Other Histories:

Other Histories Kirsten Hastrup, 1992 The historization of anthropology has entailed a radically new view upon history and the nature of history This collection of papers from the first conference of the newly formed European Association of Social Anthropologists demonstrate how ways of thinking about history are important features of any production of history and how cultural concepts enter as forces of historical causation Raw Histories Elizabeth Edwards, 2021-01-07

Photographs have had an integral and complex role in many anthropological contexts from fieldwork to museum exhibitions This book explores how approaching anthropological photographs as history can offer both theoretical and empirical insights into these roles Photographs are thought to make problematic history because of their ambiguity and rawness In short they have too many meanings The author refutes this prejudice by exploring through a series of case studies precisely the potential of this raw quality to open up new perspectives Taking the nature of photography as her starting point the author argues that photographs are not merely pictures of things but are part of a dynamic and fluid historical dialogue which is active not only in the creation of the photograph but in its subsequent social biography in archive and museum spaces past and present In this context the book challenges any uniform view of anthropological photography and its resulting archives Drawing on a variety of examples largely from the Pacific the book demonstrates how close readings of photographs reveal not only western agendas but also many layers of differing historical and cross cultural experiences That is photographs can spring leaks to show an alternative viewpoint These themes are developed further by examining the dynamics of photographs and issues around them as used by contemporary artists and curators and presented to an increasingly varied public This book convincingly demonstrates photographs potential to articulate histories other than those of their immediate appearances a potential that can no longer be neglected by scholars and institutions Other Things Bill

Brown, 2016-01-08 From the pencil to the puppet to the drone the humanities and the social sciences continue to ride a wave of interest in material culture and the world of things How should we understand the force and figure of that wave as it shapes different disciplines Other Things explores this question by considering a wide assortment of objects from beach glass to cell phones sneakers to skyscrapers that have fascinated a range of writers and artists including Virginia Woolf Man Ray Spike Lee and Don DeLillo The book ranges across the literary visual and plastic arts to depict the curious lives of things Beginning with Achilles's Shield then tracking the object thing distinction as it appears in the work of Martin Heidegger and Jacques Lacan Bill Brown ultimately focuses on the thingness disclosed by specific literary and artistic works Combining history and literature criticism and theory Other Things provides a new way of understanding the inanimate object world and the place of the human within it encouraging us to think anew about what we mean by materiality itself History of the Time Travel in Popular Media Matthew Jones,Joan Ormrod,2015-03-27 In recent years numerous films television series comic books graphic novels and video games have featured time travel narratives with characters jumping backward forward and laterally through time No rules govern time travel in these stories Some characters move by machine some by magic others by unexplained means Sometime travelers can alter the timeline while others are prevented from causing temporal aberrations The fluid forms of imagined time travel have fascinated audiences and prompted debate since at least the 19th century What is behind our fascination with time travel What does it mean to be out of one's own era How do different media tell these stories and what does this reveal about the media's relationship to time This collection of new essays the first to address time travel across a range of media answers these questions by locating time travel narratives within their cultural historical and philosophical contexts Texts discussed include Doctor Who The Terminator The Georgian House Save the Date Back to the Future Inception Source Code and others

Doing History Mark Donnelly,Dr. Claire Norton,Claire Norton,2011 History as an academic discipline has dramatically changed over the last few decades and has become much more exciting and varied as a result of ideas from other disciplines the influence of postmodernism and historians incorporation of their own theoretical reflections into their work The way history is studied at university level can vary greatly from history at school or as represented in the media and Doing History bridges that gap Aimed at students of history in their final year of secondary education or beginning degrees this is the ideal introduction to studying history as an academic subject at university Doing History presents the ideas and debates that shape how we do history today covering arguments about nature of historical knowledge and the function of historical writing whether we can really ever know what happened in the past what sources historians depend on and whether the historians version of history has more value than popular histories This practical and accessible introduction to the discipline introduces students to these key discussions familiarises them with the important terms and issues equips them with the necessary vocabulary and encourages them to think about and engage with these questions Clearly structured and accessibly written it is an essential volume for all students embarking on the study of history

Paths and Rivers Rosana Waterson,2009-01-01 Fieldwork extending over a thirty year period provided materials for this book Paths and Rivers offers an unusually deep and broad picture of the Sa dan Toraja as a society in dynamic transition over the course of the past century The Toraja inhabit the mountainous highlands of South Sulawesi Indonesia and are well known for their dramatic architecture their unusual cliff burials and their flamboyant ceremonial life which places extraordinary economic demands on individuals and families The analysis is informed firstly by a comparative perspective which sets Toraja social structure in the context of the Austronesian world Secondly the author delves deeply into Toraja social memory to show how people think about the past She examines the usefulness of history and myth in the present as a source of identity a template for action or a resource by means of which to claim precedence The book gives a clear picture of the structure and ethos of the indigenous Toraja religion the Aluk To Dolo or Way of the Ancestors with its complex cycle of rituals The book concludes with an analysis of the ceremonial economy which draws upon both domestic subsistence production and the global market economy Paths and Rivers draws together a fascinating picture of one society's journey into modernity Paul on the Resurrection of Christ Charles Marsh Mead, 1910 Memoirs on the History, Folk-lore, and Distribution of the Races of the North Western Provinces of India Sir Henry Miers Elliot, 1869
