Shocking Cinema of the 70s Julian Petley, Xavier Mendik, 2021-11-18 This collection focuses on 1970s films from a variety of countries and from the marginal to the mainstream which by tackling various difficult subjects have proved to be controversial in one way or another It is not an uncritical celebration of the shocking and the subversive but an attempt to understand why this decade produced films which many found shocking and what it was that made them shocking to certain audiences To this end it includes not only films that shocked the conventionally minded such as hard core pornography but also those that outraged liberal opinion for example Death Wish and Dirty Harry The book does not simply cast a critical light on a series of controversial films which have been variously maligned misinterpreted or just plain ignored but also assesses how their production values narrative features and critical receptions can be linked to the wider historical and social forces that were dominant during this decade Furthermore it explores how these films resonate in our own historical moment replete as it is with shocks of all kinds

Cinema, Pain and Pleasure Steven Allen, 2013-03-28 From Tattoo to Saw this book considers mainstream cinema's representation of the viscerally dominated and marked body Examining a shift in the late twentieth century to narratives that highlight subjection endurance and willed acquiescence it probes the confluence of pain pleasure and consent to analyse the implications of the change

The Cinema of Stephanie Rothman Alicia Kozma, 2022-09-20 The rare woman director working in second wave exploitation Stephanie Rothman b 1936 directed seven successful feature films served as the vice president of an independent film company and was the first woman to win the Directors Guild of America's student filmmaking prize. Despite these career accomplishments, Rothman retired into relative obscurity. In The Cinema of Stephanie Rothman: Radical Acts in Filmmaking, author Alicia Kozma uses Rothman's career as an in-depth case study, intertwining historical, archival, industrial, and filmic analysis to grapple with the past, present, and future of women's filmmaking labor in Hollywood. Understanding second-wave exploitation filmmaking as a transitory space for the industrial development of contemporary Hollywood that also opened up opportunities for women practitioners, Kozma argues that understudied film production cycles provide untapped spaces for discovering women's directorial work. The professional career and filmography of Rothman exemplify this claim. Rothman also serves as an apt example for connecting the structure of film histories to the persistent strictures of rhetorical language used to mark women filmmakers and their labor. Kozma traces these imbrications across historical archives. Adopting a diverse methodological approach, The Cinema of Stephanie Rothman shines a needed spotlight on the problems and successes of the memorialization of women's directorial labor, connecting historical and contemporary patterns of gendered labor disparity in the film industry. This book is simultaneously the first in-depth scholarly consideration of Rothman, the debut of the most substantive archival materials collected on Rothman, and a feminist political intervention into the construction of film histories.

House of Psychotic Women Kier-La Janisse, 2015-01-09 Cinema is full of neurotic personalities, but few things are more transfixing than a woman losing her mind onscreen. Horror as a genre provides the most welcoming platform for these histrionics: crippling paranoia, desperate loneliness, masochistic death wishes, dangerous obsessiveness, apocalyptic hysteria. Unlike her male counterpart, the eccentric female neurotic lives a shamed existence, making these films those rare places where her destructive emotions get to play. HOUSE OF PSYCHOTIC WOMEN is an examination of these characters through a daringly personal, autobiographical lens. Anecdotes and memories interweave with film history, criticism, trivia, and confrontational imagery to create a reflective personal history and a celebration of female madness, both onscreen and off. This critically acclaimed publication is packed with rare images that combine with family photos and artifacts to form a titillating sensory overload with a filmography that traverses the acclaimed and the obscure in equal measure. Films covered include The Entity, Paranormal Activity, Singapore Sling, 3 Women, Toys Are Not for Children, Repulsion, Let's Scare Jessica to Death, The Haunting of Julia, Secret Ceremony, Cutting Moments Out of the Blue, Mademoiselle, The Piano Teacher, Possession, Antichrist, and hundreds more. Prior to this ebook edition, Kier-La's highly acclaimed book has already been issued twice in hardcover and twice in paperback, garnering extensive press coverage and endorsement, including the following: "God, this woman can write with a voice and intellect that's so new. The truth in the most deadly unique way I've ever read." Ralph Bakshi, director of Fritz the Cat, Heavy Traffic, Lord of the Rings, etc. Fascinating, engaging, and lucidly written, an extraordinary blend of deeply researched academic analysis and revealing memoir. Iain Banks, author of The Wasp Factory.
