Local Economies in Turmoil Arni Sverrisson, Meine Pieter Van Dijk, 2000-07-14 The main theme is how local economic cultures and economic networks in the South and in Eastern Europe are put under strain by global deregulation and how traditional and not so traditional but locally rooted structures of economic life adjust to deregulation or fail to do so All the contributions written by different authors combine a flexible specialization in clusters approach with original empirical data An Introduction and a concluding chapter by the editors brings out the common issues and conclusions

Exploration in Development Issues Nurul Islam, 2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2003 Nurul Islam currently head of economic and social policy at the FAO UN and a key advisor at the International Food Policy Research Institute has been a renowned expert on economic development for the past thirty years Over that time he has researched and written about a wide range of economic development issues focussing mainly on policy For the first time ever his most important writings have been brought together in this volume reflecting not only Professor Islam's own views on particular issues but also providing a unique overview of the key debates and discussions taking place among academic economist and policy analysts over the past three decades The collection is divided into three main sections trade and aid development strategy and food security the section on food security being the most recent It discusses food security in a broad sense covering issues of availability and growth in food production access or entitlement of individuals or households to basic food and variability in food supplies and prices In the section on Development Strategy Professor Islam highlights how theoretical argument has veered away from organized development planning models which proved so important in the 1960s He questions the role of models and policies throughout the decades and following articles written in the 1970s or 80s he includes articles he has recently completed assessing the previous ones from his current perspective In the final section on Trade and Aid he follows the academic debate on trade and exchange rate policies in developing countries from the 1960s to the progress of the WTO forums of today This is a wide ranging and thought provoking volume No matter whether the subject in question was examined in the 1960s or currently Professor Islam provides a challenging and insightful analysis and even the earliest articles retain relevance and will be of continuing interest South-South Aid Donald

Bobias,1992-06-18 More and more Third World countries are providing development assistance to other developing countries This book examines a range of these South South aid projects sponsored by such countries as China Korea Cuba and Brazil Proceedings of I4SDG Workshop 2021 Giuseppe Quaglia,Alessandro Gasparetto,Victor Petuya,Giuseppe Carbone,2021-10-13 This volume contains the papers of the 1st Workshop IFToMM for Sustainable Development Goals I4SDG held online on November 25 26 2021 The main topics of the workshop include the aspects of theory design and practice of mechanism and machine science which are instrumental in reaching a sustainable development such as biomechanical engineering sustainable energy systems robotics and mechatronics green tribology computational kinematics dynamics of machinery industrial applications of mechanism design gearing and transmissions multibody dynamics rotor dynamics vibrations humanitarian engineering and socio technical systems for sustainable and inclusive development The contributions which were selected by means of a rigorous international peer review process highlight numerous exciting ideas that will spur novel research directions and foster multidisciplinary collaboration among different specialists demonstrating that medical and service robotics will drive the technological and societal change in the coming decades

Long-Term Conflict Prevention and Industrial Development Ralf Bredel,2003 After decades of striving to prevent international conflict major armed conflicts in the 1990s have taken place within national boundaries After the series of national independence wars in the 1950s and 1960s and frequent geopolitical wars in the 1970s and 1980s a category of wars of the third kind prevailed The aim of this book is to consider the root causes of recent internal conflicts and to develop long term conflict prevention strategies from here New insights suggest the central role of politico economic inequalities in ethnic religious and cultural conflict The United Nations system has just started to adjust to this new reality of conflict and make long term conflict prevention a priority issue on international agendas Whereas development practitioners should principally conceive their work through a conflict prevention lens there is a shift in focus to United Nations agencies that deal with the economic characteristics of conflict The unbroken significance of a sustainable industrial development process in developing countries may allow the United Nations Industrial Development Organization UNIDO a particular vantage point and role in the long term prevention of conflict North-South and South-South F. Stewart,1991-11-25 an important and timely contribution to the study of South South economic relations It provides a cogent and detailed analysis Henock Kifle

South Letter provides some interesting insights into the determinants and consequences of South South trade Frances Stewart The World Economy This comprehensive incisive work represents both historical depth and topical breadth This well written analysis makes an important contribution to development studies including development economics and development geography Georges G Cravins The Journal of Asian Studies These essays explore interactions between North and South and South and South in trade technology and finance focusing on the interests of the South and particularly the poor The conventional neo classical approach is shown to have many theoretical deficiencies the consequences are often harmful to Southern interests while the poor are neglected The author concludes that the South should adopt a bargaining approach to N S negotiations and urges for closer South South relations in trade technology and finance Bridging the Global Digital Divide Jeffrey James,2003-01-01 According to many observers the global digital divide the extent to which information technology is benefiting developed as opposed to developing countries has already established itself as the single most pervasive theme of the twenty first century The purpose of this book is to explore some of the ways in which this divide can be overcome both within and between nations Employing a rigorous analytical framework the author bases his analysis on the concept of international technological dualism He argues that one possible solution to the problem is the availability of affordable technologies such as low cost computers which are specifically designed for the income levels and socio economic conditions of developing countries He also emphasizes that the most important aim of any policy measure should be to provide universal access to information technologies rather than individual ownership Depending on whether or not this divide can be bridged will to a large degree determine whether developing countries are able to attain higher levels of productivity prosperity and global integration The Philippines James K. Boyce,1993-07-01 This book analyzes the Philippine economy from the 1960s to the 1980s During this period the benefits of economic growth conspicuously failed to trickle down Despite rising per capita income broad sectors of the Filipino population experienced deepening poverty Professor Boyce traces this outcome to the country s economic and political structure and focuses on three elements of the government s development strategy the green revolution in rice agriculture the primacy accorded to export agriculture and forestry and massive external borrowing James Boyce is the author of Agrarian Impasse in Bengal and co author of A Quiet Violence View from a Bangladesh Village Development Policy in East Asia Romeo M. Bautista,1992 The growth performance of East Asia s market economics over the two and half decades has been one of unparalleled success In this regional comparative study of country experiences the author demonstrates the considerable scope for complementarity between economic growth and poverty alleviation in the development process Government policies are shown to have been a major determinant of the development path for the East Asian countries including the outcomes in income growth and distribution The study sheds light on the types of policies conducive to both economic growth and poverty reeducation and provides important lessons for the other developing countries Human Rights and Choice in Poverty Alan G.

Smith,1997-08-30 This interdisciplinary study applies human rights theory to the problems of rural poverty in the Third World Considering the interdependence of minimal food and health security with minimal assurance of basic freedoms political scientist Alan G Smith traces the linkage to the need of the food insecure to seek clientelistic dependencies on better off neighbors relationships that often operate to restrict freedom of choice In contrast to conventional rural development aid which can introduce new client dependency if pursued alone Smith stresses the need to find other forms of aid that would provide the option of assured minimal survival while avoiding the constraints imposed by dependency Arguing for bolstering bottom up human rights momentum he suggests the transfer of appropriate tools into the hands of the target group Recipients would make use of them to enhance autonomous food crop production thereby making client dependency a matter of choice rather than necessity Smith illustrates the Third World predicament of food insecurity leading to infringement of rights by drawing together empirical evidence from Bangladesh Botswana and Tanzania He further argues that respect for human rights involves a duty on the part of advantaged nations to address the Third World predicament with practical measures fully consistent with human rights and for each of these three country cases Smith recommends direct locally specific minimalist aid His model its practical illustration and recommendations should be valuable to academics and students in the fields of rural sociology anthropology and political science especially those focusing on human rights poverty and Third World development as well as bureaucrats and consultants in the development aid field Acquisition of Technological Capability in Small Firms in Developing Countries H. Romijn,1998-11-18 An authoritative examination of how small firms in developing countries acquire technological capability the knowledge and skills required to operate technology effectively and to adapt it to local conditions It fills a gap in the established literature on technological capability which has neglected the small scale sector in spite of the important role it plays in employment generation The author develops a methodology for a quantitative assessment of the learning process using case material from the small scale capital goods sector in Pakistan s Punjab Province
