century Russell Hoban's celebrated literary career won him critical accolades and legions of admirers across multiple genres. Many know him from the groundbreaking masterpiece Riddley Walker with its twelve year old protagonist contemplating what the idea of us might be from amidst the ruins of civilization. Others know Hoban from the genre defying The Mouse and His Child or from idiosyncratic novels of floundering Londoners. Still others fondly recall Frances the Badger's refusal to go to bed or share Emmet Otter with their children at Christmas. This book the first consideration of Russell Hoban's literary career as a whole explores what binds these seemingly disparate works together. Discovering unexpected patterns between books written from what one character describes as a perpetual state of surprise this critical study also draws on Hoban's biography from his formation as an artist under the influence of jazz in New York to the upheaval of his self reinvention as a writer as it offers its own reflection on what the idea of Russell Hoban might be.
