

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of risk factors associated with the development of periodontitis between two groups of patients who had been treated by a periodontist or a general dentist. A total of 60 patients from each group were selected from a dental practice database. Data were collected regarding age, gender, smoking status, diabetes mellitus, and periodontal disease. The results showed that there were no significant differences between the two groups in terms of age, gender, smoking status, or diabetes mellitus. However, there was a significant difference in the prevalence of periodontitis between the two groups, with a higher prevalence found in the group treated by a periodontist.

Mainstreaming Gender And Development In The World Bank Progress And Recommendations:

Mainstreaming Gender and Development in the World Bank Caroline O. N. Moser, Annika Tornqvist, Bernice van Bronkhorst, 1999
Extrait de l'introduction This report presents the main findings of a recently completed desk study undertaken for the Social Development Family of the World Bank's Environmentally and Socially Sustainable Development ESSD Network. The primary objectives of the review are to a) identify the current rationale, language and underlying policy approach to Gender and Development (GAD) adopted by the World Bank; b) evaluate the extent to which these are shared across the institutions; and c) make recommendations concerning future steps toward mainstreaming gender in the World Bank. Although the origins of the review relate to needs specifically identified by ESSD, the issues raised go beyond social development and are relevant to all Bank staff concerned with mainstreaming gender and development into World Bank lending and nonlending operations at the policy, program and project level.

A Guide to the World Bank, 2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world's largest sources of development assistance. In 2002, the institution provided US$19.5 billion in loans to its client countries. This guide reviews the organisation's history, objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group: the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), the International Development Association (IDA), the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA) and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID).

Mainstreaming Gender in Environmental Assessment and Early Warning, 2005 Mainstreaming Gender in Environmental Assessment and Early Warning Joni Seager, Geographies of Development in the 21st Century Sylvia H. Chant, Cathy McIlwaine, 2009-01-01 This is an excellent book and should prove to be a valuable text for geography and development studies students. Hedley Knibbs Geography Geographies of Development in the 21st Century provides a very accessible and comprehensive account of a broad spectrum of key contemporary issues of concern to geographers and development studies specialists. The world over, I am sure that this excellent volume will be widely read and appreciated. Professor Andrea Cornwall, University of Sussex, UK. Uneven, contradictory and complex is how Sylvia Chant and Cathy McIlwaine describe the processes of development that constitute the subject of this distinctive and lively introductory text. Seeking to comprehend, let alone portray with any degree of accuracy, the burden of these three adjectives with reference to the sheer diversity within what is sometimes called the majority world is a daunting challenge. Chant and McIlwaine draw on their first-hand experience on the ground in several countries spread across all the major continents of the global South, stretching well beyond conventional academic research into NGOs, social movements and major international agencies. Students will find the blend of accessibly written broad survey and case study very helpful. In addition to lists of important websites, further reading and learning outcomes, the text is interspersed with focused activities to foster active learning.

Professor David Simon Royal Holloway University of London UK Written by two widely published academics with many years experience in university teaching research and consultancy Geographies of Development in the 21st Century provides a concise yet informative introduction to development in the contemporary Global South Incorporating field research from Mexico Costa Rica Guatemala Colombia El Salvador the Philippines Botswana and The Gambia Sylvia Chant and Cathy McIlwaine bring alive a body of fascinating subject matter extending across gender family poverty employment household livelihoods the informal economy housing migration civil society conflict and violence Reflecting both authors enduring interests in the academic policy interface the book is also informed by assignments they have undertaken for various international organisations such as the World Bank Inter American Development Bank UNDP UNICEF ILO and the Commonwealth Secretariat This timely and engaging volume will be an essential companion for undergraduate students taking introductory courses in development and globalisation as well as a useful reference and repository of teaching and learning ideas for those lecturing on the subject Students will not only find this resource refreshingly accessible and user friendly but will be able to further their knowledge guided by annotated readings key internet sources and a range of learning activities

Struggles for Social Rights in Latin America Susan Eva Eckstein, Timothy P. Wickham-Crowley, 2012-11-12 This is a collection of original essays focusing on social rights in Latin America covering four areas in particular subsistence labor gender and race ethnicity within the original framework of human rights Topics covered include the environment AIDS workers rights tourism and many more Gender and Development, 2010-01-01 In 2001 the World Bank adopted a gender equality policy as a means to help reduce poverty This policy was outlined in Integrating Gender into the World Bank s Work A Strategy for Action referred as the 2001 Gender Strategy Through this evaluation IEG finds that the World Bank made progress in gender integration between 2002 and 2008 integrating gender concerns in more than half of the relevant projects These signs of progress are qualified by findings that implementation of this policy weakened in the latter half of the review period and that there was no built in results framework in the strategy Gender, Conflict, and Development Tsjeard Bouta, Georg Frerks, Ian Bannon, 2005 This publication focuses on the gender dimensions of intrastate conflicts civil wars organised around eight key themes of gender and warfare sexual violence formal and informal peace processes post conflict legal frameworks work issues rehabilitation of social services and community driven development For each theme the authors examine the impact on gender roles of conflict situations the development challenges involved and the policy options available to help build more inclusive and gender balanced post conflict societies Development and Human Rights Joel E. Oestreich, 2017-04-03 In 2003 the United Nations adopted a common rights based approach to development in their efforts to promote an international standard of human rights throughout the world The approach emphasizes economic social and cultural rights but plays down the role of civil and political rights in development Intergovernmental and non governmental agencies operate only at the invitation and sufferance of their hosts and states retain full sovereignty and control over their territory and the direct promotion of civil and political rights by foreign organizations has seemed beyond the ability of multilateral development agencies But as Development and Human Rights shows UN agencies have begun to take on a remarkable set of development priorities that while carefully circumscribed and defined constitute greater involvement in a state s internal affairs than anyone would have considered in the past In this book Joel E Oestreich presents the first full length study of how international agencies evaluate the rights situation in a single country and the first study to look at both the good and the bad in a rights based approach It looks particularly at the human rights challenges faced in

India considering the work of five UN agencies UNICEF the UN Development Programme the World Bank the UN Fund for Population Activities and UN Women Over the course of the book Oestreich summarizes how the UN navigates this difficult political terrain and how effectively these policies are being implemented Development and Human Rights ultimately considers how rights based approaches fit in the traditional discourse on human rights and the ability of these agencies to initiate meaningful change on state behavior in the rights arena The Hypocrisy of International Organizations Catherine Elizabeth Weaver, 2003

The New Poverty Strategies P. Mosley, 2002-12-17 The contributors to this collection examine the progress and impact of the new poverty strategies which have governed the policies of development agencies over the past decade While in some areas progress has been impressive in others it has been hampered by persisting inequalities civil conflict institutional gaps and turbulence in the international financial system In light of this The New Poverty Strategies proposes a range of new policies and donor initiatives designed to achieve greater success in poverty reduction in the new century

Gender Inequity and Poverty M.L. Narasaiah, 2004 Around the world at least one woman in every three has been beaten coerced into sex or otherwise abused in her life time Most often the abuser is a member of her own family Increasingly gender based violence is recognised as a major public health concern and a violation of human rights Contents Sex and Gender Gender based Violence Do Men Matter New Horizons in Gender and Development One Battle after Another For a Fair Sharing of Time Safe Motherhood is a Human Rights Issue Action for Safe Motherhood What is Known About Reducing Maternal Mortality Women in Politics Fighting for Equality on All Fronts Equal Opportunities for Women in the Community Lightening the Load for Women Women and Poverty Women in Authority Promotion of Women Empowerment for Women Population Growth and Women s Role in India No Progress without a Secular Society On the Way to Commercial Microcredits Measuring Population s Impact All Human Rights for All The Coming Water Crisis Using Economics to Advantage Law and Social Justice AIDS and the Responsibility of the Media Pollution for Export Human Rights The Road to Progress and Peace Energy Food for the Billions Food Production Taking Poverty to Heart Land Tenure Land Tenure, Gender and Globalisation Dzodzi Tsikata, Pamela Golah, 2010 Drawing from field research in Cameroon Ghana Vietnam and the Amazon forests of Brazil Bolivia and Peru this book explores the relationship between gender and land revealing the workings of global capital and of people s responses to it A central theme is the people s resistance to global forces frequently through an insistence on the uniqueness of their livelihoods For instance in the Amazon the focus is on the social movements that have emerged in the context of struggles over land rights concerning the extraction of Brazil nuts and babacu kernels in an increasingly globalised market In Vietnam the process of de collectivising rights to land is examined with a view to understand how gender and other social differences are reworked in a market economy The book addresses a gap in the literature on land tenure and gender in developing countries It raises new questions about the process of globalisation particularly about who the actors are local people the state NGOs multinational companies and the shifting relations amongst them The book also challenges the very concepts of gender land and globalization      Mainstreaming Gender in Debt and Development Resource Management Dinesh Dodhia,Tina Johnson,2005 This handbook highlights the linkages between debt and gender and discusses policies and action taken by international agencies and bilateral donors to promote and integrate gender issues in the provision of development assistance      Feminist Economics and the World Bank Edith Kuiper,Drucilla Barker,2006-05-02 In this book an international team of contributors including Diane Elson Suzanne Bergeron and Cheryl Doss provide an assessment of the World Bank
