Friction Anna Lowenhaupt Tsing, 2024-08-06 Co Winner of the Senior Book Prize American Ethnological Society What the struggle over the Indonesian rainforests can teach us about the social frictions that shape the world around us Rubbing two sticks together produces heat and light while one stick alone is just a stick It is the friction that produces movement action and effect Anthropologist Anna Lowenhaupt Tsing challenges the widespread view that globalization invariably signifies a clash of cultures developing friction as a metaphor for the diverse and conflicting social interactions that make up our contemporary world Focusing on the social drama of the Indonesian rainforests in the 1980s and 1990s she shows how a host of competing interests from environmentalists and North American investors to advocates for Brazilian rubber tappers international funding agencies and village elders are drawn into unpredictable messy misunderstandings but misunderstandings that sometimes work out Now with a new preface by the author Friction provides an invaluable portfolio of methods for the study of global interconnections Nature's Altars Susan R. Energy Humanities Imre Szeman, Dominic Boyer, 2017-04-22 Energy humanities is a field of scholarship that like medical humanities and digital humanities before it overcomes traditional boundaries between the disciplines and between academic and applied research Like its predecessors energy humanities highlights the essential contribution that the insights and methods of the human sciences can make to areas of study and analysis once thought best left to the natural sciences This isn't a case of the humanities simply helping their cross campus colleagues to learn the mechanics of communication so that they might better articulate their ideas Rather these fields of scholarship are ones that demonstrate how the scale and complexity of the issues being explored demand insights and approaches that transcend old school disciplinary boundaries Energy Humanities A Reader offers a carefully curated selection of the best and most influential work in energy humanities that has appeared over the past decade To stay true to the diverse work that makes up this emergent field selections range from anthropology and geography to philosophy history and cultural studies to recent energy focused interventions in art and literature The three readers all agree that this is an important ground breaking collection of work
