Renewing Development In Sub Saharan Africa Policy Performance And Prospects:

Renewing Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Deryke Belshaw, the late Arthur Ian Livingstone, 2005-06-29 Renewing Development in Sub Saharan Africa reviews the debates and brings together specialist contributions to provide a clear guide to the major complexities of African development. They lay the foundation for designing a range of individual country specific policy sets in which the strategic components are prioritized according to each country's constraints and opportunities. The emphasis of the book is on the identification of effective strategies that will enable individual countries to most effectively exploit their growth opportunities and to meet poverty reducing and other key equity objectives. The IMF, World Bank and Policy Reform Alberto Paloni, Maurizio Zanardi, 2012-10-12 The debate on whether or not the International Monetary Fund and World Bank and their intervention strategies are a positive force for change in the developing world continues to rage. Featuring both macroeconomic and microeconomic approaches, this book brings together an international team of contributors and centres upon three broad themes: the ideology of the IMF and World Bank poverty reduction conditionality. In exploring these themes, this book will be a valuable reference for postgraduate students and professionals in the fields of development studies and political economy. Sub-Saharan Africa's Development Challenges O. Kimanuka, 2009-01-05 The first analysis of the 1994 genocide written by a Rwandan national, Kimanuka examines Rwanda's survival from being a failed state, looking at how leaders' bold decisions and the commitment of the Rwandan people led to reform programs and economic recovery. Wider conversation of Africa's general development challenges are also explored. Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development John Weiss, Michael Tribe, 2015-09-16 The Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development is a global overview of industrialisation. Each chapter will provide readers with contemporary insights into this essential aspect of economic development. Industrialisation has been at the forefront of discussion on economic development since the earliest days of development economics. But over the last fifty years, the manufacturing sectors of different countries and regions have grown at strikingly different rates. In 1960, developing countries took a very small share of global manufacturing production. Today, the position had changed radically with fast growth of manufacturing in many parts of what was originally the developing world, particularly in China and the rest of East Asia. On the other hand, countries in Africa and parts of Latin America have been largely left behind by this process of industrialisation. This volume aims to illuminate this uneven development and takes stock of the current issues that hinder and support industrialisation in low and middle income economies. This Handbook is a collection of chapters on different aspects of industrialisation experience in a range of countries. Key themes include the role of manufacturing in growth, the nature of structural change at different stages of development, the role of manufacturing in employment creation, alternative options for trade and industrial policy, the key role of technology and technical change, and the impact of globalisation and the spread of global value chains and foreign direct investment on prospects for industrialisation. Several chapters discuss individual country experiences with examples from

India Mexico South Africa and Tanzania as well as an overview of African industrialisation This authoritative Handbook will be a key reference source for those studying or wishing to understand contemporary economic development Offering inspiration and direction for future research this landmark volume will be of crucial importance to all development economics scholars and researchers

Development Economics and Social Justice John Thoburn, 2017-11-28 Professor Ian Livingstone is one of a small group of British development economists who have achieved international renown and recognition The objective of this book is to pay tribute to his life's work particularly those aspects which related to key but challenging development issues These issues include at a broad level the understanding of the economic forces determining the development of low income economies more detailed micro work on agricultural development irrigation in particular decentralisation and local government finance small scale enterprises and large scale manufacturing development Themes running through his work relate to his over riding concern for rigour and for socio economic justice Ian Livingstone consistently used the traditional tools of economic analysis as a means to increase understanding of development issues in a way which was itself just as radical as the contributions of political scientists and sociologists This volume has been produced with similar aims

The Political Economy of Africa Vishnu Padayachee, 2010-06-10 The Political Economy of Africa aims to fill a major gap in the existing literature by exploring the economy and economics of Africa The book has a critical approach from the perspective of political economy rather than mainstream economics This book addresses the seemingly intractable economic problems of the African continent and trace their origins but also always to bring out the instances of successful economic change and the possibilities for economic revival and renewal

Economics and Development Studies Michael Tribe, Frederick Nixon, Andy Sumner, 2010-09-13 Development studies textbooks and courses have sometimes tended to avoid significant economic content However without an understanding of the economic aspects of international development many of the more complex issues cannot be fully comprehended Economics and Development Studies makes the economic dimension of discourse around controversial issues in international development accessible to second and third year undergraduate students working towards degrees in development studies Following an introductory chapter outlining the connections between development economics and development studies this book consists of eight substantive chapters dealing with the nature of development economics economic growth and structural change economic growth and developing countries economic growth and economic development since 1960 the global economy and the Third World developing countries and international trade economics and development policy and poverty equality and development economists with a tenth concluding chapter This book synthesizes existing development economics literature in order to identify the salient issues and controversies and make them accessible and understandable The concern is to distinguish differences within the economics profession and between economists and non economists so that the reader can make informed judgments about the sources of these differences and about their impact on policy analysis and policy advice The book features explanatory text boxes tables and diagrams suggestions for further reading and a listing of the economic concepts used in the chapters

Value Chains in Sub-Saharan Africa Sören Scholvin,Anthony Black,Javier Revilla Diez,Ivan Turok,2019-05-09 Development largely depends on how given places participate in global economic processes The contributions to this book address various features of the integration of sub Saharan Africa into the world economy via value chains so as to explain corresponding challenges and opportunities The book deals with five issues that have not been covered adequately in scientific debates first policies are essential to promote value chains and increase their impact on development second value chains are diverse and the variance between them has major economic and political implications third regional value chains appear to constitute a viable alternative to global ones or at least are complementary to them promising better developmental outcomes for the Global South fourth political and socio economic factors are important considerations for a complete assessment of value chains fifth cities and city regions are also crucial objects of study in seeking to achieve a comprehensive assessment of value chains

Determinants of Economic Growth in Africa Almas Heshmati,2018-05-16 This volume is a collection of selected empirical studies on determinants of economic growth in Africa Grouped into three parts chapters examine the influence of financial sources and economic growth sources of productivity growth and prices exchange rates and trade relationships with growth in regions in Africa or the continent as a whole This edited book is authored by African experts in the field who employ diverse up to date data and methods to provide robust empirical results based on representative firms household surveys and secondary country level data covering individuals or multiple countries on the continent It contains a wealth of empirical evidence deep analyses and sound recommendations for policymakers and researchers for designing and implementing effective social and national policies and strategies to prevent and to reduce poverty and its negative effects on poor households and in poor regions The volume will be a useful resource for policymakers and researchers involved in promoting economic growth and fighting poverty It will also appeal to a broader audience interested in economic development resource economics policies economic welfare and inclusive growth

Economic Growth and Development in Ethiopia Almas Heshmati,Haeyeon Yoon,2018-04-27 This volume is a collection of selected empirical studies on determinants of economic growth and development in Ethiopia The core argument for editing this book is to provide an up to date picture of the state and patterns of growth and development in Ethiopia Ethiopia has been under focus in the past due to draughts war famine development changes and the effects of global economic crisis in the country A main contribution of this volume is that it helps identify selected important determinants of growth and development in Ethiopia and provides an estimation of their effects using up to date data modelling and methods Taken together the studies provide a comprehensive picture of the state of growth and development their measurements causal relationships and evaluation of efficient policies and practices in achieving progress in Ethiopia The issues covered represent major challenges to the government and development organizations who are aiming at achieving higher growth and alleviating poverty in the country The studies cover transition from rural agriculture to urban industry and the development of services Smallholders, globalization and policy analysis, 2004 The challenge of meeting the Millennium Development Goals and particularly the halving of poverty and hunger by 2015 is immense and particularly so in rural areas where nearly half of the population lives on less than one dollar a day and one third are undernourished More than two thirds of the poor in rural areas are smallholder farmers whose resources livelihood patterns and income sources are quite heterogeneous Smallholders as a group including the non poor still dominate most farming systems of developing countries and on the positive side account for a majority of rural employment most food production and significant export earnings

Encyclopedia of Social Work, 1965 The Global Economic Crisis and the Developing World Ashwini

Deshpande, Keith Nurse, 2012 The world economy is currently in the throes of a global economic crisis reminiscent of the great depressions of the 1930s and the 1870s As back then the crisis has exposed the major structural imbalances in financial and credit markets in addition to global trade forcing many governments developed and developing to impose debilitating austerity measures that are exacerbating the structural weaknesses that caused the crisis in the first place This volume offers historical insights into the origins of the contemporary crisis as well as detailed analyses of the financial and trade dimensions an assessment of the technological and innovation context along with perspectives on the implications for unemployment and gender imbalances Agricultural Trade and Poverty Making Policy Analysis Count

OECD, 2003-01-10 This conference proceedings examines how trade liberalisation and rich country farming practices affect the world's poor The Economy of Ghana Mozammel Huq, Michael Tribe, 2018-09-12 The book follows a first edition published in 1989 which focused on the severe economic crisis Ghana faced during the late 1970s and the early 1980s In this second edition the authors extend the review up to the mid 2010s covering the entire period since independence with a special focus on shifts in economic policy starting with the adoption of the Economic Recovery Programme in 1983 Huq and Tribe provide systematic coverage of Ghanaian economic development since its independence reviewing the two main modes of development that have been practiced and offer an updated rich data bank By analyzing the wider macroeconomy of Ghana its individual sectors money banking and trade infrastructure and environmental policies and Ghana's poverty welfare and income distribution the authors are able to draw vital lessons from the country's economic development Sustainable Land Management in the Tropics Fred Zaal, 2016-04-01 Bringing together case studies from Kenya Benin Cameroon and the Philippines this volume provides a multidisciplinary overview of the economics of natural resource management in Tropical regions at household and village level By comparing a wide array of climatic and economic conditions it examines the effect of location and access to the market as well as the importance of national policies have on soil and water conservation The book not only analyzes the benefits of soil and water conservation based on econometric studies but also assesses the costs involved In doing so it challenges commonly held assumptions about poorer community's ability to finance such measures

Disposable Cities Garth Andrew Myers, 2017-03-02 Based on in depth fieldwork in three cities Dar es Salaam Zanzibar and Lusaka this book provides a critical analysis of the United Nations Sustainable Cities Program in Africa SCP Focusing on the SCP s policies for solid waste management which was identified as the top priority problem by the SCP the book examines the success of these pilot schemes and the SCP s record in building new relationships between people and government It argues that the SCP has operated in a political vacuum without recognition of the long and problematic histories and cultural politics of urban environmental governance in Eastern and Southern Africa This book brings these cultural and political histories to the fore in its examination of the contemporary dynamics In doing so it not only provides an insightful analysis of the policies and outcomes for the SCP but also puts forward a historically grounded critique of neoliberalism good governance and sustainable development discourses

West African Worlds Reginald Cline-Cole, Elsbeth Robson, 2016-02-17 West African Worlds provides a critical assessment of social economic and political change in Africa s most populous and arguably most externally focused region With an emphasis on globalisation and modernisation case studies and commentary are integrated throughout to highlight the concerns and issues of the region Enriched by an impressive mix of West African voices this text combines theory and application with policy and practice to address socio economic change the pursuit of livelihoods and development within West Africa

African Literary NGOs Doreen Strauhs, 2015-12-11 Proposing the novel concept of the literary NGO this study combines interviews with contemporary East African writers with an analysis of their professional activities and the cultural funding sector to make an original contribution to African literary criticism and cultural studies

Urban Growth and Land Degradation in Developing Cities Roy Maconachie, 2016-02-11 The peri urban interface in poor countries is frequently an area of great dynamism and a focus of competition for basic resources In Nigeria peri urban livelihood strategies have become an increasingly important survival mechanism in the context of rapid urban growth This book uses an innovative combination of methodologies from both the natural and social sciences to examine recent developments in and around the city of Kano in northern Nigeria and in doing so provides insights into the sustainability of these livelihood strategies Identifying some of the most significant forces that are currently shaping the process of peri urban change it argues that despite the adoption of creative and ingenious strategies by many farmers urban growth is having a considerable effect on the livelihood resilience of individuals households and communities The findings presented in this book have much wider relevance and are transferable to other burgeoning Third World cities where increased pressures on urban hinterlands have intensified contests amongst various actors made access to resources much more difficult and made traditional smallholder mechanisms of adaptation and resilience increasingly challenging
