Automation in Library Reference Services Robert

Carande, 1992-11-24 The future of reference librarianship as a viable and essential part of the library depends on developing a proactive participatory and hands on approach to automation This book pulls together the most important elements of change likely to influence library information services and explains them clearly It covers both the conceptual context and practical real life implementations of current automation in reference services The automation technologies include OPACs CD ROM international networks expert systems natural language processing and virtual reality In addition to helping people find information reference librarians also perform another service the comprehension and understanding of the operative connections between and route to information It necessitates an unrelenting exploration and immersion within the world information matrix to maintain currency and knowledge The author shows how reference librarians have in the past and will in the future take a leading role in adapting automation to reference services

Circulation Services in a Small Academic Library Constance Battaile, 1992-07-27

In a library circulation is the process of lending books to borrowers and accurately reshelving them after they have been returned so that they will be retrievable by the next user This basic cycle has many elaborations and sub cycles attached to it such as those for overdues and holds the record keeping process and the reserve book operation These sub cycles vary from library to library but the basic cycle remains the same in every library that allows patrons to remove books Connie Battaile provides a detailed volume written for those new to the circulation department of small academic libraries The author presents not the definitive way to run a circulation department but rather she provides a variety of possible methods Because the circulation department is the main public contact point many library housekeeping chores are assigned to it Again these additional responsibilities vary from library to library but the author provides various procedures The physical environment of the department and the stacks the staff effective communications and scheduling are covered in full detail     Library Literature ,1979     Current Catalog ,1988 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70     Guides to Library Collection Development John Thomas Gillespie,Ralph J.
