Gender, Narrative, and Dissonance in the Modern Italian Novel Silvia Valisa, 2014-11-05 Combining close textual readings with a broad theoretical perspective Gender Narrative and Dissonance in the Modern Italian Novel is a study of the ways in which gender shapes the principal characters and narratives of seven important Italian novels of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries from Alessandro Manzoni s I promessi sposi 1827 to Elsa Morante s Aracoeli 1982 Silvia Valisa s innovative approach focuses on the tensions between the characters and the gender ideologies that surround them and the ways in which this dissonance exposes the ideological and epistemological structures of the modern novel A provocative account of the intersection between gender narrative and epistemology that draws on the work of Georg Lukács Barbara Spackman and Teresa de Lauretis this volume offers an intriguing new approach to investigating the nature of fiction The Prodigious Muse Virginia Cox, 2011-09-01 Winner 2012 Book Award Society for the Study of Early Modern Women Honorable Mention Literature 2012 PROSE Awards Professional and Scholarly Publishing Division of the Association of American Publishers In her award winning critically acclaimed Women s Writing in Italy 1400 1650 Virginia Cox chronicles the history of women writers in early modern Italy who they were what they wrote where they fit in society and how their status changed during this period In this book Cox examines more closely one particular moment in this history in many ways the most remarkable for the richness and range of women s literary output A widespread critical notion sees Italian women s writing as a phenomenon specific to the peculiar literary environment of the mid sixteenth century and most scholars assume that a reactionary movement such as the Counter Reformation was unlikely to spur its development Cox argues otherwise showing that women s writing flourished in the period following 1560 reaching beyond the customary feminine genres of lyric poetry and letters to experiment with pastoral drama chivalric romance tragedy and epic There were few widely practiced genres in this eclectic phase of Italian literature to which women did not turn their hand Organized by genre and including translations of all excerpts from primary texts this comprehensive and engaging volume provides students and scholars with an invaluable resource as interest in these exceptional writers grows In addition to familiar secular works by authors such as Isabella Andreini Moderata Fonte and Lucrezia Marinella Cox also discusses important writings that have largely escaped critical interest including Fonte's and Marinella's vivid religious narratives an unfinished Amazonian epic by Maddalena Salvetti and the startlingly fresh autobiographical lyrics of Francesca Turina Bufalini Juxtaposing religious and secular writings by women and tracing their relationship to the male authored literature of the period often surprisingly affirmative in its attitudes toward women Cox reveals a new and provocative vision of the Italian Counter Reformation as a period far less uniformly repressive of women than is commonly assumed

Women's Writing in Italy, 1400-1650

Virginia Cox, 2008-06-16 Winner 2009 Best Book Award Society for the Study of Early Modern Women Winner 2008 PROSE Award for Best Book in Language Literature and Linguistics Professional and Scholarly Publishing Division of the Association of American Publishers This is the first comprehensive study of the remarkably rich tradition of women's writing that flourished in Italy between the fifteenth and early seventeenth centuries Virginia Cox documents this tradition and both explains its character and scope and offers a new hypothesis on the reasons for its emergence and decline Cox combines fresh scholarship with a revisionist argument that overturns existing historical paradigms for the chronology of early modern Italian women's writing and questions the historiographical commonplace that the tradition was brought to an end by the Counter Reformation Using a comparative analysis of women's activities as artists musicians composers and actresses Cox locates women's writing in its broader contexts and considers how gender reflects and reinvents conventional narratives of literary change

Translating the Female Self across Cultures Eliana Maestri, 2018-01-15 Translating the Female Self across Cultures examines contemporary autobiographical narratives and their Italian and French translations The comparative analyses of the texts are underpinned by the latest developments in Translation Studies that place emphasis on identity construction in translation and the role of translation in moulding various types of identity They focus on how the writers textual personae make sense of their sexual artistic and post colonial identities in relation to the mother and how the mother daughter dyad survives translation into the Italian and French social political and cultural contexts The book shows how each target text activates different cultural literary linguistic and rhetorical frames of reference which cast light on the facets of the protagonists quest for identity the cult of the Madonna humour and irony gender and class mimesis and storytelling performativity and geographical sense of self The book highlights the fruitfulness of studying women's narratives and their translations and the polyphonic dialogue between the translations and the literary and theoretical productions of the French and Italian cultures

Petrarch and the Making of Gender

in Renaissance Italy Shannon McHugh, 2025-10-01 This book is a new history of early modern gender told through the lyric poetry of Renaissance Italy In the evolution of Western gender roles the Italian Renaissance was a watershed moment when a confluence of cultural developments disrupted centuries of Aristotelian binary thinking Men and women living through this upheaval exploited Petrarchism's capacity for subjective expression and experimentation as well as its status as the most accessible of genres in order to imagine new gendered possibilities in realms such as marriage war and religion One of the first studies to examine writing by early modern Italian men and women together it is also a revolutionary testament to poetry's work in the world These poets' works challenge the traditional boundaries drawn around lyric's utility They show us how poems could be sites of resistance against the pervading social order how they are texts capable not only of recording social history but also of shaping it La madre del Signore nella letteratura italiana del Novecento Giovanni d'Onofrio De Meo, Mario Aversano, 2005
