Rhetoric Rhetoricians And Poets:

Rhetoric, Rhetoricians, and Poets Marijke Spies, A. van Strien, 1999 The Netherlandish rhetoricians of the sixteenth century have in the course of the last decades shed their image of third rate poets who lacking all sense of true beauty were capable only of pompous verbosity and a shallow manipulation of form The new scholarly assessment has also shed light on the role they played in the cultural and literary life of their time and it now appears that many of their dramas are well worth staging Once the sixteenth century was freed from the stigma of being the preparatory phase for the Golden Age the way was clear for thorough studies of the literature produced during the most turbulent period in the history of the Low Countries This volume contains essays which deal with works written not only in Dutch but also in French and in New Latin with topics ranging from the effects of poetic principles on literary practice to the use of poetry as a means for improving society and developing the individual The unifying thread in these studies is the pivotal importance of rhetoric in all forms of literary expression

Classical Rhetoric in English Poetry Brian Vickers, 1989 Back in print after 17 years this is a concise history of rhetoric as it relates to structure genre and style with special reference to English literature and literary criticism from Ancient Greece to the end of the 18th century The core of the book is a quite original argument that the figures of rhetoric were not mere mechanical devices were not as many believed a nuisance a quite sterile appendage to rhetoric to which unaccountably teachers pupils and writers all over the world devoted much labor for over 2 000 years Rather Vickers demonstrates rhetoric was a stylized representation of language and human feelings Vickers supplements his argument through analyses of the rhetorical and emotional structure of four Renaissance poems He also defines 16 of the most common figures of rhetoric citing examples from the classics the Bible and major English poets from Chaucer to Pope

The Rhetoric of Exemplarity in Early Modern England Michael Ulliot, 2022 This book investigates the role of exemplarity as a rhetorical device in late Elizabethan and Jacobean literature and culture Ulliot argues that exemplarity is driven by both reader and author and that positive moral examples were presented as aspirational models in posthumous biography

Robert Burton's Rhetoric Susan Wells, 2019-08-30 Published in five editions between 1621 and 1651 The Anatomy of Melancholy marks a unique moment in the development of disciplines when fields of knowledge were distinct but not yet restrictive In Robert Burton's Rhetoric Susan Wells analyzes the Anatomy demonstrating how its early modern practices of knowledge and persuasion can offer a model for transdisciplinary scholarship today In the first decades of the seventeenth century Robert Burton attempted to gather all the existing knowledge about melancholy drawing from professional discourses including theology medicine and philology as well as the emerging sciences Examining this text through a rhetorical lens Wells provides an account of these disciplinary exchanges in all their subtle variety and abundant wit showing that questions of how knowledge is organized and how it is made persuasive are central to rhetorical theory Ultimately Wells argues that in addition to a book about melancholy Burton's Anatomy is a meditation on knowledge A fresh interpretation of The Anatomy of Melancholy this volume will be welcomed by scholars of early modern English and the rhetorics of health and medicine as well as those interested in transdisciplinary work and rhetorical theory

DiFuria,Walter Melion,2021-12-20 In epideictic oratory ekphrasis is typically identified as an advanced rhetorical exercise that verbally reproduces the experience of viewing a person place or thing more specifically it often purports to replicate the experience of viewing a work of art Not only what was seen but also how it was beheld and the emotions attendant upon first viewing it are implicitly construed as recoverable indeed reproducible This volume examines how and why many early modern pictures operate in an ekphrastic mode such pictures claim to reconstitute works of art that solely survived in the textual form of an ekphrasis or they invite the beholder to respond to a picture in the way s/he responds to a stirring verbal image or they call attention to their status as an image in the way that ekphrasis as a rhetorical figure makes one conscious of the process of image making or finally they foreground the artist's or the viewer's agency in the way that the rhetor or auditor is adduced as agent of the image being verbally produced Contributors Carol Elaine Barbour Ivana Biak Letha Chien James Clifton Teresa Clifton Karl Enenkel Arthur DiFuria Christopher Heuer Barbara Kaminska Annie Maloney Annie McEwen Walter Melion Lars Cyril Nrgaard Dawn Odell April Oettinger Shelley Perlove Stephanie Porras Femke Speelberg Caecilie Weissert Elliott Wise and Steffen Zierholz The hurt(ful) body Tomas Macsotay,Cornelis van der Haven,Karel Vanhaesebrouck,2017-07-21 This book offers a cross disciplinary approach to pain and suffering in the early modern period based on research in the fields of literary studies art history theatre studies cultural history and the study of emotions The volume's two fold approach to the hurt body defining hurt from the perspectives of both victim and beholder as well as their combined creation of a gaze is unique It establishes a double perspective about the riddle of cruel viewing by tracking the shifting cultural meanings of victims bodies and confronting them with the values of audiences religious and popular institutional settings and practices of punishment It encompasses both the victim's presence as an image or performed event of pain and the conundrum of the look the transmitted pain experienced by the watching audience Homer the

Rhetorician Baukje van den Berg, 2022-06-23 Homer the Rhetorician is the first monograph study devoted to the monumental Commentary on the Iliad by Eustathios of Thessalonike one of the most renowned orators and teachers of the Byzantine twelfth century Homeric poetry was a fixture in the Byzantine educational curriculum and enjoyed special popularity under the Komnenian emperors For Eustathios Homer was the supreme paradigm of eloquence and wisdom Writing for an audience of aspiring or practising prose writers he explains in his commentary what it is that makes Homer's composition so successful in rhetorical terms This study explores the exemplary qualities that Eustathios recognizes in the poet as author and the Iliad as rhetorical masterpiece In this way it advances our understanding of the rhetorical thought of a leading intellectual and the role of a cultural authority as respected as Homer in one of the most fertile periods in Byzantine literary history Lectures on Rhetoric and Belles Lettres Hugh Blair, 1826 Staging Vice Charlotte Steenbrugge, 2014-05-10 Characters representing various sins and vices became the stars of their respective theatrical traditions in the course of the late medieval and early modern period in both the Low Countries and England This study assesses the importance of such characters and especially the English Vice and Dutch sinnekens for our understanding of medieval and sixteenth century Dutch and English drama by charting diachronic developments and through synchronic comparisons The analysis of the functions as well as theatrical and meta theatrical aspects of these characters reveals how these plays were conditioned by their literary and social setting It sheds invaluable light on the subtly divergent appreciation of the concept of drama in these two regions and on their different use of drama as a didactic tool In a wider perspective this study also investigates how the moral plays and their negative characters reflect the changes in the intellectual and religious climate of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Achebe the Orator Chinwe Okechukwu, 2001-03-30 Taken together Chinua Achebe's five novels Things Fall Apart 1958 No Longer at Ease 1960 A Man of the People 1966 Arrow of God 1967 and Anthills of the Savannah 1988 encompass the entire social historical and political experiences of Nigeria from precolonial times to the close of the 20th century Central to these experiences is the clash of Igbo culture with the ways of the West The novels show a society that has been fragmented and a people who are striving to reconstruct a world that they lost during their encounter with colonialism Achebe has stated that his main purpose for writing is to reveal the truth about his people and their culture This book examines his use of rhetoric to accomplish that objective Achebe's writings are fraught with rhetorical devices and he has harnessed the power of oratory to show how his society has responded to the African colonial encounter and its aftermath He uses oratory and rhetoric to both educate and persuade his readers and to delineate his characters Because of the central role of language in his novels his writings illustrate the nature of discourse among the Igbo as well as the larger Nigerian community This volume presents a broad overview of rhetoric throughout Achebe's works and demonstrates how he uses the novel genre for persuasive purposes A Companion to Rhetoric and Rhetorical Criticism Walter Jost, Wendy Olmsted, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Rhetoric offers the first major survey in two decades of the field of
