Making Do How Women Survived The 30s:

Making Do Jeane Eddy Westin, 1976 An inspiring collection of human stories that show the survival of women in all walks of life in America in the 1930s Ripening Meridel Le Sueur, Elaine Hedges, 1990 This first and only comprehensive collection of the literary achievement of Meridel Le Sueur artist journalist political activist and feminist includes her best and most representative fiction reportage and autobiography from every decade since the twenties The New York Times Book Review wrote that this volume inspires belief in the power of a writer and a woman to prevail against poverty persecution and public neglect Le Sueur's consummate achievement as an artist is her transformation of colloquial speech into musical prose Women in the United States, 1830-1945 S. J. Kleinberg, 1999-08-23 Women in the United States 1830 1945 investigates women's economic social political and cultural history encompassing all ethnic and racial groups and religions It provides a general introduction to the history of women in industrializing America Both a history of women and a history of the United States its chronology is shaped by economic stages and political events Although there were vast changes in all aspects of women's lives gender the social roles imputed to the sexes continued to define women's and men's lives as much in 1945 as it had in 1830 Capitalist Patriarchy and the Case for Socialist Feminism Zillah R. Eisenstein, 2019-06-01 Fourteen provocative papers on the oppression of women in capitalist countries along with three articles on the subordinate position of women in two communist countries Cuba and China These important often path breaking articles are arranged in five basic sections the titles of which indicate the broad range of issues being considered Introduction motherhood reproduction and male supremacy socialist feminist historical analysis patriarchy in revolutionary society socialist feminism in the United States The underlying thrust of the book is toward integrating the central ideas of radical feminist thought with those pivotal for Marxist or socialist class analysis Labor and Desire Paula Rabinowitz, 2000-11-09 This critical historical and theoretical study looks at a little known group of novels written during the 1930s by women who were literary radicals Arguing that class consciousness was figured through metaphors of gender Paula Rabinowitz challenges the conventional wisdom that feminism as a discourse disappeared during the decade She focuses on the ways in which sexuality and maternity reconstruct the classic proletarian novel to speak about both the working class woman and the radical female intellectual Two well known novels bracket this study Agnes Smedley's Daughters of Earth 1929 and Mary McCarthy's The Company She Keeps 1942 In all Rabinowitz surveys more than forty novels of the period many largely forgotten Discussing these novels in the contexts of literary radicalism and of women's literary tradition she reads them as both cultural history and cultural theory Through a consideration of the novels as a genre Rabinowitz is able to theorize about the interrelationship of class and gender in American culture Rabinowitz shows that these novels generally dismissed as marginal by scholars of the literary and political cultures of the 1930s are in fact integral to the study of American fiction produced during the decade Relying on recent feminist scholarship she reformulates the history of literary radicalism to demonstrate the significance of these women writers and to provide a deeper understanding of their work for twentieth century American cultural studies in general

The Depression Dilemmas of Rural Iowa, 1929-1933 Lisa L. Ossian, 2012-01-01 To many rural Iowans the stock market crash on New York s Wall Street in October 1929 seemed an event far removed from their lives even though the effects of the crash became all too real throughout the state From 1929 to 1933 the enthusiastic faith that most Iowans had in Iowan President Herbert Hoover was transformed into bitter disappointment with the federal government As a result Iowans directly questioned their leadership at the state county and community levels with a renewed spirit to salvage family farms demonstrating the uniqueness of Iowa s rural life Beginning with an overview of the state during 1929 Lisa L Ossian describes Iowa s particular rural dilemmas evoking through anecdotes and examples the economic nutritional familial cultural industrial criminal legal and political challenges that engaged the people of the state The following chapters analyze life during the early Depression new prescriptions for children s health creative housekeeping to stretch resources the use of farm playlets to communicate new information creatively and memorably the demise of the soft coal mining industry increased violence within the landscape and the movement to end Prohibition The challenges faced in the early Great Depression years between 1929 and 1933 encouraged resourcefulness rather than passivity creativity rather than resignation and community rather than hopelessness Of particular interest is the role of women within the rural landscape as much of the increased daily work fell to farm women during this time While the women addressed this work simply as making do Ossian shows that their resourcefulness entailed complex planning essential for families emotional and physical health Ossian s epilogue takes readers into the Iowa of today dominated by industrial agriculture and asks the reader to consider if this model that stemmed from Depression era innovation is sustainable Her rich rural history not only helps readers understand the particular forces at work that shaped the social and physical landscape of the past but also traces how these landscapes have continued in various forms for almost eighty years into this century Labor of Love, Labor of Sorrow Jacqueline Jones,2009-12-29 The forces that shaped the institution of slavery in the American South endured albeit in altered form long after slavery was abolished Toiling in sweltering Virginia tobacco factories or in the kitchens of white families in Chicago black women felt a stultifying combination of racial discrimination and sexual prejudice And yet in their efforts to sustain family ties they shared a common purpose with wives and mothers of all classes In Labor of Love Labor of Sorrow historian Jacqueline Jones offers a powerful account of the changing role of black women lending a voice to an unsung struggle from the depths of slavery to the ongoing fight for civil rights The American Jewish Woman Jacob Rader Marcus,1981 Contains primary source material Education & the Great Depression David Hicks,2006 Education and the Great Depression Lessons from a Global History examines the history of schools in terms of pedagogies curricula policies and practices at the point of intersection with worldwide patterns of economic crisis political instability and social transformation Examining the Great Depression in the historical contexts of Egypt Turkey Germany Brazil and New Zealand and in the regional contexts of the United States including Virginia New York City Cleveland Chicago and South Carolina this collection broadens our understanding of the scope of this crisis while also locating more familiar American examples in a global framework The Routledge Companion to American Literary Journalism William Dow,Roberta Maguire,2019-11-13

Taking a thematic approach this new companion provides an interdisciplinary cross cultural and international study of American literary journalism From the work of Frederick Douglass and Walt Whitman to that of Joan Didion and Dorothy Parker literary journalism is a genre that both reveals and shapes American history and identity This volume not only calls attention to literary journalism as a distinctive genre but also provides a critical foundation for future scholarship It brings together cutting edge research from literary journalism scholars examining historical perspectives themes venues and genres across time theoretical approaches and disciplinary intersections and new directions for scholarly inquiry Provoking reconsideration and inquiry while providing new historical interpretations this companion recognizes interacts with and honors the tradition and legacies of American literary journalism scholarship Engaging the work of disciplines such as sociology anthropology African American studies gender studies visual studies media studies and American studies in addition to journalism and literary studies this book is perfect for students and scholars of those disciplines

Daughters of the Great Depression Laura Hapke,1997-01-01 Daughters of the Great Depression is a reinterpretation of more than fifty well known and rediscovered works of Depression era fiction that illuminate one of the decade s central conflicts whether to include women in the hard pressed workforce or relegate them to a literal or figurative home sphere Laura Hapke argues that working women from industrial wage earners to business professionals were the literary and cultural scapegoats of the 1930s In locating these key texts in the don t steal a job from a man furor of the time she draws on a wealth of material not usually considered by literary scholars including articles on gender and the job controversy Labor Department Women s Bureau statistics true romance stories and fallen woman films studies of African American women s wage earning and Fortune magazine pronouncements on white collar womanhood A valuable revisionist study Daughters of the Great Depression shows how fiction s working heroines so often cast as earth mothers flawed mothers lesser comrades harlots martyrs love slaves and manly or apologetic professionals joined their real life counterparts to negotiate the misogynistic labor climate of the 1930s
