Northern Exposures Photographing And Framing The Canadian North 1920 45:

Northern Exposures Peter Geller, 2011-11-01 To many the North is a familiar but inaccessible place Yet images of the region are within easy reach in magazine racks on our coffee tables and on television computer and movie screens In Northern Exposures Peter Geller uncovers the history behind these popular conceptions of the Canadian North This book examines the photographic and film practice of the Canadian government the Anglican Church of Canada and the Hudson's Bay Company the three major colonial institutions involved in the arctic and sub arctic In the first half of the twentieth century visual representations of the region were widely circulated in official publications and presented in film shows and lantern slide lectures Focusing on the work of prominent and prolific northern image makers including federal government special investigator Major Lachlan T Burwash first Bishop of the Arctic Archibald Lang Fleming Beaver magazine editor and publicity expert Douglas McKay and photographer filmmaker author Richard Finnie this book engages in a contextual approach to reading images analyzing the interrelated aspects of production circulation and reception Geller reveals the varied ways in which taking and displaying pictures of northern people and places contributed to the extension of control over the northern reaches of the Canadian nation Illustrated throughout with archival photographs Northern Exposures contributes to understandings of twentieth century visual culture and the relationship between photographic ways of seeing and the expansion of colonial power while raising important questions about the role of visual representation in understanding the past It will be of interest to those concerned with Canadian and cultural history Northern and Aboriginal studies film and communication art history anthropology and visual culture

The West and Beyond Sarah Carter, Alvin Finkel, Peter Fortna, 2010 The West and Beyond evaluates and appraises the state of Western Canadian history acknowledging and assessing the contributions of historians of the past and present while showcasing the research interests of a new generation of scholars It charts new directions for the future and stimulates further interrogations of our past This collection encourages dialogue among the generations of historians of the West and among practitioners of diverse approaches to the past It also reflects a broad range of disciplinary and professional boundaries suggesting a number of different ways to understand the west

The Modern Girl Jane Nicholas, 2015-01-01 Using a wide range of visual and textual evidence Nicholas illuminates both the frequent public debates about female appearance and the realities of feminine self presentation in 1920s Canada

Reflections on the Commemoration of the First World War David Monger, Sarah Murray, 2020-11-30 The First World War's centenary generated a mass of commemorative activity worldwide Officially and unofficially individually collectively and commercially locally nationally and internationally efforts were made to respond to the legacies of this vast conflict This book explores some of these responses from areas previously tied to the British Empire including Australia Britain Canada India and New Zealand Showcasing insights from historians of commemoration and heritage professionals it provides revealing insider and outsider perspectives of the centenary How far did commemoration become celebration and how merited were such responses To what extent did the centenary serve wider social and political functions Was it a time for new knowledge and understanding of the events of a century ago for recovery of lost or marginalised voices or for confirming existing clichés And what can be learned from the experience of this centenary that might inform the approach to future commemorative activities The contributors to this book grapple with these questions coming to different answers and demonstrating the connections and disconnections between those involved in building public knowledge of the war to end all wars

Photography, Memory, and Refugee Identity Lynda Mannik, 2013-04-20 In 1948 a small ship carrying Estonian refugees arrived at Pier 21 in Halifax In this absorbing work anthropologist Lynda Mannik analyzes the refugee experience through the photographic record of those who made that harrowing voyage Drawing on a collection of photographs taken during the voyage and at Pier 21 Mannik asks surviving passengers to describe their journey their reception in Canada and to what extent the photos reflect their experiences as they remember them The photographs in the SS Walnut collection she argues bear witness to the refugee experience even as the meanings attached to them have changed over time and in shifting contexts
