Elementary and Middle School Mathematics John A. Van de Walle,1998 John A Van de Walle has written a book that helps readers make sense of mathematics and become confident in their ability to teach mathematics to children K to 8

Elementary and Middle School Mathematics consists of 16 chapters reflecting the view that all mathematics can be taught through a problem solving approach that motivates children and builds their confidence as they learn. This book thoroughly discusses the new standards and clearly develops four key aspects of teaching mathematics: the nature of mathematics as a science of pattern and order; an understanding of how children learn mathematics; a problem solving view of teaching mathematics; and specific methods for integrating assessment with instruction. Simple yet effective classroom activities are woven throughout the chapters as well as suggestions for technology and literature.

Teaching Children Science Joseph S. Krajcik, Charlene Czerniak, Carl Berger, 1999. This brand new elementary science methods text uses an innovative applied approach and is authored by three leaders in the field. The text takes a constructivist approach and practices this approach by engaging students in reflective thought and investigations. Project based science engages young learners in exploring authentic important and meaningful questions of real concern to students. Through a dynamic process of investigation and collaboration and using the same processes and technologies that real scientists use, students work in teams to formulate questions, make predictions, design investigations, collect and analyze data, make products and share ideas. Students learn fundamental science concepts and principles that they apply to their daily lives. Project based science helps all students regardless of culture, race, or gender engage in science learning. The book is packed with numerous examples so that the reader can easily understand points that are made throughout the book. Each chapter has activity boxes with experiments that exemplify the project based approach. The book provides useful tips, charts, diagrams, and tables that illustrate how to get children doing investigations. The text's dynamic teaching methods match all of today's major science education reports including The National Science Education Standards, Project 2061, Science for All Americans, and Benchmarks for Science Literacy.
