British Working-Class Writing for Children Haru Takiuchi,2017-08-21 This book explores how working class writers in the 1960s and 1970s significantly reshaped British children s literature through their representations of working class life and culture Aidan Chambers Alan Garner and Robert Westall were examples of what Richard Hoggart termed scholarship boys working class individuals who were educated out of their class through grammar school education This book highlights the role these writers played in changing the publishing and reviewing practices of the British children s literature industry while offering new readings of their novels featuring scholarship boys As well as drawing on the work of Raymond Williams and Pierre Bourdieu and referring to studies of scholarship boys in the fields of social science and education this book also explores personal interviews and previously unseen archival materials Yielding significant insights on British children s literature of the period this book will be of particular interest to scholars and students in the fields of children s and working class literature and of British popular culture

Working-class Minority Students' Routes to Higher Education Roberta Espinoza,2012 While stories of working class and minority students overcoming obstacles to attend and graduate from college tend to emphasize the individualistic and meritocratic aspect this text examines the social relations that often underpin such successes

Low-income Life Styles Lola M. Irelan,1967 Masculinity and the English Working Class Ying Lee,2016-05-06 This book examines representations of working class masculine subjectivity in Victorian autobiography and fiction In it Ying focuses on ideas of domesticity and the male body and demonstrates that working class masculinities differ substantially from those of the widely studied upper classes The book also maps the relationship between two trends the early nineteenth century efflorescence of published working class autobiographies in which working men construct their identities for a broad readership and a contemporaneous surge of public interest in the lower orders that finds reflection in the depiction of working class characters in popular novels by middle class authors The book mimics this point of convergence by pairing three working class autobiographies with three middle class novels Each chapter focuses on a particular type of work domestic service manual not artisanal labour and literary labour and the opportunities it offers for social advancement Ying considers the specific ways in which classed and gendered consciousness emerges autobiographically and its significance in the writing of working class subjectivity for public consumption Then mainstream novels by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell and Charles Kingsley are re read from the perspective of these autobiographical pressure points Monthly Labor Review United States. European and Chinese Sociologies ,2011-11-11 Sociology is subject to a process of internationalisation The rapid development of China has provided the China experience and shown the emergence of a new sociology In this book a dialogue between European and Chinese sociologists is opening up new horizons for Western thought in a context of economic and cultural globalisation The objective is to embark on a process of epistemological reconfiguration deconstructing reality on the basis of dividing up the world This book deals with some fundamental sociological issues modernities and globalisation class and society state and democracy economic change and inequalities in Europe and in China In the wake of the de colonial critique of post colonial studies the aim of this book is to examine the question of the de westernisation of knowledge in sociology Rural Poverty in the United States United States. National Advisory Commission on Rural Poverty,1968 Politics and African-American Ghettos Lenoard Ed Warren, The black ghetto is a byproduct of American social policy It came into being within policies that were adopted deliberately or inadvertently and will persist in the absence of drastic changes in policy Politics and African American Ghettos searches out the policy making processes that have created the ghetto and that maintain it Roland L Warren has assembled in this volume the work of researchers who examine complex forces and counter forces which result in perpetuating in our cities areas in which poverty poor housing inadequate education and involuntary segregation converge to form a black ghetto This work present a variety of points of view strongly held and at times hotly contested searching out the relevant policymaking processes in various sectors and levels of American society For example Norton Long discusses the ghetto s particular failing a social and political structure based on lower class culture and lacking strong middle class leaders Roland Warren suggests that the ghetto system does not make the individual part of the larger society but causes people to view it with fear and anger Robert Wood examines the way big city policy is made or left unmade in regard to ghettos Charles Adrian discusses the relation of state governments to city ghettos Daniel Elazar asserts that the current ferment for local control is a return to sound principles of American federalism based on noncentralization territorial democracy and partnership Charles Schottland documents the role of giant bureaucracies in the federal government and in nongovernmental organizations in influencing social welfare policy Whitney Young Jr indicates political pathways open to those who desire an active part in attacking the ghetto system

This provocative work raises disturbing questions having to do with the processes through which American ghettos are created and sustained processes that must be altered if problems inherent in the black ghetto are to be attacked effectively For concerned students scholars and laymen it affords new insights into the phenomenon of the contemporary African American network and its perplexing durability Roland L Warren is professor emeritus at the Heller School of Social Policy and Management at Brandeis University He holds a Career Scientist Award from the National Institute of Mental Health and was a Guggenheim Fellow in community affairs in Stuttgart Germany Warren has published many scholarly articles and several books in the areas of community and planned social change
