Economic and Financial Review ,2003      Economic Models for Policy Making Solomon

Cohen,2013-05-02 Over the past decades many different kinds of models have been developed that have been of use to policy makers but until now the different approaches have not been brought together with a view to enhancing the systematic unification and evaluation of these models This new volume aims to fill this gap by bringing together four decades worth of work by S I Cohen on economic modelling for policy making Work on older models has been rewritten and brought fully up to date and these older models have therefore been brought back to the fore both to assess how they influenced more recent models and to see how they could be used today The focus of the book is on models for development policies in developing economies but there are some chapters that relate to economic policies in transition and developed economies The policy areas covered are of typical interest in developing and transition economies They include those relating to trade liberalization reforms sustainable development industrial development agrarian reform growth and distribution human resource development and education public goods and income transfers Each chapter contains a brief assessment of the empirical literature on the economic effects of the policy measures discussed in the chapter The book presents a platform of economic modelling that can serve as a refresher for practising professionals as well as a reference companion for graduates engaging in economic modelling and policy preparations Institutions, Goals, Policies And Analytics In Economic Development Solomon I Cohen,2024-07-09 The field of Development Economics DE has overstretched over time with risks of becoming shallow There is a need for the compartmentalization of DE that focuses on simplification oversight productivity and relevance This volume is a handbook in development economics with a compartmentalized perspective It makes use of case study applications both recent and over the last few decades Next to 2 introductory chapters that elaborate on the development regions the book falls in five parts The first part consisting of two chapters displays structural system changes in the development regions examines institutions that discourage promote development and applies institutional modelling to related case studies of land reform in India and Chile The second part consisting of two chapters takes the courageous step of discussing measuring and posting the twin development goals of growth with redistribution as the primary development goals and analysing their trade offs for major countries in the six development regions Secondary development goals are important but they correlate with the primary goals and are considered as conditional The third part consisting of eight chapters contains applications on multi sector development policies The applications use the Social Accounting Matrix and related economy wide modelling They highlight alternative policies to achieve the development goals of growth and redistribution in Pakistan Indonesia Korea UAE Nepal Sudan Suriname and other countries The fourth part consisting of six chapters examines human resource development and policies in the areas of labor market information systems labor market adjustments manpower forecasts earnings profiles educational plans and intergenerational mobility with case studies related to Pakistan Indonesia Colombia Korea Ethiopia The fifth and final part consisting of two chapters focuses on world development and global governance in particular the persistent income disparities at the global level in spite of the strengthened positions of the development regions in the world economy the consequences of shifting dominance for world governance the evaluation of the G 20 and a proposed more representative world governance Throughout all chapters special attention is devoted to introducing and applying analytical methods that have proven to be fundamental in development economics
