Shepherd Of The Ocean An Account Of Sir Walter Raleigh And His Times:

The Shepherd of the Ocean Jack H. Adamson, H. F. Folland, 1969 Walter Raleigh's History of the World and the Historical Culture of the Late Renaissance Nicholas Popper, 2022-12-22 Imprisoned in the Tower of London after the death of Queen Elizabeth in 1603 Sir Walter Raleigh spent seven years producing his massive History of the World Created with the aid of a library of more than five hundred books that he was allowed to keep in his quarters this incredible work of English vernacular would become a best seller with nearly twenty editions abridgments and continuations issued in the years that followed Nicholas Popper uses Raleigh's History as a touchstone in this lively exploration of the culture of history writing and historical thinking in the late Renaissance From Popper we learn why early modern Europeans ascribed heightened value to the study of the past and how scholars and statesmen began to see historical expertise as not just a foundation for political practice and theory but as a means of advancing their power in the courts and councils of contemporary Europe The rise of historical scholarship during this period encouraged the circulation of its methods to other disciplines transforming Europe's intellectual and political regimes More than a mere study of Raleigh's History of the World Popper's book reveals how the methods that historians devised to illuminate the past structured the dynamics of early modernity in Europe and England

Allegory, Space and the Material World in the Writings of Edmund Spenser Christopher Burlinson,2006 An examination of the way in which the material world is depicted in The Faerie Queene This book provides a radical reassessment of Spenserian allegory in particular of The Faerie Queene in the light of contemporary historical and theoretical interests in space and material culture It explores the ambiguous and fluctuating attention to materiality objects and substance in the poetics of The Faerie Queene and discusses the way that Spenser s creation of allegorical meaning makes use of this materiality and transforms it It suggests further that a critical engagement with materiality which has been so important to the recent study of early modern drama must come in the case of allegorical narrative through a study of narrative and physical space and in this context it goes on to provide a reading of the spatial dimensions of the poem quests and battles forests castles and hovels and the spatial characteristics of Spenser s other writings The book reaffirms the need to place Spenser in his historical contexts philosophical and scientific military and architectural in early modern England Ireland and Europe but also provides a critical reassessment of this literary historicism Dr CHRISTOPHER BURLINSON is a Research Fellow in English at Emmanuel College Cambridge
