on major themes awards won and recommended age levels Evaluating Books for Bias provides helpful guidelines for examining and selecting books from a pluralistic perspective Appendices offer further helpful information about the field including special awards honoring books by Latinas and Latinos a calendar of holidays and special days celebrated by the Latino community and listings of related resources and organizations The author has also compiled ideas for classroom activities and ways for librarians to extend the literary experience A title index and extensive topic index including themes curricular areas and genres help in planning story sessions and study units This is a multipurpose resource for anyone who wants to help young readers connect with contemporary literature in a meaningful way Hurt and Pain Susannah B. Mintz, 2013-12-05 Hurt and Pain Literature and the Suffering Body examines the strategies authors have used to portray bodies in pain drawing on a diverse range of literary texts from the seventeenth century to the present day Susannah B Mintz provides readings of canonical writers including John Donne Emily Dickinson and Samuel Beckett alongside contemporary writers such as Ana Castillo and Margaret Edson focusing on how pain is shaped according to the conventions and also experiments of genre poetry memoir drama and fiction With insights from disability theory and recent studies of the language of pain Mintz delivers an important corrective to our most basic fears of physical suffering revealing through literature that pain can be a source of connection compassion artistry and knowledge Not only an important investigation of authors formal and rhetorical choices Hurt and Pain reveals how capturing pain in literature can become a fundamental component of crafting human experience Reading Chican@ Like a Queer Sandra K. Soto, 2010-01-01 A race based oppositional paradigm has informed Chicano studies since its emergence In this work Sandra K Soto replaces that paradigm with a less didactic more flexible framework geared for a queer analysis of the discursive relationship between racialization and sexuality Through rereadings of a diverse range of widely discussed writers from Am rico Paredes to Cherr e Moraga Soto demonstrates that representations of racialization actually depend on the sexual and that a racialized sexuality is a heretofore unrecognized organizing principle of Chican literature even in the most unlikely texts Soto gives us a broader and deeper engagement with Chican representations of racialization desire and both inter and intracultural social relations While several scholars have begun to take sexuality seriously by invoking the rich terrain of contemporary Chicana feminist literature for its portrayal of culturally specific and historically laden gender and sexual frameworks as well as for its imaginative transgressions against them this is the first study to theorize racialized sexuality as pervasive to and enabling of the canon of Chican literature Exemplifying the broad usefulness of queer theory by extending its critical tools and anti heteronormative insights to racialization Soto stages a crucial intervention amid a certain loss of optimism that circulates both as a fear that queer theory was a fad whose time has passed and that queer theory is incapable of offering an incisive politically grounded analysis in and of the current historical moment Negotiating Feminisms Eilidh AB Hall, 2021-03-04 Negotiating Feminisms examines intergenerational feminism in Chicanx family life It analyses literary representations of the ways that Chicanas negotiate feminisms in the family across generations through the maintenance contestation and adaptation of traditional gender roles Using an original theoretical lens of negotiation to read the works of Ana Castillo and Sandra Cisneros this book unpacks intergenerational resistance to patriarchal oppression This book shows how the works of Cisneros and Castillo articulate a politics of negotiation that critiques the gendered ideologies and roles of the family In doing so the book s discussion not only engages with literary representations but also connects these representations to the contextual experience of Chicana family life This book calls for a rethinking of women characters beyond limited and limiting familial roles and uses the framework of feminist negotiation as a means to explore the empowering possibilities of intergenerational female relationships

Castillo,2009-03-12 Mixing the lyrical with the colloquial the tender with the tough Ana Castillo has a deserved reputation as one of the country s most powerful and entrancing novelists but she began her literary career as a poet of uncompromising commitment and passion My Father Was a Toltec is the sassy and street wise collection of poems that established and secured Castillo s place in the popular canon It is included here in its entirety along with the best of her early poems Ana Castillo s poetry speaks in English and Spanish to every reader who has felt the pangs of exile the uninterrupted joy of love and the deep despair of love lost Velvet Barrios Alicia Gasper De Alba,2016-04-30 In Chicana o popular culture nothing signifies the working class highly layered textured and metaphoric sensibility known as rasquache aesthetic more than black velvet art The essays in this volume examine that aesthetic by looking at icons heroes cultural myths popular rituals and border issues as they are expressed in a variety of ways The contributors dialectically engage methods of popular cultural studies with discourses of gender sexuality identity politics representation and cultural production In addition to a hagiography of locas santas the book includes studies of the sexual politics of early Chicana activists in the Chicano youth movement the representation of Latina bodies in popular magazines the stereotypical renderings of recipe books and calendar art the ritual performance of Mexican femaleness in the quincea era and mediums through which Chicano masculinity is measured Cooking Lessons Sherrie A. Inness,2001 Meatloaf fried chicken Jell O cake because foods are so very common we rarely think about them much in depth The authors of Cooking Lessons however believe that food is deserving of our critical scrutiny and that such analysis yields many important lessons about American society and its values

This book explores the relationship between food and gender. Contributors draw from diverse sources both contemporary and historical and look at women from various cultural backgrounds including Hispanic, traditional southern White, and African American. Each chapter focuses on a certain food, teasing out its cultural meanings and showing its effect on women's identity and lives. For example, food has often offered women a traditional way to gain power and influence in their households and larger communities. For women without access to other forms of creative expression, preparing a superior cake or batch of fried chicken was a traditional way to display their talent in an acceptable venue. On the other hand, foods and the stereotypes attached to them have also been used to keep women and men too from different races, ethnicities, and social classes in their place.
