Construction of the Façade Systems Ingrid Paoletti, Massimiliano Nastri, 2023-12-04 The book explores the advanced fa ade systems according to the productive and constructive contents in a cognitive and operative form as a manual text to provide guidelines for researchers technicians and professionals It provides operational guidance for the technological design production planning and site executive coordination for the realization of fa ade systems The analysis deals with the main building elements and technical interfaces The study of the fa ade systems after explaining the anchoring structures and their connections to the load bearing elements investigates the criteria for the assembly between the framings In particular the book examines the technical interfaces of the main advanced envelope systems with respect to the functional constructive and applicative coordination procedures of the mullions and transoms framing of the structural sealant glazing fa ade system of the unit fa ade system of the suspended fa ade system and of the double skin fa ade system The technical and manual character of the book is also expressed through the analysis of the functional and application procedures of the gaskets with respect to the fa ade systems in order to prevent the transmission of air and water loads the analysis focuses on the connections between the framing and the enclosure elements of the envelope in accordance with the compensation of height differences in order to guarantee impermeability airtightness and insulation Then the book describes the assembly and interface conditions between elements of different composition and production within the fa ade systems the examination of the technical interfaces involves the development and application of sealants based on the loads exerted on the jointing devices in order to fulfill the requirements of sealing and tightness with respect to mechanical thermal and hygrometric water air and wind stresses Moreover the study of the envelope systems examines the methodologies directed toward fulfilling the requirements with respect to the actions caused by fire loads considering the contents related to both components and connections and fixing surfaces

Modern Constuction: Facades Andrew Watts, 2005 Modern Construction Facades is a guide for practitioners of architecture as well as structural and environmental engineers who wish to broaden their study beyond the information provided in the Walls chapter of the Modern Construction Handbook The six chapters in this new handbook examine facades from the standpoint of the primary material used in their construction from metal to glass concrete masonry plastics and wood Each entry explains a specific form of construction and is accompanied by annotated details

The Construction of New Buildings Behind Historic Facades Mr David Highfield, 1991-03-14 Facade retention schemes are increasingly being used as a means of providing modern accommodation for commercial and industrial buildings in conservation areas and city centres This book is the first authoritative guide to this highly complex technique and deals with the key issues associated with building behind historic facades It explains the Construction Matters Stefan Holzer, Silke Langenberg, Clemens Knobling, Orkun Kasap, 2025-03-04 Construction History Construction Heritage Recent Construction Historiography Industrialization Engineering Sciences Building Materials Building Actors Construction History is still a fairly new and small but quickly evolving field The current trends in Construction History are well reflected in the papers of the present conference Construction History has strong roots in the historiography of the 19th century and the evolution of industrialization but the focus of our research field has meanwhile shifted notably to include more recent and also more distant histories as well This is reflected in these conference proceedings where 65 out of 148 contributed papers deal with the built heritage or building actors of the 20th or 21st century The conference also mirrors the wide spectrum of documentary and analytical approaches comprised within the discipline of Construction History Papers dealing with the technical and functional analysis of specific buildings or building types are complemented by other studies focusing on the lives and formation of building actors from laborers to architects and engineers from economical aspects to social and political implications on legal aspects and the strong ties between the history of construction and the history of engineering sciences The conference integrates perfectly into the daily work at the Institute for Preservation and Construction History at ETH Zurich Its two chairs the Chair for Building Archaeology and Construction History and the Chair for Construction Heritage and Preservation endeavor to cover the entire field and to bridge the gaps between the different approaches methodologies and disciplines between various centuries as well as technologies learning together and from each other The proceedings of 8ICCH give a representative picture of the state of the art in the field and will serve as a reference point for future studies Facade Construction Manual Thomas Herzog, Roland Krippner, Werner Lang, 2012-12-10 Facades they are the first feature of a building to be noticed they determine its distinctive appearance and are often the subject of controversial debate This new first edition of the Facade Construction Manual provides a systematic survey of contemporary expertise in the application of new materials and energy efficient technologies in facade design and represents an invaluable addition to our series of Construction Manuals It surveys the facade design requirements made by various types of buildings as well as the most important materials from natural stone through to synthetics and documents a diversity of construction forms for a wide range of building types Over 100 international case studies in large scale detailed drawings are presented in the comprehensive project section Modern Structural Design Andrew Watts, 2022-08-22 Newer buildings often have complex geometries They require ample structural implementation of the architectural design which is often costlier than it should be The right expertise is needed in order to choose a construction approach that is safe yet economical and fully adequate to the design demands In a continuation of Modern Construction Case Studies which focused on complex preliminary design Modern Structural Design presents illustrative case studies of how complex innovative construction systems have been successfully implemented They are presented with the aid of texts drawings and 3D renderings What Is Cosmopolitical Design? Design, Nature and the Built Environment Albena Yaneva,Alejandro Zaera-Polo,2017-05-15 The scale of ecological crises made us realize that every kind of politics has always been cosmopolitics politics of a cosmos Cosmos embraces everything including the multifarious natural and material entities that make humans act The book examines cosmopolitics in its relation to design practice Abandoning the modernist idea of nature as being external to the human experience a nature that can be mastered by engineers and scientists from outside the cosmopolitical thinking offers designers to embark in an active process of manipulating and reworking nature from within To engage in cosmopolitics this book argues means to redesign create instigate and compose every single feature of our common experience In the light of this new understanding of nature we set the questions What is the role of design if nature is no longer salient enough to provide a background for human activities How can we foster designers own force and make present what causes designers to think feel and act How do designers make explicit the connection of humans to a variety of entities with different ontology rivers species particles materials and forces How do they redefine political order by bringing together stars prions and people In effect how should we understand design practice in its relation to the material and the living world In this volume anthropologists science studies scholars political scientists and sociologists rethink together the meaning of cosmopolitics for design At the same time designers architects and artists engage with the cosmopolitical question in trying to imagine the future of architectural and urban design The book contains original empirical chapters and a number of revealing interviews with artists and designers whose practices set examples of cosmopolitically correct design Modern Environmental Design Andrew Watts,2022-08-22 Well being in a building depends on a number of factors Visuals ventilation heat cooling and acoustics are all key Its efficiency relates not only to the design of a building it can also be optimized and automated using the latest technologies and innovative environmentally friendly low tech solutions To build upon and add to the successful Modern Construction Handbook Andrew Watts details innovative and established examples of interior design in Modern Environmental Design These are presented with the aid of texts drawings and 3D renderings Basics Facade Apertures Roland Krippner,Florian Musso,2017-05-22 Facade apertures represent the realm of the exterior wall or facade which establishes the connection between inside and out and makes it possible to illuminate and ventilate the spaces behind it This volume deals with the various forms of openings such as doors windows ventilation elements and fixed glass panes and their materialization which also varies according to function special attention is given to the subject of edges Themes Types and positions of openings Technical requirements Construction types Connections edges Contemporary Curtain Wall Architecture Scott Charles Murray,2009-10-07 In Contemporary Curtain Wall Architecture building technology historian and architect Scott Murray traces the evolution of the curtain wall from early skeleton frame structures of the past to today s complex and technologically advanced configurations Presenting twenty four detailed case studies of exemplary structures completed in the last decade he reveals the curtain wall as one of the most enduring and malleable concepts of contemporary architecture capable of adapting intelligently to site constraints utilizing resources efficiently and offering unprecedented opportunities for innovations in digital design and fabrication material detailing and aesthetic expression Book Jacket
