Runner Among Falling Leaves:

A Runner Among Falling Leaves Ciaran O'Driscoll, 2001-01-01 A photograph of poet Ciaran O Driscoll taken when he was eight or nine by his father shows a radiantly smiling child seemingly at home with his family and the world But that photo is an anomaly the boy's face was far more often darkened by a pensive distant frown The sources of O Driscoll's adolescent melancholy and its lingering traces in his adult life are the subject of his evocative memoir A Runner Among Falling Leaves Born in Kilkenny Ireland in 1943 Ciaran O Driscoll grew up in a home shadowed by the bullying and abuse of his father The violence O Driscoll suffered at the hands of his father in his home was traumatic but in many respects it paled in comparison to the public humiliation his father meted out to the boy at school where he served as O Driscoll's teacher The dual role his father played left the child no place of refuge no escape from the constant mental cruelty and physical pain and the scars of that upbringing continue to haunt the author today In crystalline prose O Driscoll gives voice to the silent child in his memories exploring the unnerving roiling emotions of those years from the perspective of adulthood The story moves back and forth from the boy to the man as O Driscoll reconstructs his lost childhood in order to unearth the roots of the man he has become Lyrical affecting and even at times darkly comic A Runner Among Falling Leaves is an unforgettable portrait of an Irish boyhood touch upon various social psychological and philosophical issues of human life trying to expose the underlying hypocrisies and exploitations in the name of God religion and human relationships It is a bold attempt to reveal the hidden psycho sexual aspect of man woman relationship redefining love outside the commonplace behaviour Interlaced with sub plots the book acquires an episodic character attempting to convey its core message Autumn Leaves, 1903 The Acarina or mites Nathan Banks, 1915 The Shipley Collection of Scientific Papers, 1915 Autumn the Falling Leaves Fairy (Rainbow Magic Special Edition) Daisy Meadows, 2013-08-27 Get into the crisp brisk fall spirit with Autumn the Falling Leaves Fairy Rachel and Kirsty love the fall They can't wait to go apple picking carve pumpkins and take a hayride But this fall everything is going all wrong because Autumn the Falling Leaves Fairy's magic is missing Can the girls help her outsmart Jack Frost and his goblins and make sure that fall is fun again Autumn Leaves Victor McGlothlin, 2003-09-09 Marshall Coates and Rorey Garland are on top of the world best friends and superstar athletes with millions in professional contracts just around the corner But their lives are far from perfect Despite loving the best thing that ever happened to him his girlfriend Jasmine Reynolds Marshall is constantly faced with the shapely sirens who always seem to accompany the limelight And Rorey has a dark secret that could destroy their friendship and his life In Dallas Kennedy James is a beautiful art curator who is romantically involved with the wealthy but self centered society climber Simpson Stone When confronted with the dilemma of what's more important getting what she wants or having the man she needs she finds herself caught up in a tumultuous war of the heart When she's offered a chance at true love with a less glamorous man will she be able to take it As their lives converge which of them will manage to capture happiness And which will fall beautiful but doomed like autumn leaves

The Ships of Minos 4: In the Land of Fallen Leaves Joe Alex, 2023-03-27 A European best selling bronze age saga finally in English Three and a half thousand years ago at the height of the Bronze Age a Minoan ship sails for the mythical Sea of Gloom in search of the source of amber To reach it the explorers must sail up and down mighty rivers navigate cataracts cross great swamps live through the death of leaves and the time of water turned to stone and fight off savage barbarians and ravenous beasts Until one day one by one they grew silent some of them with arms stretched forth others with fists tightly clenched and pressed upon their foreheads And many of them were convinced though it could have been only a distant white cloud that through their tearful eyes they perceived the white visage of Poseidon himself the one and only Lord of the Seas The classic bronze saga continues Open the double doors of the horizon unlock its bronze bolts Pick up your copy today Falling Leaves Adeline Yen Mah, 1999-04-06 The emotionally wrenching yet ultimately uplifting memoir of a Chinese woman struggling to win the love and acceptance of her family Born in 1937 in a port city a thousand miles north of Shanghai Adeline Yen Mah was the youngest child of an affluent Chinese family who enjoyed rare privileges during a time of political and cultural upheaval But wealth and position could not shield Adeline from a childhood of appalling emotional abuse at the hands of a cruel and manipulative stepmother Determined to survive through her enduring faith in family unity

Adeline struggled for independence as she moved from Hong Kong to England and eventually to the United States to become a physician and writer. A compelling, painful and ultimately triumphant story of a girl's journey into adulthood, Adeline's story is a testament to the most basic of human needs: acceptance, love and understanding. With a powerful voice that speaks of the harsh realities of growing up female in a family and society that kept girls in emotional chains, Falling Leaves is a work of heartfelt intimacy and a rare, authentic portrait of twentieth-century China. Riveting. A marvel of memory. Poignant proof of the human will to endure. Amy Tan. Autumn Leaves GS.Subbu, 2018-06-14

The common thread that connects all the stories in the book is the Fall or the Autumn. Autumn symbolizes a time of self-reflection. It is also the transition from light to darkness, like twilight when day slowly melts away into the darkness but not before revealing the resplendency of the setting sun. It is also a period of accepting the reality of the present and moving towards and preparing oneself for the future, a period of contemplation and accepting impermanence. Like the seasons, we also change within ourselves, whether it is coping with impermanence, overcoming the ghosts of the past or learning to make our lives more meaningful. Autumn Leaves narrates the reality of being left alone as one ages due to the splintering of families and the slow drifting away of relationships. The story traces one family's travel through four generations. Amora is all about the failure to distinguish between love and infatuation before realizing that relationships are based on understanding and acceptance and that alone is permanent. Enigma brings together two individuals who are diametrically opposite in nature but stay bonded till the end. The story is about friendship, love and that the meaning of our existence lies in how useful a life we have led. The Fall of Autumn Leaves Ronald A. Williams, 2021-11-19

Cameron Walkes is a Barbadian-born novelist who hasn't sold anything for nearly a year when he is encouraged to write an autobiography. A reluctant Cameron knows he is facing many obstacles. What lessons could he teach? How could he explain the recurrent dreams that had gradually increased his stress? Despite his trepidation, Cameron writes the first words of his autobiography later that night. As his life story laboriously begins to take shape, Cameron traces his development from a poor fishing village in Barbados through athletic and teaching careers and finally to attain a role as president of an American college. While chronicling his pursuit of the American Dream, Cameron also details why he left academia to take up writing as a profession and shares a glimpse into his mindset as his physical prowess declines, leaving him with no choice but to face his own mortality. But just as life comes full circle, fate intervenes and provides an unexpected ending to Cameron's story. In this intriguing novel, a Barbadian immigrant who reluctantly begins penning his autobiography in an effort to boost his writing career embarks on a journey inward to reflect on his experiences.
