Shapiro Alan Selected Poems:

It's Not You, It's Me Jerry Williams, 2011-12-27 This may be an anthology for anyone who's been broken hearted but it's not an anthology for anyone who's faint hearted Superb Entertainment Weekly It's Not You It's Me is a poetry anthology at once amusing, angry, sweet and bitter that gives a fresh voice to the all too familiar experience of ending a relationship Williams has compiled over ninety poems by contemporary writers including Denis Johnson and Kim Addonizio as well as former poets laureate Robert Hass, Maxine Kumin and Mark Strand whose comforting and healing words dragged him out of his breakup induced depression We have all been through a breakup but these poems have created an art out of heartbreak sharing their wisdom on the pain of the flip side of romance and poking fun at the mess we become at the mercy of love This collection gathers many of the poems that have helped Williams a poet himself with two books to his name through his rooms of anguish over the years Happily they're pretty great The New York Times In It's Not You It's Me The Poetry of Breakup today's big contemporary poets make breaking up and even divorce sound painfully beautiful You'll want to read with a box of tissues, a pint of chocolate ice cream and sappy love songs playing in the background Lemon Drop Literary A

Post-Colonial Worlds Lorna Hardwick, Carol Gillespie, 2010-07-29 Classical material was traditionally used to express colonial authority but it was also appropriated by imperial subjects to become first a means of challenging colonialism and then a rich field for creating cultural identities that blend the old and the new Nobel prize winners such as Derek Walcott and Seamus Heaney have rewritten classical material in their own cultural idioms while public sculpture in southern Africa draws on Greek and Roman motifs to represent histories of African resistance and liberation These developments are explored in this collection of essays by international scholars who debate the relationship between the culture of Greece and Rome and the changes that have followed the end of colonial empires How Poems Think Reginald Gibbons, 2015-09-23 To write or read a poem is often to think in distinctively poetic ways guided by metaphors sound rhythms associative movement and more Poetry's stance toward language creates a particular intelligence of thought and feeling a compressed articulation that expands inner experience imagining with words what cannot always be imagined without them Through translation poetry has diversified poetic traditions and some of poetry's ways of thinking begin in the ancient world and remain potent even now In How Poems Think Reginald Gibbons presents a rich gallery of poetic inventiveness and continuity drawn from a wide range of poets Sappho Pindar Shakespeare Keats William Carlos Williams Marina Tsvetaeva Gwendolyn Brooks and many others Gibbons explores poetic temperament rhyme metonymy etymology and other elements of poetry as modes of thinking and feeling In celebration and homage Gibbons attunes us to the possibilities of poetic thinking The Music of Time John Burnside, 2021-04-06 First published in a slight different form in Great Britain in 2019 by Profile Books Ltd Title page verso

Male Poets and the Agon of the Mother Hannah Baker Saltmarsh, 2019-04-23 A thoughtful exploration of male poets contributions to the literature of motherhood In the late 1950s the notion of a mother poem emerged during a confessional literary movement that freed poets to use personal psychosexual material about intimate topics such as parents childhood failed marriages children infidelity and mental illness In Male Poets and the Agon of the Mother Hannah Baker Saltmarsh argues that male poets have contributed to what we think of as the literature of motherhood that confessional and postconfessional modes have been formative in the way male poets have grappled with the stories of their mothers and how those stories reflect on the writers and their artistic identities Through careful readings of formative elegies and homages written by male poets of this time Saltmarsh explores how they engaged with femininity and feminine voices in the 1950s and 60s and sheds light on the inheritance of confessional motifs of gender and language as demonstrated by postconfessional writers responding to the rich subject matter of motherhood within the contexts of history myth and literature A foreword is provided by Jo Gill professor of twentieth century and American literature in the Department of English and associate dean for education at the University of Exeter Radical as Reality Peter Champion, 2019-10-17 What do American poets mean when they talk about freedom How can form help us understand questions about what shapes we want to give our poetic lives and how much power we have to choose those shapes For that matter what do we even mean by we In this collection of essays Peter Champion gathers his thoughts on these questions and more to form an evolutionary history of the past century of American poetry Through close readings of the great modernists midcentury objectivists late twentieth century poets his contemporaries and more Champion unearths an American poetic landscape that is subtler and more varied than most critics have allowed He discovers commonalities among poets considered opposites dramatizes how form and history are mutually entailing and explores how the conventions of poetry its inheritance and its inventions sprang from the tensions of ordinary life At its core this is a book about poetic making one that reveals how the best poets not only receive but understand and adapt what comes before them reinterpreting the history of their art to create work that is indeed radical as reality The

Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1 700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry

Memory, Metaphors, and Meaning Nicolae Babuts, 2017-07-05 Literature explores the human condition the mystery of the world life and death as well as our relations with others and our desires and dreams It differs from science in its aims and methods but Babuts shows in other respects that literature has much common ground with science Both aim for an authentic version of truth To this end literature employs metaphors and it does so in a manner similar to that of scientific inquiry The cognitive view does not imply that there is a one to one correlation between the world and text that meaning belongs to the author or that literature is equivalent to perception What it does maintain is that meaning is crucially dependent on mnemonic initiatives and that without memory the world remains meaningless Nicolae Babuts claims that at the interface with the printed page readers process texts in a manner similar to the way they explain the visible world in segments or units of meaning or dynamic patterns Babuts argues that humans achieve recognition by integrating stimulus sequences with corresponding patterns that recognize and interpret each segment of a text Memory produces meaning from these patterns In harmony with its goals memory may adopt specific strategies to deal with different stimuli Dynamic patterns link the unit of processing with the unit of meaning In sum Babuts proposes that meaning is achieved through metaphors and narrative and that both are ways to reach cognitive goals This original study offers perspectives that will interest cognitive psychologists as well as those simply interested in the process through which literature stirs the human imagination

For Us, What Music? Jerry Harp, 2010-12-28 When Donald Justice wrote in On a Picture by Burchfield that art keeps long hours he might have been describing his own life Although he early on struggled to find a balance between his life and art the latter became a way of experiencing his life more deeply He found meaning in human experience by applying traditional religious language to his artistic vocation Central to his work was the translation of the language of devotion to a learned American vernacular Art not only provided him with a wealth of intrinsically worthwhile experiences but also granted rich and nuanced ways of experiencing understanding and being in the world For Donald Justice recipient of some of poetry s highest laurels including the Pulitzer Prize the Bollingen Prize and the Lannan Literary Award for Poetry art was a way of life Because Jerry Harp was Justice s student his personal knowledge of his subject combined with his deep understanding of Justice s oeuvre works to remarkable advantage in For Us What Music Harp reads with keen intelligence placing each poem within the precise historical moment it was written and locating it in the context of the literary tradition within which Justice worked Throughout the text runs the narrative of Justice s life tying together the poems and informing Harp s interpretation of them For Us What Music grants readers a remarkable understanding of one of America s greatest poets

The Odeon Daniel Tobin, 2025-08-11 The Odeon a new volume of essays by the celebrated poet and critic Daniel Tobin takes its title from the classical Greek and Roman buildings designed for the presentation of musical and poetic compositions Organized around the question of sensibility with its various social philosophical and aesthetic connotations the collection presents a sequence of related essays exploring both resonances and dissonances in the traditions of modern and contemporary poetry Although Tobin surveys a broad spectrum of works ranging from John Donne and Emily Dickinson to writers from the twenty first century such as Mark Doty Louise Gl ck and Carl Phillips his emphasis remains on details of poetic practice technique metaphysical outlook and artistic aspiration What most informs these essays is Tobin s own practice as a poet his own sensibility which is at once eclectic and yet very much calibrated to matters of what one theologian termed ultimate concern The Odeon offers an incisive foray into the state of the art of poetry in our time

The Mind Has Cliffs of Fall Robert Pinsky, 2019-10-22 Robert Pinsky our finest living example of the American civic poet New York Times gathers poems that cope with the most extreme human emotions Despair mania rage guilt derangement fantasy poetry is our most intimate source for the urgent varied experience of human emotion Poems get under our skin they offer solace with the balm and the sting of understanding In The Book of Poetry for Hard Times former Poet Laureate Robert Pinsky curates poems that explore the expanses of human emotion across centuries from Shakespeare to Terrance Hayes Dante to Patricia Lockwood Each poem reveals something new about our most profound and universal experiences taken together they offer a sweeping ode to the power of poetry For anyone who knows these human feelings and almost everyone does this book will become an essential companion Eavan Boland

Raymond Carver Carol Sklenicka, 2009-11-24 The first biography of america s best known short story writer of the late twentieth century The London Times called Raymond Carver the American Chekhov The beloved mischievous but more modest short story writer and poet thought of himself as a lucky man whose renunciation of alcohol allowed him to live ten years longer than I or anyone expected In that last decade Carver became the leading figure in a resurgence of the short story Readers embraced his precise sad often funny and poignant tales of ordinary people and their troubles poverty drunkenness embittered marriages difficulties brought on by neglect rather than intent Since Carver died in 1988 at age fifty his legacy has been mythologized by admirers and tainted by controversy over a zealous editor's shaping of his first two story collections Carol Sklenicka penetrates the myths and controversies Her decade long search of archives across the United States and her extensive interviews with Carver's relatives friends and colleagues have enabled her to write the definitive story of the iconic literary figure Laced with the voices of people who knew Carver intimately her biography offers a fresh appreciation of his work and an unbiased vivid portrait of the writer The Art of Description

Mark Doty, 2014-12-02 It sounds like a simple thing to say what you see Mark Doty begins But try to find words for the shades of a mottled sassafras leaf or the reflectivity of a bay on an August morning or the very beginnings of desire stirring in the gaze of someone looking right into your eyes Doty finds refuge in the sensory experience found in poems by Blake Whitman Bishop and others The Art of Description is an invaluable book by one of America's most revered writers and teachers A Way of Happening Fred Chappell, 2013-12-17 One of our most acclaimed and versatile authors Fred Chappell is comfortably at home in fiction poetry and literary criticism A Way of Happening gathers his essays and reviews of contemporary poetry Chappell considers new writers as well as more established authors including Alfred Corn William Matthews A R Ammons Linda Pastan Julia Randall Cornelius Eady Alan Shapiro and many others And there are essays on the plight of the critic Thanks but No Thanks and the delicate role of the writing teacher First Night Come Round Again
