Masculinity And Femininity The Taboo Dimension Of National Cultures

Carsten Levisen

Masculinity And Femininity The Taboo Dimension Of National Cultures:

Masculinity and Femininity Geert Hofstede, 1998-05-13 In 1980 Geert Hofstede published his monumental work Culture's Consequences which laid out four dimensions on which the differences among national cultures could be understood: individualism, power distance, uncertainty avoidance, and masculinity. Since then much research has been conducted and presented on individualism and collectivism, but until now no single volume has focused on the masculinity dimension of the model. In Masculinity and Femininity Hofstede has expanded, sharpened, and deepened the discussion of masculinity and femininity. This new volume presents the first thoroughly developed discussion of this dimension and how it can help us understand the differences among cultures. It begins with a general explanation of masculinity and discusses how it illuminates broad features of different cultures. It then applies the dimension more specifically to gender, sexuality, and religion. Finally, the book examines how the masculinity dimension reveals a lot about a culture's expressions of religious ideas, the importance its citizens attach to religion, and the way religious concepts are understood. Intended as a companion volume to Kim's Individualism and Collectivism, this important volume will be of interest to those teaching courses such as cross-cultural psychology, international social welfare, international business, women's studies, cultural studies, and the psychology of women.

The Eight Universal Dimensions of Culture from a Synthesis of Cultural Taxonomies

Sophie Kunert, 2022-08-29 The crucial element of this book constitutes the synthesis of cultural dimensions from existing cultural taxonomies, extended by the operationalization of the eight identified Universal Dimensions of Culture (UDCs) into a questionnaire. First, an extensive Systematic Literature Review (SLR) is pursued to identify the current state of research, demonstrating the research gap on a unified approach for classifying national cultures into cultural dimensions. Eight assumptions displaying the eight UDCs are derived from the results of the SLR. Subsequently, an evaluation and selection framework for identifying the research base of comparable existing cultural taxonomies is developed. A research base of 11 cultural taxonomies and 50 cultural dimensions is retrieved. These serve as the basis for developing the eight UDCs following a synthesis process and protocol. The eight UDCs are operationalized into a questionnaire which is extensively pre-tested by experts and in the field. An example country study for Germany, Canada, and Brazil is conducted, and the corresponding country profiles for the eight UDCs are displayed.

Countries, Corporations and Cultures Paul

Melessen, 2017-06-06 With expanding globalisation, international enterprises exercise a growing influence on organizational culture in countries where they operate. Several dimensional frameworks exist to compare country cultures in a quantitative manner. The same is true for organizational cultures. Yet until now the paradigm has been that the two types of culture need to be measured by different frameworks. For years this paradigm has been an obstacle for comparing work cultures internationally. In this book, author Paul Melessen presents a dimensional framework that bridges the gap between the two types of culture. It builds on existing frameworks, in particular the VSM and OCM frameworks presented by Geert Hofstede, to compare fifteen multinational corporations and subsequently draw several interesting conclusions Appropriately titled Countries Corporations and Cultures the book develops the Multilevel Culture MLC framework with a procedure called MCMC multilevel modelling Hence the subtitle A multilevel approach Comparing Cultures ,2004-04-01 Culture explains much of the behavioral and institutional differences around the globe In social science there are many ways of framing cultural diversities This book brings together authors with a classic status in the field of comparative cultural studies on one overarching theme what are the relevant differences and similarities of contemporary cultural dimensions with which countries organizations and people can be compared This book is the first publication available in which the cultural divisions of the world are compared and confronted In the first part of the book classic authors reflect on each others key work and assess the main overlap and distinction The book next provides insight in frontline academic work from a wide range of countries and social science disciplines dealing with the classic status cultural dimensions aimed at addressing contemporary key issues

Culture, Gender and Entrepreneurial Innovation (UM Press) Aida Idris,2014-02-03 The book examines three issues in entrepreneurship that are often overlooked yet powerful when taken together The first is the way people learn gender roles and how this in turn affects their entrepreneurial behavior The second are differences between two major population groups in Malaysia the Malays and the Chinese specifically in terms of their respective levels of societal masculinity The third is entrepreneurial innovation By combining these topics and examining how they apply to a sample of Malaysian women entrepreneurs the author produces genuinely new insightful and occasionally counter intuitive findings such as Malay women entrepreneurs lower level of uncertainty avoidance compared to Chinese women entrepreneurs Another intriguing discovery is her radical overhaul of the construct of ego orientation which gives a new angle on the old idea of entrepreneurs as people who are different from the rest of us In all the study poses some challenges to long standing but infrequently tested ideas about the nature of entrepreneurs and their behavior
