Making Gender The Politics And Erotics Of Culture

Thomas A. Gregor, Donald F. Tuzin

Making Gender The Politics And Erotics Of Culture:

Making Gender Sherry B. Ortner, 1996 Making Gender both critiques and builds upon recent anthropological theory. Scholars such as Pierre Bourdieu, Anthony Giddens, and Marshall Sahlins have explored the dialectic between how we shape culture and how culture shapes us in a framework known as practice theory. Ortner argues that these scholars omit crucial questions raised elsewhere in the area of feminist theory: questions about the multiple forms of power and resistance, the forms and degrees of agency, the relationship of the private and intimate to large scale structural change, and the nature of identity in a world carved up by race, ethnicity, class, and gender. Together, these essays present a new model of cultural practice that posits embedded agency, the ways people act within cultural contexts to change those very contexts. Rich in theoretical insights and ethnographic examples, Making Gender is a stimulating synthesis of feminist anthropology by one of its founders and foremost theorists. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. All Rights Reserved. Visions of Culture Jerry D. Moore, 2004-02-23 This new edition of Jerry D. Moore's Visions of Culture presents introductory anthropology students with a brief, readable, and balanced treatment of theoretical developments in the field. New to this edition are pieces on Sherry Ortner, Pierre Bourdieu, and Eric Wolf, an Epilogue that describes key current debates over theory. This is an ideal text for classes on the theory or the history of anthropology. The Gender Politics of the Namibian Liberation Struggle Martha Akawa, 2014 Women's contributions against apartheid under the auspices of the Namibian liberation movement SWAPO and their personal experiences in exile take center stage in this study. Male and female leadership structures in exile are analysed whilst the sexual politics in the refugee camps and the public imagery of female representation in SWAPO's nationalism receive special attention. The party's public pronouncements of women empowerment and gender equality are compared to the actual implementations of gender politics during and after the liberation struggle. Gender and Justice Eliza Earle Ferguson, 2010-02-18 Historian Eliza Earle Ferguson's meticulously researched study of domestic violence among the working class in France uncovers the intimate details of daily life and the complex workings of court proceedings in fin de siècle Paris. With detective-like methods, Ferguson pores through hundreds of court records to understand why so many perpetrators of violent crime were fully acquitted. She finds that court verdicts depended on community standards for violence between couples. Her search uncovers voluminous testimony from witnesses, defendants, and victims documenting the conflicts and connections among men and women who struggled to balance love, desire, and economic need in their relationships. Ferguson's detailed analysis of these cases enables her to reconstruct the social, cultural, and legal conditions in which they took place. Her ethnographic approach offers unprecedented insight into the daily lives of nineteenth-century Parisians, revealing how they chose their partners, what they fought about, and what drove them to violence. In their battles over money and sex, couples were in effect testing, stretching, and enforcing gender roles. Gender and Justice will interest social and legal historians for its explanation of how the working class of fin de siècle Paris went about their lives and navigated the judicial system Gender studies scholars will find Ferguson's analysis of the construction of gender particularly trenchant Holly Grout

The Gender Binary and the Invention of Race Sally Markowitz, 2024-05-28 The Gender Binary and the Invention of Race explores a fundamental and often overlooked connection between modern European conceptions of gender and race Starting in the eighteenth century these conceptions have intermeshed through a racialized gender binary ideal for the male female couple that supposedly only Europeans embody Through an exploration of various expressions of this racial gender binary ideal this book illuminates the deep connections between categories of race sex gender and sexuality and the social hierarchies they support This book also explores how the racial gender binary ideal has both shaped fin de siècle arguments for the respectability of male homosexuality and informed the mid twentieth century feminist analysis of Simone de Beauvoir's The Second Sex. Finally this book compares its approach to understanding the race gender connection to that of intersectional theorist Kimberle Crenshaw. The Gender Binary and the Invention of Race is an accessibly written book that will be of interest both to undergraduate and graduate students of Gender Studies as well as to a general audience wishing to learn more about the relationship between the categories of race gender and sexuality.

Gender, Social Change and Spiritual Power Jane E. Soothill, 2007-03-31 Charismatic Christianity is the most recent and fastest growing expression of Pentecostal religion in Sub-Saharan Africa. In Ghana's capital Accra, the charismatic churches dominate the religious scene. This book focuses on the gender discourses of Ghana's new churches and considers charismatic perspectives on womanhood, manhood, marriage, and family life. Offering a fresh perspective on the organisational structures of the charismatic churches, this study looks at the leadership roles of female pastors and pastors' wives and draws attention to the links between female leaders and spiritual power. By highlighting the importance of spiritual power in interpreting gendered social change, the book sheds new light on the socio-cultural role of Ghana's new churches.

Gender and Violence in the Middle East David Ghanim Ph.D., 2009-03-20 Gender and Violence in the Middle East argues that violence is fundamental to the functioning of the patriarchal gender structure that governs daily life in Middle Eastern societies Ghanim contends that the inherent violence of gender relations in the Middle East feeds the authoritarianism and political violence that plague public life in the region In this societal sense men as well as women may be said to be victims of the structural violence inherent in Middle Eastern gender relations The author shows that the varieties of physical violence against women for which the Middle East is notorious honor killings obligatory beatings female genital mutilation are merely eruptions of an ethos of psychological violence and the threat of physical violence that pervades gender relations in the Middle East Ghanim documents and analyzes the complementary roles of both sexes in sustaining the system of violence and oppressive control that regulates gender relations in Middle Eastern societies He reveals that women are not only victims of violence but welcome the opportunity to become perpetrators of violence in the married female life cycle of subordination followed by domination The mother in law plays a crucial role in supporting the structure of patriarchal control by stoking tensions with her daughter in law and provoking her son to commit sanctioned violence on his wife The author applies his deep analysis of gender and violence in the Middle East to illuminate the motivational profiles of male and female political suicidalists from the Middle East and the martyrological adulation that they are accorded in Middle Eastern societies A
