Mapping Region in Early American Writing Edward Watts, Keri Holt, John Funchion, 2015-11-15 Mapping Region in Early American Writing is a collection of essays that study how early American writers thought about the spaces around them The contributors reconsider the various roles regions imagined politically economically racially and figuratively played in the formation of American communities both real and imagined These texts vary widely some are canonical others archival some literary others scientific some polemical others simply documentary As a whole they recreate important mental mappings and cartographies and they reveal how diverse populations imagined themselves their communities and their nation as occupying the American landscape Focusing on place specific local writing published before 1860 Mapping Region in Early American Writing examines a period often overlooked in studies of regional literature in America More than simply offering a prehistory of regionalist writing these essays offer new ways of theorizing and studying regional spaces in the United States as it grew from a union of disparate colonies along the eastern seaboard into an industrialized nation on the verge of overseas empire building They also seek to amplify lost voices of diverse narratives from minority frontier and outsider groups alongside their more well known counterparts in a time when America's landscapes and communities were constantly evolving Postindian Aesthetics Debra K. Weapons Ward Churchill, 2017-04-15 Wielding Words like Weapons is a collection of acclaimed American Indian Movement activist intellectual Ward Churchill's essays in indigenism selected from material written during the decade 1995 2005 It includes a range of formats from sharply framed book reviews and equally pointed polemics and op eds to more formal essays designed to reach both scholarly and popular audiences The selection also represents the broad range of topics addressed in Churchill's scholarship including the fallacies of archeological and anthropological orthodoxy such as the insistence of cannibologists that American Indians were traditionally man eaters Hollywood's cinematic degradations of native people questions of American Indian identity the historical and ongoing genocide of North America's native peoples and the systematic distortion of the political and legal history of U S Indian relations Less typical of Churchill s oeuvre are the essays commemorating Cherokee anthropologist Robert K Thomas and Yankton Sioux legal scholar and theologian Vine Deloria Jr More unusual still is his profoundly personal effort to come to grips with the life and death of his late wife Leah Renae Kelly thereby illuminating in very human terms the grim and lasting effects of Canada s residential schools upon the country s indigenous peoples A foreword by Seneca historian Barbara Alice Mann describes the sustained efforts by police and intelligence agencies as well as university administrators and other academic adversaries to discredit or otherwise neutralize both the man and his work Also included are both the initial stream of consciousness version of Churchill s famous or notorious little Eichmanns opinion piece analyzing the causes of the attacks on 9 11 as well as the counterpart essay in which his argument was fully developed

The People And the Word Robert Allen Warrior, Much literary scholarship has been devoted to the flowering of Native American fiction and poetry in the mid twentieth century Yet Robert Warrior argues nonfiction has been the primary form used by American Indians in developing a relationship with the written word one that reaches back much further in Native history and culture Focusing on autobiographical writings and critical essays as well as communally authored and political documents The People and the Word explores how the Native tradition of nonfiction has both encompassed and dissected Native experiences Warrior begins by tracing a history of American Indian writing from the eighteenth century to the late twentieth century then considers four particular moments Pequot intellectual William Apess s autobiographical writings from the 1820s and 1830s the Osage Constitution of 1881 narratives from American Indian student experiences including accounts of boarding school in the late 1880s and modern Kiowa writer N Scott Momaday s essay The Man Made of Words penned during the politically charged 1970s Warrior s discussion of Apess s work looks unflinchingly at his unconventional life and death he recognizes resistance to assimilation in the products of the student print shop at the Santee Normal Training School and in the Osage Constitution as well as in Momaday s writing Warrior sees reflections of their turbulent times as well as guidance for our own Taking a cue from Momaday s essay which gives voice to an imaginary female ancestor Ko Sahn Warrior applies both critical skills and literary imagination to the texts In doing so The People and the Word provides a rich foundation for Native intellectuals critical work deeply entwined with their unique experiences Robert Warrior is professor of English and Native American studies at the University of Oklahoma He is author of Tribal Secrets Recovering American Indian Intellectual Traditions Minnesota 1994 and coauthor with Paul Chaat Smith of Like a Hurricane The Indian Movement from Alcatraz to Wounded Knee

The Grim Years John J. Navin, 2019-12-31 The compelling story of a colony besieged by meteorological epidemiological economic and manmade catastrophes only to arise like the phoenix Orville Vernon Burton author of The Age of Lincoln During South Carolina s settlement a cadre of men rose to political and economic prominence while ordinary colonists enslaved Africans and indigenous groups became trapped in a web of violence and oppression John J Navin explains how eight English aristocrats the Lords Proprietors came to possess the vast Carolina grant and then enacted elaborate plans to recruit and control colonists as part of a grand moneymaking scheme But those plans went awry and the mainstays of the economy became hog and cattle ranching lumber products naval stores deerskin exports and the calamitous Indian slave trade The settlers relentless pursuit of wealth set the colony on a path toward prosperity but also toward a fatal dependency on slave labor Rice would produce immense fortunes in South Carolina but not during the colony s first fifty years Religious and political turmoil instigated by settlers from Barbados eventually led to a total rejection of proprietary authority Using a variety of primary sources Navin describes challenges that colonists faced setbacks they experienced and the effects of policies and practices initiated by elites and proprietors Storms fires epidemics and armed conflicts destroyed property lives and dreams Threatened by the Native Americans they exploited by the Africans they enslaved and by their French and Spanish rivals South Carolinians lived in continual fear For some it was the price they paid for financial success But for most there were no riches and the possibility of a sudden violent death was overshadowed by the misery of their day to day existence
