Subsidiary Strategy Paul Lyons,2023-09-18 Most books on business strategy approach the subject from a corporate perspective covering topics such as the vision for the business the marketplace competition and differentiation However the reality is that most managers work in sub units or subsidiaries of the business and they are not involved in corporate strategy formulation Their strategic concerns are with the positioning and future trajectory of their own units within the complex internal ecosystem in which they exist If these units are to survive and grow the middle managers responsible for them must plan their future maximise their value add and compete for resources within the internal market of their corporations Such internal markets are becoming increasingly volatile due to general economic conditions but also given the questioning of globalisation and increasing corporate concerns about the frailties of international supply chains as brought into sharp focus by the COVID 19 crisis and the war in Ukraine This book provides practical perspectives for these business unit managers and a step by step toolkit that can be used by management teams to develop a successful subsidiary strategy that acknowledges these challenges while maximising their contribution to corporate objectives It is based on the author s 30 years of experience as an executive in a complex multinational IBM organisation supplemented by academic study at Master s and PhD levels The material covered has been verified through workshops over a 3 year period with the senior leadership teams of over 30 multinational subsidiaries operating from Ireland Sustainability Objectives in Competition and

Intellectual Property Law Pranvera Këllezi,Pierre Kobel,Bruce Kilpatrick,2024-01-13 This open access volume of LIDC contributions focuses on how competition and intellectual property laws incorporate sustainability objectives Businesses are increasingly embracing sustainability objectives driven by the international community Although competition and intellectual property law are certainly not the only tools for addressing sustainability issues they can play a role in moving toward a more sustainable society Sustainability has gained prominence in competition law in all jurisdictions covered in this volume The contributions focus on classic questions such as whether sustainability agreements restrict competition and if so to what extent businesses can be exempted on efficiency grounds The papers also raise a number of questions in particular concerning the treatment of non market efficiencies The soft law and case law produced by competition authorities are examined and the leadership role of some competition authorities in the field from advocacy to policy papers and sustainability guidelines is highlighted The authors call for more individual guidance to provide enhanced transparency and clarity to industry advisors and society at large on sustainability issues with guidelines or sustainability related block exemptions providing even greater legal certainty With regard to intellectual property the contributions examine various important issues such as the need for intellectual property rights to remain technology neutral ways to promote the use of sustainable technologies and incentives for licensing and ways to promote the dissemination of sustainable technologies including compulsory licensing cross licensing open source or FRAND licensing and replacing the destruction of counterfeit goods with recycling The papers also discuss greenwashing and how it can be addressed through revisions to trademarks and related rights
