Intratextuality and Latin Literature Stephen J. Harrison,Stavros Frangoulidis,Theodore D. Papangelis,2018-10-08 Recent years have witnessed an increased interest in classical studies in the ways meaning is generated through the medium of intertextuality namely how different texts of the same or different authors communicate and interact with each other Attention although on a lesser scale has also been paid to the manner in which meaning is produced through interaction between various parts of the same text or body of texts within the overall production of a single author namely intratextuality Taking off from the seminal volume on Intratextuality Greek and Roman Textual Relations edited by A Sharrock H Morales Oxford 2000 which largely sets the theoretical framework for such internal associations within classical texts this collective volume brings together twenty seven contributions written by an international team of experts exploring the evolution of intratextuality from Late Republic to Late Antiquity across a wide range of authors genres and historical periods Of particular interest are also the combined instances of intra and intertextual poetics as well as the way in which intratextuality in Latin literature draws on reading practices and critical methods already theorized and operative in Greek antiquity

The Classical Weekly, 1924 Author and Audience in Latin Literature Anthony John Woodman, Jonathan Powell, 1992-06-26 Essays by distinguished scholars on the relationship between Latin authors and their audiences A Commentary on Lucretius De Rerum Natura Don Fowler, 2002 Lucretius theory of atomic motion is one of the most difficult and technical parts of De rerum natura and for that reason has hitherto been neglected by commentators This is the first commentary to take account of the remarkable discoveries and re evaluations in the field of Hellenistic philosophy over the past thirty years which have been stimulated by the publication of many more Epicurean fragments from Herculaneum
