Being Extreme Bill Gutman, 2014-04-01 As fast paced as a freefall from a roaring airplane as thrilling as a towering jump off a ski slope Being Extreme is a fascinating examination of the adrenaline rush of extreme sports Here is a world where living life on the edge is the only option where you are only as good as your last jump and where one false move can take you out of the game permanently From mountain climbing and freestyle motocross to skydiving and snowboarding and beyond in the past decade the world of extreme sports has exploded onto the scene with daredevils attempting acts of athleticism that leave spectators awed and fearful Being Extreme explores the motivations and societal impulses behind these high risk lifestyles through interviews with professional athletes and recreational enthusiasts as well as with psychiatrists who seek to understand the motivation behind these Big T personalities Authors Gutman and Frederick also explore what heart stopping sports are around the next curve because in a world where the rush is everything everyone is always upping their game

When Everything Beyond the Walls Is Wild Lilace Mellin Guignard, 2019-03-26 In When Everything Beyond the Walls Is Wild Lilace Mellin Guignard draws from emblematic moments and relationships in her own life to explore issues of gender recreation and environmental conservation Born into a suburban family Guignard wanted to get up close and personal with iconic American landscapes but social pressures and cautionary tales told her that these spaces were not meant for her as a woman Reflecting on the ways our culture socializes women to remain indoors Guignard shares her own struggles with finding her place outdoors Refusing to stay indoors and safe Guignard drove cross country with her dog worked as a river guide and set out to climb Mount Whitney She recounts navigating outdoor interactions with male friends and strangers that range from wonderful to awkward to frightening Now that she is settled with her own family Guignard writes about how it is still more difficult for women than men to prioritize outdoor recreation time These stories expose how cultural messages about women shape their experiences and interactions when backpacking paddling rock climbing and bicycling They broaden readers notions of what adventure is what places are considered wild and worth our care and what types of people enjoy the outdoors Drawing upon the art of the memoir and informed by analysis from women's studies and ecological literature Guignard makes an impassioned case for why women and marginalized members of society should have the opportunity to experience nature The self reliance and connection with the natural world that outdoor recreation fosters are qualities we all need in order to do the work required by the environmental challenges ahead
