Policies and Budgets Yohane Tembo, 2015-01-01 There are various reasons why the road asset in Zambia has been deteriorating over the past five decades since independence Much effort to restore the road asset to its original value and keep it maintained in a good and safe condition was initiated in mid 1990s with the launch of the Road Sector Investment Plan Phase I which was immediately followed by the launch of a Phase II to run from 2003 to 2013 It is my appreciation that many diagnostic studies into road financing strategies which could have led to inefficient road asset management in Zambia have been undertaken and various solutions tendered The author takes cognizance that resource mobilization for road construction and maintenance and subsequent allocation to respective road programs can often be problematic for an emerging country like Zambia It has the potential to lead to inefficiencies in road asset management as has evidently been demonstrated in the declining road asset value over time The political as well as the economic landscape plays a vital role in resource mobilization and allocation strategies as much as the institutional and the legal framework do The failure to clear the backlog of maintenance which normally results largely from deferment of scheduled maintenance due to insufficient annual budgetary allocation to the road sector maintenance programs has led to the significant deterioration in road network condition Exorbitant road construction costs have posed additional challenges to the fiscus thereby constraining both the quantity and quality of road infrastructure that could be constructed and maintained at any given time Recent policy drives have been categorical in their preference of new road construction aimed at linking Zambia over road maintenance which plays a pivotal role in road asset management This creates a perception that policy pronouncements are at variance to policy documents which promote sustainable economic development through efficient road investments and could be seen as being paradoxical in that the actual financing strategies are skewed towards road construction a recipe of comfort for the next election challenge due to increased visibility on the ground rather than to maintenance as an astute and effective way of managing the road asset The difficult of establishing congruence between government pronouncements and actual road business strategies in the implementing agencies has over the

Douglas D Evanoff,George G Kaufman,Stijn Claessens,Laura E Kodres,2011-11-02 This book is a collection of papers presented in the conference held at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago in September 2010 that examines the role of macroprudential regulation in the financial industry Shocked by the experience of the last few years many argue that the more traditional microprudential regulatory tools are inadequate to create a safe and stable financial system The microprudential paradigm relies on the presumption that the financial system as a whole can be made safe by ensuring individual financial institutions are made safe This ignores interconnections and externalities whereby the actions of one financial institution or events in financial markets can lead to spillover effects that adversely affect general market conditions other financial institutions and ultimately the economy as a whole Instead it is argued there is a need for both microprudential approaches to regulate individual institutions and macroprudential approaches to manage the overall financial system risks Conference participants discussed macroprudential regulation and related issues including What are the theoretical motivations for macroprudential regulation How would it interact with other regulatory and macroeconomic policies especially monetary policy What would be the specific macroprudential tools Who should have control over the macroprudential tools How should a macroprudential regulator be structured Where should it be housed How can macroprudential policies be structured across national borders What role if any can market discipline play in supporting macroprudential objectives Concentrating on public policy issues the conference featured keynote addresses by influential past and present public policy figures including Paul Volcker Chairman of the US President's Economic Recovery Advisory Board and former Chairman of the Federal Reserve System Tommaso Padoa Schioppa Chairman Promontory Financial Group Europe and Former Chairman of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision Jaime Caruana General Manager of the Bank for International Settlements and Former Chairman of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision and Charles Taylor Director of the Pew Charitable Trust Financial Reform Project and Former Executive Director of the Group of Thirty
