Karnes,Kristen R. Stephens,2005-06 Provides tips on how to start organize maintain and display a collection and includes advice from young people who are currently maintaining collections The Educational Role of the Museum Eilean Hooper-Greenhill,1999 Grounded in the strengths of its first edition this book has been restructured to include new papers and recent articles and presents front running theory and practice as it addresses the relationships of museums and galleries to their audiences DIY Programming and Book Displays Amanda Catherine Struckmeyer,Svetha Hetzler,2010-09-13 This manual guides librarians in creating simple affordable ready to use activities for children tweens teens and families with enough material for a full year of programs Do it yourself programming is an emerging model in which the librarian does the preparation then lets patrons take over DIY Programming and Book Displays How to Stretch Your Programming without Stretching Your Budget and Staff makes it easy for librarians to institute such programs in their own facilities Organized around 12 thematic chapters the book explains how to set up and maintain a do it yourself station and offers instructions for a variety of year activities Reproducible materials and booklists are included as well Librarians may use the activities as starting points for generating their own ideas or they may simply photocopy materials in the book for ready to use monthly DIY programming Once set up the DYI station is available to patrons anytime they are in the library Best of all because DIY programs do not rely on staff space or special materials they allow libraries to make the most of their resources without sacrificing patron service Counting Your Way Through 1-2-3 Cathie Hilterbran Cooper,1997 A comprehensive annotated guide to 663 counting books divided into ten subject areas Each section includes a description of the subject area an annotated bibliography of related books and a number of activities that can be used in connection with counting and math books Reproducible activity pages are included in each section Necessary Spaces Sandra Murray Nettles,2013-08-01 In Necessary Spaces Exploring the Richness of African American Childhood in the South Sandra Murray Nettles takes the reader on a journey into neighborhood networks of learning at different times and places Using autobiographical accounts Nettles discusses the informal instructional practices of community coaches from the perspective of African American adults who look back on their childhood learning experiences in homes libraries city blocks schools churches places of business and nature These eyewitness accounts reveal necessary spaces the metaphor Nettles uses to describe seven recurring experiences that converge with contemporary notions of optimal black child development connection exploration design empowerment resistance renewal and practice Nettles weaves the personal stories with social scientific theory and research and practical accounts of community based initiatives to illuminate how local communities contributed human built and natural resources to support children's achievement in schools. The inquiry offers a timely and accessible perspective on how community involvement for children can be developed utilizing the grassroots efforts of parents, children, and other neighborhood residents; expertise from personnel in schools; informal institutions such as libraries and museums; and other sectors interested in disparities in education, health, and the quality of physical settings. Grounded in the environmental memories of African American childhood, Necessary Spaces offers a culturally relevant view of civic participation and sustainable community development at the local level. Educational researchers and policy makers, pre-service and in-service teachers, and people who plan for and work with children and youth in neighborhoods will find this book an engaging look at possibilities for the social organization of educational resources. Qualitative researchers will find a model for writing personal scholarly essays that use the personal to inform larger issues of policy and practice. In Necessary Spaces, local citizens in neighborhoods across the United States will find stories that resonate with their own experiences, stimulate their recollections, and inform and inspire their continuing efforts to create brighter futures for children and communities.
