Marges De La Philosophie:

The Limits of Disenchantment Peter Dews, 1995 In this book Peter Dews explores some of the most urgent problems confronting contemporary European thought the status of the subject after postmodernism the ethical and existential dimensions of critical theory the encounter between psychoanalysis and philosophy and the possibilities of a non foundational metaphysical thinking His approach cuts across the hostile boundaries which that usually separate different theoretical traditions Lacan and the Frankfurt School are brought into dialogue as are deconstruction and Ricoeur s hermeneutics Current questions of language communication and critique are located in a broader context as the author ranges back over the history of modern philosophy from poststructuralism via Nietzsche to German romanticism and idealism A wide variety of issues is discussed in the book including Habermas s views on the ethics of nature Lacan s theory of Oedipal crisis the relation between writing and the lifeworld in Derrida and Schelling s philosophy of the Ages of the World The volume is also enlivened by forceful critiques of a range of currently influential thinkers including Michel Foucault Richard Rorty Rodolphe Gasch and Slavoj Zizek Margins of Philosophy Jacques Derrida, 1982 In this densely imbricated volume Derrida pursues his devoted relentless dismantling of the philosophical tradition the tradition of Plato Kant Hegel Nietzsche Husserl Heidegger each dealt with in one or more of the essays There are essays too on linguistics Saussure Benveniste Austin and on the nature of metaphor White Mythology the latter with important implications for literary theory Derrida is fully in control of a dazzling stylistic register in this book a source of true illumination for those prepared to follow his arduous path Bass is a superb translator and annotator His notes on the multilingual allusions and puns are a great service Alexander Gelley Library Journal The World, the Text, and the Critic Edward W. Said, 1983 Said demonstrates that critical discourse has been strengthened by the writings of Derrida and Foucault and by influences like Marxism structuralism linguistics and psychoanalysis But he argues these forces have compelled literature to meet the requirements of a theory or system ignoring complex affiliations binding the texts to the world Deconstruction and the Work of Art Martta Heikkilä, 2021-07-29 The contemporary idea of the work of art is paradoxically both widely used and often unexamined Therefore we must re evaluate the concept before we can understand what the deconstruction of aesthetics means for thinkers like Jacques Derrida Jean Luc Nancy and Philippe Lacoue Labarthe By examining their analyses of works of visual art and contextualizing their thinking on the matter Martta Heikkil asserts that the implications of the work of art art and the aesthetic apply not only to philosophical questions but also to a broader area Instead of the totality represented by the historical concept of Art poststructuralist thinkers introduce the idea of the radical multiplicity of art and its works From this notion arises the fundamental issue in Derrida and the poststructuralist tradition how can we speak philosophically of art which always exists as singular instances as works In Deconstruction and the Work of Art Visual Arts and Their Critique in Contemporary French Thought Heikkil shows that the deconstructionist notions of art are still influential in the discourses of contemporary art in which artworks proliferate and the concept of work is open ended and expanding This book offers an introduction to the deconstructionist theory of art and brings new perspectives to the complex undecidable relation between philosophy and art

Sufism and Deconstruction Ian Almond,2004-08-02 Examining a series of common features in the works of Derrida and the Sufism of Ibn Arabi considered to be one of the most influential figures in Islamic thought the author addresses the significant absence of attention on the relationship between Islam and Derrida Presenting a deconstructive perspective on Ibn Arabi the book's features include the opposition to systematizing representations of God reality the text a re emphasis on the radical unthinkability of God and the text a common conception of rational thought as restrictive commodifying and ultimately illusory and a subsequent appraisal of confusion as leading to a higher state of knowledge a positive belief in the infinite interpretability of the text a suspicion of representation and an awareness of its semantic futility along with a common welcoming affirmation of openness and errancy towards God and the text This book will be essential reading for advanced students and academics of Religious studies Arabic and Islamic studies and those interested in the work of Derrida and Ibn Arabi

Derrida and the Writing of the Body Jones Irwin,2016-04-22 Michel Foucault refers to 1965 1970 as in philosophical terms the five brief impassioned jubilant enigmatic years This book reinterprets Jacques Derrida's work from this period most especially in L'écriture et la Différence Writing and Difference and argues that a transformation takes place here which has been marginalized in readings of his work to date Irwin follows with a look at how the grammatological opening becomes crucial for Derrida's work in the 1970s and beyond incorporating one of his last readings of embodiment from 2000 By drawing our attention to the politics of desire and sexuality this groundbreaking book engages with the work of key continental theorists including Artaud Bataille Nietzsche Heidegger Habermas and Cixous whilst also examining Derrida's relationship with Plato and feminist theory It will appeal to a wide range of readers within the social sciences and philosophy particularly those with interests in gender and sexuality social theory continental thought queer studies and literary theory

Microliteratures Jesús R. Velasco,2025-07-15 Microliteratures is an innovative examination of writings done in the margins of medieval manuscripts and early modern books Not always as formal as glosses sometimes feverish and abbreviated these marginal writings or microliteratures are the product of readers thinking with the text at the center of the page Jesús R Velasco argues that microliteratures are not private annotations but rather a humanistic activity performed in the public sphere These marginal engagements with texts are made public to future readers of the same book Surveying the microliteratures of a wide range of medieval and early modern Iberian genres legal religious chivalric and political texts Velasco finds that in the shared space and time of reading microliterary actions and artifacts are also models of public humanities work that connects texts to contemporary issues Microliteratures emerge from this ambitious book as a way of understanding the self as a reflective and politically engaged reader in conversation with past present and future readers as contemporaries

and the material legacies it left behind Over the course of their decades long friendship Hélène Cixous and Jacques Derrida assembled overlapping archives of written experiments and exchanges that document a shared interest in their literary afterlives In this incisive account Laura Hughes shows how pushing against the limits of writing and of life itself means not only imagining but manifesting a community of future readers Archival Afterlives Cixous Derrida and the Matter of Friendship examines the embodied nature of literary creation taking letters fragments notes and other ephemera as objects of critical analysis and care Combining close readings of key texts and previously unexamined archival materials Hughes traces critical connections between Cixous and Derrida between the theoretical and the autobiographical and between life writing and its limits In putting deconstruction into dialogue with new material analyses and archive studies Archival Afterlives positions this historical and intellectual relationship as a lens through which to reexamine the legacy of critical theory itself

A History of the Humanities in the Modern University Sverre Raffnsøe, 2024-03-27 This book challenges commonplace assertions that the humanities are presently undergoing a severe crisis as a result of a longstanding decline Rather than hearkening to the widespread reactive call for a last ditch defense of the humanities under attack from an ungracious world this book fundamentally reverses the perspective and makes a plea for a different affirmative approach It contends that the humanities have incessantly arrived at critical turning points since they were first constituted in a form that remains recognizable today and assumed a leading role in knowledge organization with the establishment of the modern university around 1800 Assuming a historical perspective the monograph takes the human sciences back to their rightful place in the family tree of sciences and gives due recognition to their continuously decisive role in the production of new knowledge and the creation of new fields of knowledge Situating the ongoing gemmation of the humanities in a broader context this monograph also offers an encompassing introduction to the over all development of knowledge in the last two hundred years

Starting with Derrida Sean Gaston, 2010-06-15 How does one start with Derrida In this exciting and accessible book Sean Gaston presents a new kind of introduction to Jacques Derrida arguably the most important and influential European thinker of the last century Derrida claimed that However old I am I am on the threshold of reading Plato and Aristotle we need to read them again and again and again In Starting with Derrida Gaston introduces all Derrida's major works and ideas by tracing Derrida's reading and re-reading of Plato Aristotle and Hegel throughout his writings Starting with Derrida argues for the importance of the relationship between philosophy literature and history in Derrida's work and addresses all the key concepts in Derrida's thought including his work on time and space being and the soul sensation and thought history and literature the concept and the name The book encourages the reader to enter Derrida's varied and complex legacy through the moments in Derrida's work that are concerned with the question of origins and beginnings By actively engaging with Derrida's ideas in this way Gaston reveals a new and highly original reading of Derrida's work and provides a useful introduction to his entire corpus This exciting new book is essential reading for students of philosophy and literary theory and indeed anyone interested in the work of this hugely important thinker
