The history and theory of international law have been transformed in recent years by post colonial and post imperial critiques of the universalistic claims of Western international law The origins of those critiques lie in the often overlooked work of the remarkable Polish British lawyer historian C H Alexandrowicz 1902 75 This volume collects Alexandrowicz's shorter historical writings on subjects from the law of nations in pre colonial India to the New International Economic Order of the 1970s and presents them as a challenging portrait of early modern and modern world history seen through the lens of the law of nations The book includes the first complete bibliography of Alexandrowicz's writings and the first biographical and critical introduction to his life and works It reveals the formative influence of his Polish roots and early work on canon law for his later scholarship undertaken in Madras 1951 61 and Sydney 1961 67 and the development of his thought regarding sovereignty statehood self determination and legal personality among many other topics still of urgent interest to international lawyers political theorists and global historians

The Month that Changed the World Gordon Martel, 2014 On 28 June 1914 the Austrian Archduke Franz Ferdinand was assassinated in the Balkans Five fateful weeks later the Great Powers of Europe were at war Much time and ink has been spent ever since trying to identify the guilty person or state responsible or alternatively attempting to explain the underlying forces that inevitably led to war in 1914 Unsatisfied with these explanations Gordon Martel now goes back to the contemporary diplomatic military and political records to investigate the twists and turns of the crisis afresh with the aim of establishing just how the catastrophe really unfurled What emerges is the story of a terrible unnecessary tragedy one that can be understood only by retracing the steps taken by those who went down the road to war With each passing day we see how the personalities of leading figures such as Kaiser Wilhelm II the Emperor Franz Joseph Tsar Nicholas II Sir Edward Grey and Raymond Poincaré were central to the unfolding crisis how their hopes and fears intersected as events unfolded and how each new decision produced a response that complicated or escalated matters to the point where they became almost impossible to contain Devoting a chapter to each day of the infamous July Crisis this gripping step by step account of the descent to war makes clear just how little the conflict was in fact premeditated preordained or even predictable Almost every day it seemed possible that the crisis could be settled as so many had been over the previous decade almost every day there was a new suggestion that gave statesmen hope that war could be avoided without abandoning vital interests And yet as the last month of peace ebbed away the actions and reactions of the Great Powers disastrously escalated the situation So much so that by the beginning of August what might have remained a minor Balkan problem had turned into the cataclysm of the First World War
