

High School

dancing down the sidewalk listening to my iTunes lookin' down at all the chalk and up at the stars and Moon. watching all the cars polluting the air wondering how far and knowing they're going somewhere. thinkin about the upcoming school year and about hanging out with my friends and about senior year tears and knowing i'll miss Kaneland. drama is for high school it lives for broken hearts learning every guy is a fool and they rip hearts apart. it's all about the new style and like, getting popular getting sucky times on the mile and staying away from the nerd cell phones always out texting the best friend for life while singing my life, by no doubt and counting highschool fights going through different phases trying out each one eating every flavor of pez and having a bunch of fun when high school is over i'll miss it more than infinity wishing on four leaf clovers that i can be back in my old desk seat.

artists from the visual and performing arts A unique feature of the book is Silverberg's annotated catalogue of collaborative works by the five poets and other artists To comprehend the coherence of the New York School Silverberg demonstrates one must understand their shared commitment to a reconceptualized idea of the avant garde specific to the United States in the 1950s and 60s when the adversary culture of the Beats was being appropriated and repackaged as popular culture Silverberg's detailed analysis of the strategies the New York School poets used to confront the problem of appropriation tells us much about the politics of taste and gender during the period and suggests new ways of understanding succeeding generations of artists and poets
