Knud J. V. Jespersen

Rural Denmark 1750-1980:

Rural Denmark, 1750-1980 Jens Christensen, 1983 A History of Denmark Knud J. V. Jespersen, 2018-09-08 In this introductory guide Knud Jespersen traces the process of disintegration and reduction that helped to form the modern Danish state and the historical roots of Denmark's international position Beginning with the Reformation in the sixteenth century Jespersen explains how the Denmark of today was shaped by wars territorial losses domestic upheavals new methods of production and changes in thought Focusing on the interplay between history politics and economics this illuminating text offers an insider's view of Danish identity formation over the last centuries This engaging textbook is an ideal resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students taking courses on Danish Scandinavian or Nordic History Concise and accessible it will also appeal to anyone interested in gaining a clear understanding of the development of Denmark The Nordic Welfare State in Three Eras Johannes Kananen, 2016-02-17 Nordic welfare states are known for a unique combination of equity and efficiency and for political institutions facilitating compromise and consensus between conflicting interests The Nordic Welfare State in Three Eras From Emancipation to Discipline analyses the historical and contemporary evolution of Nordic welfare states in Denmark Sweden and Finland during three periods the developmental period until the end of WWII the period of emancipatory welfare institutions until the 1980s and the period of restructuring from the 1980s until present times The three eras discussed are shared in one way or another by all welfare states However Nordic welfare institutions are unique in the sense that they were particularly compatible with the ideas of Keynesian macro economic management that constituted the blueprint of international economic ideas during the post war period This ground breaking book will show how preceding emancipating elements of Nordic welfare states were largely lost in the process of renegotiating the post war social order and replaced by new elements of discipline and control Denmark in the European Community Marshall H. Cohen, United States. Department of Agriculture. Economic Research Service. International Economics Division, 1986

Contemporary Western European Feminism (RLE Feminist Theory) Gisela Kaplan, 2012-11-12 Contemporary Western European Feminism is a ground breaking history of feminism Gisela Kaplan invites a critical analysis of current ideas terms and assumptions about our modern world Written confidently and with compassion this is the story of a long revolution that has set out to change predominant attitudes and transform value hierarchies and human lifestyles By outlining the postwar histories of individual countries Kaplan contextualises women's movements and documents a significant chapter of European social history She poses questions about the interrelationship between the new movements and the parliamentary democracies in which they occurred while analysing the contradictions of living in modern capitalist countries Contemporary Western European Feminism also tackles important contradictions such as those between the welfare state and the free market economy industrialisation and religious value systems social engineering and the production of wealth and dissent and patrimonial systems of democracy For those wanting to know more about Europe without the intimidating barriers of language and for those already experts in its social history Contemporary Western European Feminism is essential reading

The Agrarian History of England and Wales Edward John T. Collins, Joan Thirsk, 2000 The unifying theme of this volume is the changing role of the countryside in national life and the impact upon it of the social and economic forces unleashed by industrialisation and the growth of towns

In the Face of Adversity Thomas Nolden, 2023-02-20 In the Face of Adversity explores the dynamics of translating texts that articulate particular notions of adverse circumstances The chapters illustrate how literary records of often painful experiences and dissenting voices are at risk of being stripped of their authenticity when not carefully handled by the translator how cultural moments in which the translation of a text that would have otherwise fallen into oblivion instead gave rise to a translator who enabled its preservation while ultimately coming into their own as an author as a result and how the difficulties the translator faces in intercultural or transnational constellations in which prejudice plays a role endangers projects meant to facilitate mutual understanding The authors address translation as a project of making available and preserving a corpus of texts that would otherwise be in danger of becoming censored misperceived or ignored They look at translation and adaptation as a project of curating textual models of personal communal or collective perseverance and they offer insights into the dynamics of cultural inclusion and exclusion through a series of theoretical frameworks as well as through a set of concrete case studies drawn from different cultural and historical contexts The collection also explores some of the venues that artists have pursued by transferring artistic expressions from one medium into another in order to preserve and disseminate important experiences in different cultural settings media and arts

The Europeanization of National Administrations Sevasti Chatzopoulou, 2020-09-04 Drawing on comparative politics and social network analysis this book examines how the domestic institutional and organizational settings as well as the network governance patterns determine variation in administrative responses to EU s Common Agricultural Policy CAP in two European Union EU member states Denmark and Greece These two small member states represent the North and South dimensions of the EU The north south dimension in relation to administrative structures respond differently to EU common policies and to Common Agricultural Policy specifically which has not been studied in the Europeanization literature Even though the study of administrative responses to EU common policies is important as it has been especially noticeable during the current financial crisis Europeanisation studies concentrate on either large Western European states France Germany and UK or small Western Northern states These studies produced detailed knowledge on specific countries and policy areas but they ignored the agricultural policy area and the importance of small Southern member states By comparing a small Southern with a small Northern state since the accession to the EU this book aims to fill this gap in the literature Moreover by linking the findings of the two cases to the member states that joined the EU in the 2004 fifth enlargement and in other policy areas it allows a better understanding of similar responses either adaptation or inertia This book represents an important contribution to the theoretical and empirical literature on Europeanisation and the Common Agricultural Policy CAP It systematically tackles an under studied question does Europeanisation of policies lead to administrative change and convergence among the member states The domestic administration of the EU CAP has remained domestically designed and monitored resulting in divergence among the member states and gaps and imbalances in the performance of EU CAP decisions The CAP is of more general interest because it combines regulatory and market intervention policy instruments The analysis proceeds through in depth comparative historical case studies of Denmark and Greece which uses a sophisticated combination of quantitative and qualitative methodologies The authoritative and informative analysis is structured by a focus on three key domestic factors There is differentiated administration of common policies and while administration succeeds and adapts in one state it does not necessarily do so in others leading to differences in implementation performance This book should provide a stimulus for further research Wyn Grant University of Warwick The last 40 years have been crucial for the European agriculture The Common Agricultural Policy fulfilled its primary objective which led Europeans to shift its objectives and cope with the shortcomings created by the success of the Policy itself manage surpluses and narrow the gap between farmers due to price mechanism as well as adapt the policy following the successive enlargements and follow the developments in the global economy in which we live nowadays Dr Chatzopoulou gives us a very accurate image on how differently actors of the agricultural economy farmers cooperatives and the administrations both in Greece and Denmark behave But also how different is the structure of the sector in these two countries in Denmark almost everything is based upon a consensus where there does not exist a law on cooperatives and where the administration and the sector work together to adapt or to influence the decisions to take at European level On the other hand in Greece farmers struggle to make their voice heard in the absence of professional organizations the cooperatives are bound to work in the framework of a specific and strict law and the administration was not shown very cooperative with the sector These two realities are very well illustrated by the author and many lessons are to be learnt through this study But above all the author gives us a fair idea of how complex is the process of Europeanisation in a Europe Union composed of sovereign member States with different history culture social organization and different legal systems Vaggelis Divaris Former European Commission principal administrator DG Agriculture and Rural Development

Ethical Traceability and Communicating Food Christian Coff, David Barling, Michiel Korthals, Thorkild Nielsen, 2008-06-12 The theme of this book evolved from the idea of linking three concepts around food traceability ethics and informed choice We believe that the current development and implementation of traceability in the agri food sector offers an interesting way not only of handling food safety but also of addressing and communicating ethical issues arising from current food production practices Practices in the agri food sector worry food consumers as we all are since we need to eat and drink to stay alive But how can consumers act upon their concerns Paradoxically although consumers are bombarded with information on food from the media the food industry food authorities NGOs and interest groups details about how foods are actually produced is often hard to find Much of the information available is superficial conflicting or partial and it is hard for consumers seeking to make informed food choices to know which information to trust The consumers we interviewed for this project felt that information about food products was withheld and manipulated Traceability which provides a record of the history and journey of a given food and which is increasingly used in the food sector for legal and commercial reasons has the potential to communicate a more authentic picture of how food is produced

The Creation and Destruction of Social Capital Gunnar Lind Haase Svendsen, Gert Tinggaard Svendsen, 2004-01-01 The book offers a coherent historical and interdisciplinary perspective on social capital that is illustrated through the emergence and decline of cooperative movements in Denmark and Poland The strength of the book lies in its ability to provide an interdisciplinary account of social capital which unlike many neoclassical studies of social capital does not attempt to quantify the concept to make it fit traditional econometric regressions Quentin M H Duroy Heterodox Economics Newsletter
