

The background of the cover is an abstract illustration. It features a large, light-colored, irregular shape that resembles a stylized face or a complex geometric form. This shape is composed of various lines and curves, some of which are highlighted in a golden-yellow color. The overall color palette is muted, with shades of beige, cream, and light brown. The text is overlaid on this background.

Inside Stories Kathleen B. deMarrais, 2012-12-06 Although articles reporting research studies are helpful in acquainting students with methodological approaches they often make the process look so straightforward clean and effortless It is rare to find an article that tells the real story behind the finished product By having real researchers tell their own stories of mucking around with methodological and ethical issues in qualitative research we get a more realistic human story of the process This is a collection of such stories Authors were asked to describe their own experiences with methodological and ethical struggles as they engaged in their work Each of the essays offers insight into the research approach used as well as particular issues which became apparent during the research process Key issues raised by the authors include early learnings gaining entry overlapping conflicting roles and the boundaries of these roles differential power relationships who tells the story and whose story is told ethical concerns related to confidentiality and the influence of a researcher's particular philosophy or theoretical framework on his or her research Throughout the book we see scholars whose personal stories or autobiographies intersect closely with their research projects deMarrais introduces a unique framework to help students gain an overview of qualitative research methods and the underpinnings and processes in these approaches This framework is centered on the ways we understand phenomena using qualitative research approaches that engage archival knowledge narrative knowledge or observational knowledge

Research in Education, 1973 The Self-concept:

Theory and research on selected topics Ruth C. Wylie,1974-01-01 Theory and Research on Selected topics In this book we are provided with careful critical and lucid discussions of such topics as the relationship between race sex socioeconomic status age and self concept The G. Stanley Hall Lecture Series ,1981 Resources in Education ,2001-04 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Dope Double Agent Michael Agar,2006 Dope Double Agent is a war on drugs story one that starts in the 60s and only ends with the last lines of the book More than this it is the story of a young Berkeley student and occasional drug user who turns into an insider expert in the drug war with a personal agenda to subvert and correct it He checks in as a heroin patient works the streets of New York dips into worlds of PCP and LSD and seeks the sources of crack heroin and ecstasy The delusions of the experts the public and the politicians amaze him and make him think the double agent job will be easy Instead it is impossible He fails spectacularly so on such hallowed ground as the National Academy of Sciences and the National Institutes of Health Come behind the scenes and watch the drug policy emperor march along for decades thinking he wears a new suit of clothes
