Qur'an Translation Hussein Abdul-Raof, 2001 The Qur'an is read by millions of Muslims on a daily basis yet there is no book available to the reader Arab or non Arab which provides a linguistic and rhetorical insight into Qur'anic discourse This book explains Qur'an translational problems and provides a thorough account of the unique syntactic semantic phonetic prosodic pragmatic and rhetorical features of the Qur'an

New Theory of the Holy Qur'an Translation: A Textbook for Advanced University Students of Linguistics and Translation Ali Alhaj, 2015-06 Translation strategies are the procedures employed by the translator to attempt a solution to the multifarious baffling problems with which translation is indubitably replete Malone 1988 p 78 defines translation The steps selected from a consciously known range of potential procedures taken to solve a translation problem which has been consciously detected and resulting in a consciously applied solution While some strategies are helpful others turn out to be of little avail It follows then that the translator has to sort out the wheat from the chaff in pursuit of a good translation Here the translator may utilize particular strategies in accordance with the method anticipated in the course of translation i e target orientedness or source orientedness Faced with differences in the extralinguistic reality of the two cultures or its lexical mapping the translator tries to reconcile them by relying on the following procedures borrowing definition literal translation substitution lexical creation omission and addition Three comments that need to be made by the researcher in connection with this list First not all of the procedures achieve cultural transfer in the sense of filling the gap but they all serve the purpose of achieving communicative equivalence in translation For instance substitution and omission certainly do not help to make members of the target culture aware of anything that their culture does not already possess and lexical creation is no more enlightening than the use of the source's language expression unless accompanied by some other procedure that will make the particular extra linguistic feature part of their experiences Second combinations of procedures rather than single procedures are required for optimum transmission of cultural information e g borrowing and definition borrowing and substitution lexical creation and definition Third in planning his/her translation strategy the translator does not make a one time decision on how he/she will treat unmatched elements of culture rather even if the translator has established an overall order of preferences he/she usually makes a new decision for each element and for its each use in an act of communication rather even if he has established an overall order of preferences he usually makes a new decision for each such element and for each use in an act of communication Cohen 1990 p 78

Literary Translation and Cultural Mediators in

'Peripheral' Cultures Diana Roig-Sanz, Reine Meylaerts, 2018-07-20 This book sets the grounds for a new approach

exploring cultural mediators as key figures in literary and cultural history It proposes an innovative conceptual and methodological understanding of the figure of the cultural mediator defined as a cultural actor active across linguistic cultural and geographical borders occupying strategic positions within large networks and being the carrier of cultural transfer Many studies on translation and cultural mediation privileged the major metropolis of Paris London and New York as centres of cultural production and translation However other cities and megacities that are not global centres of culture also feature vibrant translation scenes This book abandons the focus on innovative centres and imitative peripheries and follows processes of cultural exchange as they develop Thus it analyses the role of cultural mediators as customs officers or smugglers or both in different proportions in so called peripheral cultures and offers insights into an under analysed body of actors and institutions promoting intercultural transfer in often multilingual and less studied venues such as Trieste Tel Aviv Buenos Aires Lima Lahore or Cape Town

The Routledge Handbook of Translation, Feminism and Gender Luise von Flotow, Hala Kamal, 2020-06-09 The Routledge Handbook of Translation Feminism and Gender provides a comprehensive state of the art overview of feminism and gender awareness in translation and translation studies today Bringing together work from more than 20 different countries from Russia to Chile Yemen Turkey China India Egypt and the Maghreb as well as the UK Canada the USA and Europe this Handbook represents a transnational approach to this topic which is in development in many parts of the world With 41 chapters this book presents discusses and critically examines many different aspects of gender in translation and its effects both local and transnational Providing overviews of key questions and case studies of work currently in progress this Handbook is the essential reference and resource for students and researchers of translation feminism and gender

Translating Women Luise von Flotow, Farzaneh Farahzad, 2016-10-04 This book focuses on women and translation in cultures across other horizons well beyond the European or Anglo American centres Drawing on transnational feminist connections its editors have assembled work from four continents and included articles from Morocco Mexico Sri Lanka Turkey China Saudi Arabia Columbia and beyond Thirteen different chapters explore questions around women s roles in translation as authors or translators or theoreticians In doing so they open new territories for studies in the area of gender and translation and stimulate academic work on questions in this field around the world The articles examine the impact of Western feminism when translated to other cultures they describe translation projects devised to import and make meaningful feminist texts from other places they engage with the politics of publishing translations by women authors in other cultures and the role of women translators play in developing new ideas The diverse approaches to questions around women and translation developed in this collection speak to the volume of unexplored material that has yet to be addressed in this field

Contemporary Rationalist Islam in Turkey Gokhan Bacik, 2021-07-29 Nineteenth century Istanbul was an intellectual hub of rich discussions about Islam in which leading reformists had a significant role Turkey today appears to be an intellectual vacuum to anyone searching for ongoing critical engagement with Islam The main purpose of this book is to adjust this view of Turkey by showcasing the modern Turkish theologians who challenge mainstream Sunni interpretations of Islam. Labelling these theologians as rationalist rather than reformist, the author reveals that their theology is inherently anti-establishment and thus a religiously oriented challenge to the hegemony of the state-sanctioned Islam. For the rationalists, Turkey's problems have their origins in the Sunni interpretation of Islam. Contemporary Rationalist Islam in Turkey analyses nine prominent scholars of Islam who provide a religious opposition to the Sunni revival in Turkey: H. Seyin Atay, Yasar Nuri Zerk M. Hayri Kirbasoglu, İlhami Guler, R. İhsan Elia İkmersoy, Mustafa Zerk İsrail Balci and Mehmet Azimli. These scholars' writings are almost exclusively published in Turkish, so this book makes their ideas available in English for the first time. It also examines the scope, methodology and argumentation of the scholars' theology, categorizing their theological interpretations from historicist to universalist and from empiricist to rationalist. In identifying a new rationalist school of Turkish theology and outlining its different manifestations, the book breaks new ground. It fills a significant gap in the literature on Islamic studies and reveals an understudied dimension of Turkey and Turkish Islam beyond the well-known ideas of the AKP and the Gulenists.

A CONCISE GUIDE TO THE QURAN: Answering Thirty Critical Questions Dr. A. M. Awal PhD, 2023-08-18 Investigating the authenticity of the Koran from a mathematical standpoint and a numerical point of view to scientifically and historically verify whether Mohammed wrote the Koran.

The (Un)Translatability of Qur'anic Idiomatic Phrasal Verbs Ali Yunis Aldahesh, 2021-07-27 Qur'anic idiomaticity in its all aspects poses a great deal of challenge to Qur'an readers, learners, commentators and translators. One of the most challenging aspects of Qur'anic idiomaticity is Qur'anic idiomatic phrasal verbs where significances of proper Arabic verbs are entirely fused with significances of prepositions following them to produce new significances that have nothing to do with the basic significances of those verbs and prepositions. By examining a corpus of ten of the most influential English translations of the Qur'an, this study scrutinizes how some translators of the Qur'an have dealt with the phenomenon of Qur'anic idiomatic phrasal verbs, the difficulties that they have encountered when translating them into English and the strategies that they have employed in their attempts to overcome the inherent ambiguity of such expressions and provide their functional pragmatic equivalents for English readership. The study proposes a working model for analysing and assessing the translation of the Qur'anic idiomatic phrasal verbs and provides a number of theory-based recommendations for translators in general and Qur'an translators in particular.

Islam in its International Context Chris Flood, Stephen Hutchings, Galina Miazhevich, 2011-05-25 Changing attitudes to Islam profoundly influence political cultures and national identities as well as policies regarding immigration, security and multiculturalism. Given that the majority of relevant scholarly works have either adopted monocultural perspectives or approached Islam in its general, non-nation-specific dimension, the need for in-depth multi-nation studies is urgent. Islam itself and responses to its rise are becoming increasingly internationalised. It is therefore important that analyses of Islam-related phenomena are sensitive to the particular cultures in which they are encountered. This volume does precisely that Contributions some explicitly comparative others implicitly so cover perspectives from across Europe the USA and the Middle East along with new treatments of the rich diversity to be found in Islamic art and discussions of inter faith exchanges They also represent a range of disciplinary approaches Among the many issues addressed are the challenges posed by the rise of Muslim radicalism to multicultural societies various media treatments of the War on Terror the national specificities of Islamophobic xenophobia contemporary visual arts in Islamic societies differing attitudes to the translation of religious texts The authors include authoritative international experts balanced by promising younger scholars
