Shifting The Blame How Victimization Became A Criminal Defense:

Shifting the Blame Saundra Davis Westervelt, 1998 More than just a study of legal history Shifting the Blame looks at the abuse excuse defense as an indicator of broad social change in cultural understandings of victimization responsibility and womanhood The introduction of victimization as an exculpatory condition within the context of a criminal defense tells the story of a society that has accepted victimization as a new way of explaining and excusing misbehavior Through case law analysis the book documents the initial development of the strategy in three different types of cases in the 1970s rotten social background brainwashing and battered women s self defense cases Since its initial acceptance in battered women s cases in the early 1980s the use of the strategy has expanded to a variety of offenders in different types of relationships arguing different defenses In lively readable prose Westervelt examines each form of expansion revealing that while the expansion of the strategy has been fairly extensive it has also been limited in some important ways Her research shows readers that only certain types of victims particularly victims of physical abuse have successfully used this defense Shifting the Blame exposes the ways in which the acceptance of this new defense strategy illuminates a cultural shift in understandings of individual responsibility and shows how the law plays a role in defining who can be an acceptable victim

Saundra D Westervelt is an assistant professor in the Sociology Department at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Courtroom 302 Steve Bogira, 2011-12-14 Steve Bogira s riveting book takes us into the heart of America s criminal justice system Courtroom 302 is the story of one year in one courtroom in Chicago s Cook County Criminal Courthouse the busiest felony courthouse in the country We see the system through the eyes of the men and women who experience it not only in the courtroom but in the lockup the jury room the judge s chambers the spectators gallery When the judge and his staff go to the scene of the crime during a burglary trial we go with them on the sheriff s bus We witness from behind the scenes the highest profile case of the year three young white men one of them the son of a reputed mobster charged with the racially motivated beating of a thirteen year old black boy And we follow the cases that are the daily grind of the court like that of the middle aged man whose crack addiction brings him repeatedly back before the judge Bogira shows us how the war on drugs is choking the system and how in most instances justice is dispensed as under the circumstances it must be rapidly and mindlessly The stories that unfold in the courtroom are often tragic but they no longer seem so to the people who work there Says a deputy in 302 You hear this stuff every day and you re like Let s go let s go let s get this over with and move on to the next thing Steve Bogira is as Robert Caro says a masterful reporter His special gift is his understanding of people and his ability to make us see and understand them Fast paced gripping and bursting with character and incident Courtroom 302 is a unique illumination of our criminal court system that raises fundamental issues of race civil rights and justice

The Victimization of Women Michelle L. Meloy, Susan L. Miller, 2010-12-24 In The Victimization of Women Michelle Meloy and Susan Miller present a balanced and comprehensive summary of the most significant research on the victimizations violence and victim politics that disproportionately affect women They examine the history of violence against women the surrounding debates the legal reforms the related media and social service responses and the current science on intimate partner violence stalking sexual harassment sexual assault and rape They augment these victimization findings with original research on women convicted of domestic battery and men convicted of sexual abuse and other sex related offenses In these new data the authors explore the unanticipated consequences associated with changes to the laws governing domestic violence and the newer forms of sex offender legislation Based on qualitative data involving in depth offender based interviews and analyzing the circumstances surrounding arrests victimizations and experiences with the criminal justice system The Victimization of Women makes great strides forward in understanding and ultimately combating violence against women

New Visions of Crime Victims Carolyn Hoyle, Richard Young, 2002-08-14 This innovative collection presents original theoretical analyses and previously unpublished empirical research on criminal victimisation Following an overview of the development and deficiencies of victimology subsequent chapters present more detailed challenges to stereotypical conceptions of victimisation through their focus on male victims of domestic violence victims of male on male rape corporate victims and the victim offenders who are the recipients of IRA punishment beatings The second half of the book considers criminal justice responses to victimisation focusing in particular on the potential of and limits to restorative justice the social and gendered construction of the victim within contested trials and the exclusionary nature of current victim centred initiatives This important book will further the debate on how we conceptualise victims as well as their appropriate role within the criminal justice system New Visions of Crime Victims will be of interest to academics students criminal justice practitioners and policy makers It has particular implications for scholarship in the fields of victimology restorative justice and feminist approaches to criminology and criminal justice The integration of work by established criminologists such as Carolyn Hoyle Paul Rock Andrew Sanders and Richard Young with that of young previously unpublished scholars makes for an interesting and stimulating book As well as being a valuable addition to the literature it can be used to support undergraduate and postgraduate courses in criminal justice and criminology
