate on the brain s computational power Yet in evolutionary terms rational cognition emerged only the day before yesterday For nearly 200 million years before humans developed a capacity to reason the emotional centers of the brain were hard at work If we want to properly understand the evolution of the mind we must explore this more primal capability that we share with other animals the power to feel Emotions saturate every thought and perception with the weight of feelings The Emotional Mind reveals that many of the distinctive behaviors and social structures of our species are best discerned through the lens of emotions Even the roots of so much that makes us uniquely human art mythology religion can be traced to feelings of caring longing fear loneliness awe rage lust playfulness and more From prehistoric cave art to the songs of Hank Williams Stephen T Asma and Rami Gabriel explore how the evolution of the emotional mind stimulated our species cultural expression in all its rich variety Bringing together insights and data from philosophy biology anthropology neuroscience and psychology The Emotional Mind offers a new paradigm for understanding what it is that makes us so unique

Naturalism and Our Knowledge of Reality R. Scott Smith, 2016-04-22 Philosophical naturalism is taken to be the preferred and reigning epistemology and metaphysics that underwrites many ideas and knowledge claims But what if we cannot know reality on that basis What if the institution of science is threatened by its reliance on naturalism R Scott Smith argues in a fresh way that we cannot know reality on the basis of naturalism Moreover the fact value split has failed to serve our interests of wanting to know reality The author provocatively argues that since we can know reality it must be due to a non naturalistic ontology best explained by the fact that human knowers are made and designed by God The book offers fresh implications for the testing of religious truth claims science ethics education and public policy Consequently naturalism and the fact value split are shown to be false and Christian theism is shown to be true

Mind World David Woodruff Smith, 2004-03-15 This collection explores the structure of consciousness and its place in the world or inversely the structure of the world and the place of consciousness in it Amongst the topics covered are the phenomenological aspects of experience dependencies between experience and the world and the basic ontological categories found in the world at large Developing ideas drawn from historical figures such as Descartes Husserl Aristotle and Whitehead the essays together demonstrate the interdependence of ontology and phenomenology and its significance for the philosophy of mind

The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Colour Derek H. Brown, Fiona Macpherson, 2020-09-27 From David Hume's famous puzzle about the missing shade of blue to current research into the science of colour the topic of colour is an incredibly fertile region of study and debate cutting across philosophy of mind epistemology metaphysics and aesthetics as well as psychology Debates about the nature of our experience of colour and the nature of colour itself are central to contemporary discussion and argument in philosophy of mind and psychology and philosophy of perception This outstanding Handbook contains 29 specially commissioned contributions by leading philosophers and examines the most important aspects of philosophy of colour It is organized into six parts The Importance of Colour to Philosophy The Science and Spaces of Colour Colour Phenomena Colour Ontology Colour Experience and Epistemology Language Categories and Thought The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Colour is essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy of mind and psychology epistemology metaphysics and aesthetics as well as for those interested in conceptual issues in the psychology of colour

Representation and Recognition in Vision Shimon Edelman, 1999 Shimon Edelman bases a comprehensive approach to visual representation on the notion of correspondence between proximal internal and distal similarities in objects Researchers have long sought to understand what the brain does when we see an object what two people have in common when they see the same object and what a seeing machine would need to have in common with a human visual system Recent neurobiological and computational advances in the study of vision have now brought us close to answering these and other questions about representation In Representation and Recognition in Vision Shimon Edelman bases a comprehensive approach to visual representation on the notion of correspondence between proximal internal and distal similarities in objects This leads to a computationally feasible and formally veridical representation of distal objects that addresses the needs of shape categorization and can be used to derive models of perceived similarity Edelman first discusses the representational needs of various visual recognition tasks and surveys current theories of representation in this context He then develops a theory of representation that is related to Shepard's notion of second order isomorphism between representations and their targets Edelman goes beyond Shepard by specifying the conditions under which the representations can be made formally veridical Edelman assesses his theory's performance in identification and categorization of 3D shapes and examines it in light of psychological and neurobiological data concerning the object processing stream in primate vision He also discusses the connections between his theory and other efforts to understand representation in the brain

Language, Consciousness, Culture Ray S. Jackendoff, 2009-01-23 An integrative approach to human cognition that encompasses the domains of language consciousness action social cognition and theory of mind that will foster cross disciplinary conversation among linguists philosophers psycholinguists neuroscientists cognitive anthropologists and evolutionary psychologists Ray Jackendoff's Language Consciousness Culture represents a breakthrough in developing an integrated theory of human cognition It will be of interest to a broad spectrum of cognitive scientists including linguists philosophers psycholinguists neuroscientists cognitive anthropologists and evolutionary psychologists Jackendoff argues that linguistics has become isolated from the other cognitive sciences at least partly because of the syntax based architecture assumed by mainstream generative grammar He proposes an alternative parallel architecture for the language faculty that permits a greater internal integration of the components of language and connects far more naturally to such larger issues in cognitive neuroscience as language processing the connection of language to vision and the evolution of language Extending this approach beyond the language capacity Jackendoff proposes sharper criteria for a satisfactory theory of consciousness examines the structure of complex everyday actions and investigates the concepts involved in an individual's grasp of society and culture Each of these domains is used to reflect back on the question of what is unique about human language and what follows from more general properties of the mind Language Consciousness Culture extends Jackendoff's pioneering theory of conceptual semantics to two of the most important domains of human thought social cognition and theory of mind Jackendoff's formal framework allows him to draw new connections among a large variety of literatures and to uncover new distinctions and generalizations not previously recognized The breadth of the approach will foster cross disciplinary conversation the vision is to develop a richer understanding of human nature

Rationality in Action John R. Searle, 2003-01-24 The study of rationality and practical reason or rationality in action has been central to Western intellectual culture In this invigorating book John Searle lays out six claims of what he calls the Classical Model of rationality and shows why they are false He then presents an alternative theory of the role of rationality in thought and action A central point of Searle's theory is that only irrational actions are directly caused by beliefs and desires for example the actions of a person in the grip of an obsession or addiction In most cases of rational action there is a gap between the motivating desire and the actual decision making The traditional name for this gap is freedom of the will According to Searle all rational activity presupposes free will For rationality is possible only where one has a choice among various rational as well as irrational options Unlike many philosophical tracts Rationality in Action invites the reader to apply the author's ideas to everyday life Searle shows for example that contrary to the traditional philosophical view weakness of will is very common He also points out the absurdity of the claim that rational decision making always starts from a consistent set of desires Rational decision making he argues is often about choosing between conflicting reasons for action In fact humans are distinguished by their ability to be rationally motivated by desire independent reasons for action Extending his theory of rationality to the self Searle shows how rational deliberation presupposes an irreducible notion of the self He also reveals the idea of free will to be essentially a thesis of how the brain works

years since Daniel Dennett's influential Consciousness Explained was published in 1991 scientific research on consciousness has been a hotly contested battleground of rival theories so rambunctious Dennett observes that several people are writing books just about the tumult With Sweet Dreams Dennett returns to the subject for revision and renewal of his theory of consciousness taking into account major empirical advances in the field since 1991 as well as recent theoretical challenges In Consciousness Explained Dennett proposed to replace the ubiquitous but bankrupt Cartesian Theater model which posits a privileged place in the brain where it all comes together for the magic show of consciousness with the Multiple Drafts Model Drawing on psychology cognitive neuroscience and artificial intelligence he asserted that human consciousness is essentially the mental software that reorganizes the functional architecture of the brain In Sweet Dreams he recasts the Multiple Drafts Model as the frame in the brain model as a background against which to examine the philosophical issues that continue to bedevil the field With his usual clarity and brio Dennett enlivens his arguments with a variety of vivid examples He isolates the Zombic Hunch that distorts much of the theorizing of both philosophers and scientists and defends heterophenomenology his third person approach to the science of consciousness against persistent misinterpretations and objections The old challenge of Frank Jackson's thought experiment about Mary the color scientist is given a new rebuttal in the form of RoboMary while his discussion of a famous card trick The Tuned Deck is designed to show that David Chalmers's Hard Problem is probably just a figment of theorists misexploited imagination In the final essay the intrinsic nature of qualia is compared with the naively imagined intrinsic value of a dollar in Consciousness How Much is That in Real Money

Perceptual Learning Manfred Fahlke, Tomaso Poggio, 2002 Perceptual learning is the specific and relatively permanent modification of perception and behaviour following sensory experience This book presents advances made during the 1990s in this rapidly growing field In Search of Moral Knowledge R. Scott Smith, 2014-05-02 For most of the church's history people have seen Christian ethics as normative and universally applicable Recently however this view has been lost thanks to naturalism and relativism R Scott Smith argues that Christians need to overcome Kant's fact value dichotomy and recover the possibility of genuine moral and theological knowledge The Red and the Real Jonathan Cohen, 2009-06-25 The Red and the Real offers a new approach to longstanding philosophical puzzles about what colors are and how they fit into the natural world Jonathan Cohen argues for a role functionalist treatment of color a view according to which colors are identical to certain functional roles involving perceptual effects on subjects Cohen first argues on broadly empirical grounds for the more general relationalist view that colors are constituted in terms of relations between objects perceivers and viewing conditions He responds to semantic ontological and phenomenological objections against this thesis and argues that relationalism offers the best hope of respecting both empirical results and ordinary belief about color He then defends the more specific role functionalist account by contending that the latter is the most plausible form of color relationalism Philosophy of Mind John Heil, 2019-08-29 The book is intended as a reader friendly introduction to issues in the philosophy of mind including mental physical causal interaction computational models of thought the relation minds bear to brains and assorted isms behaviorism dualism eliminativism emergentism functionalism materialism neutral monism and panpsychism The Fourth Edition reintroduces a chapter on Donald Davidson and a discussion of Non Cartesian Dualism along with a wholly new chapter on emergence and panpsychism A concluding chapter draws together material in earlier chapters and offers what the author regards as a plausible account of the mind s place in nature Suggested readings at the conclusion of each chapter have been updated with a focus on accessible non technical material Key Features of the Fourth Edition Includes a new chapter Emergence and Panpsychism Chapter 13 reflecting growing interest in these areas Reintroduces and updates a chapter on Donald Davidson Radical Interpretation Chapter 8 which was excised from the previous edition Updates Descartes Legacy Chapter 3 to include a discussion of E J Lowe s arresting Non Cartesian Dualism also removed from the previous edition Includes a highly revised final chapter which draws together much of the previous material and sketches a plausible account of the mind s place in nature Updated Suggested Reading lists at the end of each chapter American Book Publishing Record ,1995 Varieties of Meaning Ruth Garrett Millikan,2004 How the various things that are said to have meaning purpose natural signs linguistic signs perceptions and thoughts are related to one another Book Review Digest ,1998
