Marriage, the Church, and its Judges in Renaissance Venice, 1420-1545 Cecilia Cristellon, 2017-04-21 This book investigates the actions of marriage tribunals by analyzing the richest source of marriage suits extant in Italy those of the Venetian ecclesiastical tribunal between 1420 and the opening of the Council of Trent. It offers a strongly representative overview of the changes the Council introduced to centuries old marriage practices relegating it to the realm of marginality and deviance and nearly erasing the memory of it altogether. From the eleventh century onward the Church assured itself of a jurisdictional monopoly over the matter of marriage operating both in concert and in conflict with secular authorities by virtue of marriage's civil consequences the first of which regarded the legitimacy of children. Secular tribunals were responsible for patrimonial matters between spouses though the Church at times inserted itself into these matters either directly by substituting itself for the secular authority or indirectly by influencing Rulings through their own sentences. Lay magistratures for their part somewhat eroded the authority of ecclesiastical tribunals by continuing to exercise autonomous jurisdiction over marriage especially regarding separation and crimes strictly connected to the nuptial bond and its definition including adultery bigamy and rape.

Matrimoni medievali Ermanno Orlando, 2024-03-25T14:56:00+01:00 Prima che il concilio di Trento 1563 lo codificasse rigidamente nel basso medioevo il matrimonio mantenne a lungo una natura laica mutevole e versatile caratterizzata da una grande variabilit  di pratiche e modelli. Pare quindi pi  opportuno parlare di matrimoni al plurale abbandonando la visione univoca dell'istituto affermata solo dopo Trento. Nel volume si far  pertanto ampio riferimento non solo ai matrimoni legittimi e codificati ma anche all'esteso ventaglio di quelli incerti e irregolari come i matrimoni a tempo le unioni di fatto i matrimoni plurimi le convivenze more uxorio o i rapporti concubinari. Si passeranno in rassegna le diverse forme di unioni trasgressive dal ratto all'adulterio dai matrimoni finti e simulati sino a quelli violenti e forzati si rifletter  infine sulle forme proibite o a stento tollerate come i matrimoni interconfessionali la promiscuit  interreligiosa e le unioni con gli esclusi e i marginali.

Women and Jewish Marriage Negotiations in Early Modern Italy Howard Tzvi Adelman, 2017-12-15 This book examines the role of women in Jewish family negotiations using the setting of Italy from the end of the Renaissance to the Baroque. In ghettos at night and under the scrutiny of inquisitions Jews flourished. Life and learning were enriched by Jews from the Iberian Peninsula the Ottoman Empire transalpine Europe west and east and Catholic neighbors. Rabbinic discourse represented conflicting customs in family formation and dissolution especially at moments of crisis for women forced betrothal physical mental and financial abuse polygamy and abandonment. In this book case studies illustrate the ambiguity drama and danger to which women were exposed as well as opportunities to make their voices heard and to extricate themselves from situations by forcing a divorce collecting or seizing assets and going to Catholic notaries to bequeath their assets outside traditional inheritance often to other women. Despite intrusion by rabbis their ability for coercion was limited and their threats of punishments reflected the rhetoric of weakness rather than realistic options for implementation The focus of this text is not what the law says but rather how it enabled individual Jews especially women to speak and to act

Itineraries and Languages of Madness in the Early Modern World Mariana Labarca, 2021-07-05 Drawing on a wide range of sources including interdiction procedures records of criminal justice documentation from mental hospitals and medical literature this book provides a comprehensive study of the spaces in which madness was recorded in Tuscany during the eighteenth century It proposes the notion of itineraries of madness which intended as an heuristic device enables us to examine records of madness across the different spaces where it was disclosed casting light on the connections between how madness was understood and experienced the language employed to describe it and public and private responses devised to cope with it Placing the emotional experience of the Tuscan families at the core of its analysis this book stresses the central role of families in the shaping of new understandings of madness and how lay notions interacted with legal and medical knowledge It argues that perceptions of madness in the eighteenth century were closely connected to new cultural concerns regarding family relationships and family roles which resulted in a shift in the meanings of and attitudes to mental disturbances

Gender and Family Networks in Early Modern Italy Megan Moran, 2025-10-01 Women from the Ricasoli and Spinelli families formed a wide variety of social networks within and beyond Florence through their letters as they negotiated interpersonal relationships and lineage concerns to actively contribute to their families in early modern Italy Women were located at the center of social networks through their work in bridging their natal and marital families cultivating commercial contacts negotiating family obligations and the demands of religious institutions facilitating introductions for family and friends and forming political patronage ties This book argues that a network model offers a framework of analysis in which to deconstruct patriarchy as a single system of institutionalized dominance in early modern Italy Networks account for female agency as an interactive force that shaped the kinships ties affective relationships material connections and political positions of these elite families as women constructed their own narratives and negotiated their own positions in family life

A Cultural History of Marriage in the Renaissance and Early Modern Age Joanne M. Ferraro, 2021-11-18 Why marry The personal question is timeless Yet the highly emotional desires of men and women during the period between 1450 and 1650 were also circumscribed by external forces that operated within a complex arena of sweeping economic demographic political and religious changes The period witnessed dramatic religious reforms in the Catholic confession and the introduction of multiple Protestant denominations the advent of the printing press European encounters and exchange with the Americas North Africa and southwestern and eastern Asia the growth of state bureaucracies and a resurgence of ecclesiastical authority in private life These developments together with social religious and cultural attitudes including the constructed norms of masculinity femininity and sexuality impinged upon the possibility of marrying The nine scholars in this volume aim to provide a comprehensive picture of current research on the cultural history of marriage for the years between 1450 and 1650 by identifying both the ideal templates for nuptial unions in prescriptive writings and artistic representation and actual practices in the spheres of courtship and marriage rites sexual relationships the formation of family networks marital dissolution and the overriding choices of individuals over the structural and cultural constraints of the time A Cultural History of Marriage in the Renaissance and Early Modern Age presents an overview of the period with essays on Courtship and Ritual Religion State and Law Kinship and Social Networks the Family Economy Love and Sex the Breaking of Vows and Representations of Marriage The Ashgate Research Companion to Women and Gender in Early Modern Europe Jane Couchman, 2016-03-23 Over the past three decades scholars have transformed the study of women and gender in early modern Europe This Ashgate Research Companion presents an authoritative review of the current research on women and gender in early modern Europe from a multi disciplinary perspective The authors examine women s lives ideologies of gender and the differences between ideology and reality through the recent research across many disciplines including history literary studies art history musicology history of science and medicine and religious studies The book is intended as a resource for scholars and students of Europe in the early modern period for those who are just beginning to explore these issues and this time period as well as for scholars learning about aspects of the field in which they are not yet an expert The companion offers not only a comprehensive examination of the current research on women in early modern Europe but will act as a spark for new research in the field

Acculturation and Its Discontents David H. Myers, David N. Myers, Massimo Ciavolella, Peter Reill, Geoffrey Symcox, 2008-01-01 Exploring the fascinating cross cultural influences between Jews and Christians in Italy from the Renaissance to the twentieth century Acculturation and Its Discontents assembles essays by leading historians literary scholars and musicologists to present a well rounded history of Italian Jewry The contributors offer rich portraits of the many vibrant forms of cultural and artistic expression that Italian Jews contributed to but this volume also pays close attention to the ways in which Italian Jews both freely and under pressure creatively adapted to the social cultural and legal norms of the surrounding society Tracing both the triumphs and tragedies of Jewish communities within Italy over a broad span of time Acculturation and Its Discontents challenges conventional assumptions about assimilation and state intervention and in the process charts the complex process of cultural exchange that left such a distinctive imprint not only on Italian Jewry but also on Italian society itself This collection of rigorous and thought provoking essays makes a major contribution to both the history of Italian culture and the cultural influence and significance of European Jews Husbands, Wives, and Concubines Emlyn Eisenach, 2004-06-01 Emlyn Eisenach uses a wide range of sources including the richly detailed and previously unexplored records of nearly two hundred marriage related disputes from the bishop s court of Verona to illuminate family and social relations in early modern northern Italy Arguing against the common emphasis on the growth of law and government in this period her study emphasizes the fluidity of the principles that governed marriage and its dissolution and deepens our understanding of the patriarchal family and its complex relationship with gender and status

during the sixteenth century Peopled by characters from across the social spectrum of the city of Verona and its contado Eisenach s study moves between stories about specific individuals serving girls seeking honorable marriage through the unlikely route of concubinage peasant men in search of independence from their fathers and aristocratic wives seeking revenge against adulterous husbands and broader analyses of social economic and geographical patterns of behavior She shows how the Veronese at all social levels attempted to better their familial and personal fortunes by creatively molding wedding rituals to fit their particular circumstances or engaging in the significant but until now little understood practices of concubinage clandestine marriage or informal marriage dissolution Eisenach also evaluates the first half century of religious reforms in Verona as the leading pre Tridentine bishop Gian Matteo Giberti and his successors challenged common practices and understandings in sermons treatises confessionals and court Emphasizing the limitations of what the religious authorities could impose on the people she explores how learned and popular notions of marriage family and gender shaped each other as they were put into action in the strategies of individual Veronese

Invisible Enlighteners Federica Francesconi, 2021-06-04 Federica Francesconi writes the history of the Jewish merchants who lived and prospered in the northern Italian city of Modena capital city of the Este Duchy during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Her protagonists are men and women who stood out within their communities but who despite their cultural and economic prominence were ghettoized after 1638 Their sociocultural transformation and eventual legal and political integration evolved through a complex dialogue between their Italian and Jewish identities and without the traumatic ruptures or dramatic divides that led to the assimilation and conversion of many Jews elsewhere in Europe In Modena male and female Jewish identities were contoured by both cultural developments internal to the community and engagement with the broader society The study of Lurianic and Cordoverian Kabbalah liturgical and nondevotional Hebrew poetry and Sabbateanism existed alongside interactions with Jesuits converts and inquisitors If Modenese Jewish merchants were absent from the public discourse of the Estes their businesses lives were nevertheless located at the very geographical and economic center of the city They lived in an environment that gave rise to unique forms of Renaissance culture early modern female agency and Enlightenment practice New Jewish ways of performing gender emerged in the seventeenth century giving rise to what could be called an entrepreneurial female community devoted to assisting employing and socializing in the ghetto Indeed the ghetto leadership prepared both Jewish men and women for the political and legal emancipation they would eventually obtain under Napoleon It was the cultured Modenese merchants who combined active participation in the political struggle for Italian Jewish emancipation with the creation of a special form of the Enlightenment embedded in scholarly and French oriented lay culture that emerged within the European context

Domestic Disturbances, Patriarchal Values Marianna Muravyeva, 2017-10-02 This book offers an in depth analysis of several national case studies on family violence between the sixteenth and nineteenth centuries using court records as their main source It raises important questions for research on early modern Europe the notion of absolute power sovereignty and its applicability to familial power the problem of violence and the possibility of its usage for conflict resolution both in public and private spaces and the interconnection of gender and violence against women reconsidered in the context of modern state formation as a public sphere and family building as a private sphere Contributors bring together detailed studies of domestic violence and spousal murder in Romania England and Russia abduction and forced marriage in Poland infanticide and violence against parents in Finland and rape and violence against women in Germany These case studies serve as the basis for a comparative analysis of forms models and patterns of violence within the family in the context of debates on political power absolutism and violence They highlight changes towards unlimited violence by family patriarchs in European countries in the context of the changing relationship between the state and its citizens This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of the History of the Family

The History of Families and Households: Comparative European Dimensions Silvia Sovic, Pat Thane, Pierpaolo Viazzo, 2015-11-30 The history of family and households has been the subject of intensive research for over a generation In the 1970s Peter Laslett and others set the agenda with a strong emphasis on geographical differences between northern and southern eastern and western Europe Others have challenged this view pioneering different approaches This volume takes stock of the field focussing particularly on family history in South East Europe in comparison with the rest of Europe The authors consider what European families have in common their regional and local differences and changes over time using the rich and fascinating variety of sources and methods used by family historians today Contributors include Guido Alfani Judit Ambrus Mirjana V Bobi Siegfried Gruber Peter Guzowski Violetta Hionidou Daniela Lombardi Beatrice Moring Silvia Sovi Pat Thane Alice Velkov Marta Verginella and Pier Paolo Viazzo

Opera and Sovereignty Martha

Feldman, 2010-10-05 Performed throughout Europe during the 1700s Italian heroic opera or opera seria was the century's most significant musical art form profoundly engaging such figures as Handel Haydn and Mozart Opera and Sovereignty is the first book to address this genre as cultural history arguing that eighteenth century opera seria must be understood in light of the period's social and political upheavals Taking an anthropological approach to European music that's as bold as it is unusual Martha Feldman traces Italian opera's shift from a mythical assertion of sovereignty with its festive forms and rituals to a dramatic vehicle that increasingly questioned absolute ideals She situates these transformations against the backdrop of eighteenth century Italian culture to show how opera seria both reflected and affected the struggles of rulers to maintain sovereignty in the face of a growing public sphere In so doing Feldman explains why the form had such great international success and how audience experiences of the period differed from ours today Ambitiously interdisciplinary Opera and Sovereignty will appeal not only to scholars of music and anthropology but also to those interested in theater dance and the history of the Enlightenment

Administrrating Kinship: Marriage Impediments and Dispensation Policies in the 18th and 19th Centuries Margareth Lanzinger, 2023-05-08 From the late eighteenth century more and more men and women wished to marry their cousins or in laws This aim was primarily linked to changes in marriage concepts which were increasingly based on familiarity Wealthy as well as economically precarious households counted on related marriage partners Such unions however faced centuries old marriage impediments Bridal couples had to apply for a papal dispensation This meant a hurdled lengthy and also expensive procedure This book shows that applicants in four dioceses Brixen Chur Salzburg and Trent took very different paths through the thicket of bureaucracy to achieve their goal How did they argue their marriage projects How did they succeed and why did so many fail Tenacity often proved decisive in the end
