AIDS: Setting A Feminist Agenda Lesley Doyal, Jennie Naidoo, Tamsin Wilton, 2018-12-07 AIDS Setting a Feminist Agenda presents an overview of the important issues raised for feminist theory and practice by the HIV AIDS epidemic and outlines the direction in which feminist debates about the subject are developing It makes essential links between feminism and HIV AIDS work and not only demonstrates that AIDS is a feminist issue but also suggests areas where feminism is long overdue The essays discuss medical issues the specific social and political impact of HIV AIDS on the lives of women of colour lesbians injecting drug users and prostitute women And Current Health Educational And Health Promotional Practice As It relates to women The volume is theoretical and practical suggesting theoretical models for understanding and challenging the social factors which are conducive to the spread of HIV among women and among men as well as offering models of good practice for working with and for women Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies Cary Nelson, Dilip

Gaonkar, 2013-10-28 First published in 1996 As recently as the early 1990s people wondered what was the future of cultural studies in the United States and what effects its increasing internationalization might have What type of projects would cultural studies inspire people to undertake Would established disciplines welcome its presence and adapt their practices accordingly Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies answers such questions It is now clear that while striking and innovative work is underway in many different fields most disciplinary organizations and structures have been very resistant to cultural studies Meanwhile cultural studies has been subjected to repeated attacks by conservative journalists and commentators in the public sphere Cultural studies scholars have responded not only by mounting focused critiques of the politics of knowledge but also by embracing ambitious projects of social political and cultural commentary by transgressing all the official boundaries of knowledge in a broad quest for cultural understanding This book tracks these debates and maps future strategies for cultural studies in academia and public life The contributors to Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies include established scholars and new voices In a series of polemic and exploratory essays written especially for this book they track the struggle with cultural studies in disciplines like anthropology literature and history and between cultural studies and very different domains like Native American culture and the culture of science Contributors include Arjun Appadurai Michael Denning Lawrence Grossberg Cary Nelson Constance Penley Andrew Ross and Lynn Spigel

Experimental Practice Dimitris Papadopoulos, 2018-07-16 In Experimental Practice Dimitris Papadopoulos explores the potential for building new forms of political and social movements through the reconfiguration of the material conditions of existence Rather than targeting existing institutions in demands for social justice Papadopoulos calls for the creation of alternative ontologies of everyday life that would transform the meanings of politics and justice Inextricably linked to technoscience these alterontologies which Papadopoulos examines in a variety of contexts from AIDS activism and the financialization of life to hacker communities and neuroscience form the basis of ways of life that would embrace the more than social interdependence of the human and nonhuman worlds Speaking to a matrix of concerns about politics and justice social movements matter and ontology everyday practice technoscience the production of knowledge and the human and nonhuman Papadopoulos suggests that the development of alterontologies would create more efficacious political and social organizing

Women Online Steven D. Atkinson, Judith Hudson, 1990 Women Online focuses on the problems of investigating interdisciplinary topics in women's studies working with controlled vocabularies and inconsistent indexing and locating feminist scholarship The authoritative contributors to the book not only analyze these problems in general terms but also suggest practical strategies for making online research more effective and productive The sixteen chapters in this much needed book are organized into three broad categories covering disciplines such as humanities and social sciences format of the material covered such as non bibliographic and cited reference databases and specific topics such as lesbian studies and women of color Chapter authors employ a variety of useful methods to analyze issues of coverage and content They compare the results of controlled vocabulary and free text or full text searching and make use of search examples cited reference and multi file searching and bibliometric techniques including analysis of recall precision overlap relevancy uniqueness and trends in file growth The Database Matrix provides an alphabetical listing of files discussed in the book and serves as a directory for online research in women's studies Women Online will be useful to librarians scholars and students who search databases as well as to producers who design and market them

Everyday Welfare in Modern British History Caitríona Beaumont, Eve Colpus, Ruth Davidson, 2024-12-17 This open access book offers a new approach to understandings of welfare in modern Britain Foregrounding the agency individuals and groups claimed through experiential expertise it traces deep connections between personal experience welfare and activism across diverse settings in modern Britain The experiential experts studied in this collection include women students children women who have sex with women bereaved families community groups individuals living in poverty adults whose status sits outside professional categories health service users and people of faith Chapters trace how these groups have used their experiences to assert an expert witness status and have sought out new spaces to expand the scope inclusivity and applicability of welfare services How to Have Theory in an Epidemic Paula A. Treichler, 1999 A collection of essays on the AIDS epidemic by a leading feminist cultural theorist of science AIDS and the Body Politic Catherine Waldby, 2003-09-02 Catherine Waldby's informative study draws on feminist theory cultural studies the philosophy of science and gay and lesbian studies to problematise the factual scientific discourse about AIDS and interpret it as a political discourse Waldby argues that much AIDS discourse relies on an implicit and unconscious equation between sexual health and heterosexual masculinity In this equation between women bisexual and gay men are the targets of preventative programmes while heterosexual men tend to remain unaddressed by such programmes

AIDS TV Alexandra Juhasz, Catherine Gund, 1995 Camcorder AIDS activism is a prime example of a new form of political expression an outburst of committed low budget community produced political video work made possible by new accessible technologies As Alexandra Juhasz looks at this phenomenon why and how video has become the medium for so much AIDS activism she also tries to make sense of the bigger picture How is this work different from mainstream television How does it alter what we think of the media's form and function The result is an eloquent and vital assessment of the role media activism plays in the development of community identity and self empowerment An AIDS videomaker herself Juhasz writes from the standpoint of an AIDS activist and blends feminist film critique with her own experience She offers a detailed description of alternative AIDS video including her own work on the Women's AIDS Video Enterprise WAVE Along with WAVE Juhasz discusses amateur video tapes of ACT UP demonstrations safer sex videos produced by Gay Men's Health Crisis public access programming and PBS documentaries as well as network television productions From its close up look at camcorder AIDS activism to its critical account of mainstream representations AIDS TV offers a better understanding of the media politics identity and community in the face of AIDS It will challenge and encourage those who hope to change the course of this crisis both in the real world and in the world of representation Melancholia and Moralism Douglas Crimp, 2004 Essays challenging the increasing denial of the AIDS crisis and the rise of conservative gay politics In Melancholia and Moralism Douglas Crimp confronts the conservative gay politics that replaced the radical AIDS activism of the late 1980s and early 1990s He shows that the cumulative losses from AIDS including the waning of militant response have resulted in melancholia as Freud defined it gay men's dangerous identification with the moralistic repudiation of homosexuality by the wider society With the 1993 march on Washington for lesbian and gay rights it became clear that AIDS no longer determined the agenda of gay politics it had been displaced by traditional rights issues such as gay marriage and the right to serve in the military Journalist Andrew Sullivan notorious for pronouncing the AIDS epidemic over even claimed that once those few rights had been won the gay rights movement would no longer have a reason to exist Crimp challenges such complacency arguing that not only is the AIDS epidemic far from over but that its determining role in queer politics has never been greater AIDS he demonstrates is the repressed unconscious force that drives the destructive moralism of the new anti liberation gay politics expounded by such mainstream gay writers as Larry Kramer Gabriel Rotello and Michelangelo Signorile as well as Sullivan Crimp examines various cultural phenomena including Randy Shilts's bestseller And the Band Played On the Hollywood films Silence of the Lambs and Philadelphia and Magic Johnson's HIV infection and retirement from the Los Angeles Lakers He also analyzes Robert Mapplethorpe's and Nicholas Nixon's photography John Greyson's AIDS musical Zero Patience Gregg Bordowitz's video Fast Trip Long Drop the Names Project Quilt and the annual Day without Art

Erotics and Politics Tim Edwards, 2012-11-12 Erotics and Politics provides an interface between the study of sexuality particularly gay male studies and gender primarily feminism In doing so it covers a wide range of issues of concern to gay and feminist movements over the past twenty five years including gay liberational sexuality sado masochism pornography promiscuity personal relationships AIDS and postmodernity The central focus of attention throughout is the nature development and consequence of gay male sexuality and masculinity This book is unique in its coverage of a wide range of issues and connecting subjects which are typically examined separately

Women's Studies Linda Krikos, Cindy Ingold, 2004-08-30 This truly monumental work maps the literature of women's studies covering thousands of titles and Web sites in 19 subject areas published between 1985 and 1999 Intended as a reference and collection development tool this bibliography provides a guide for women's studies information for each title along with a detailed often evaluative review The annotations summarize each work's content its importance or contribution to women's studies and its relationship to other titles on the subject Core titles and titles that are out of print are noted and reviews indicate which titles are appropriate as texts or supplemental texts This definitive guide to the literature of women's studies is a must purchase for academic libraries that support women's studies programs and it is a useful addition to any academic or public library that endeavors to represent the field A team of subject specialists has taken on the immense task of documenting publications in the area of women's studies in the last decades of the 20th century. The result is this truly monumental work which maps the field covering thousands of titles and Web sites in 19 subject areas published between 1985 and 1999. Intended as a reference and collection development tool, this bibliography provides a guide for women's studies information for each title along with a detailed, often evaluative review. The annotations summarize each work's content, its importance or contribution to women's studies, and its relationship to other titles on the subject. Most reviews cite and describe similar and contrasting titles, substantially extending the coverage. Core titles and titles that are out of print are noted, and reviews indicate which titles are appropriate as texts or supplemental texts. Taking up where the previous volume by Loeb, Searing, and Stineman left off, this is the definitive guide to the literature of women's studies. It is a must purchase for academic libraries that support women's studies programs and a welcome addition to any academic or public library that endeavors to represent the field. Lesbian Women and Sexual Health R. Dennis

Shelby, Kathleen Dolan, 2014-07-16 Interviewer: Where did you find out how to have safe lesbian sex? Val: I found out in jail. Why do so many lesbian women engage in sexual behavior that puts their health, even their lives, at risk? Many know they're at risk yet somehow feel safe enough to behave as if there is no reason to practice safe sex. Lesbian Women and Sexual Health: The Social Construction of Risk and Susceptibility examines how lesbian women perceive their level of risk for HIV and other sexually transmitted infections (STIs). It describes how their perceptions of risk and susceptibility are shaped by factors such as sexual identity, cultural themes, and community knowledge, and how those perceptions impact on the very real HIV/STI risks that lesbian women face. The genesis of Lesbian Women and Sexual Health: The Social Construction of Risk and Susceptibility lies in Kathleen Dolan's exploratory study of this under-researched area, in which 162 structured interviews and 70 in-depth interviews were conducted with women who self-identify as lesbians. What these women have to say will inform, educate, and probably surprise you. Tables and figures make complex data easy to access and understand. Lesbian women construct and label their identities and actions in complex ways that may lead to risky behavior. In the words of the women surveyed, and in Dr. Dolan's insightful commentary, this book explores the ways in which lesbian women construct their perceptions of risk and susceptibility to seek answers to questions that include: Do many lesbian women see themselves to an extent as immune to HIV contraction? How does their self-constructed sense of risk and susceptibility lead to making dangerous choices? Why, in spite of their professed willingness to engage in protective actions, do many lesbians not actually do so? Why do many lesbian women and some of the health care professionals who serve them feel that pap smears are not necessary for women who have sex only with other women, and what are the consequences of this opinion? What is the relationship between drug/alcohol use and risky sexual behaviors in lesbian women? Lesbian Women and Sexual Health: The Social Construction of Risk and Susceptibility is an important resource for women's/lesbian health advocates, health care professionals, and courses in gay women's medical studies. It addresses gaps in the existing research to enhance our understanding of the physical and mental health status of lesbian women of risk factors and protective actions regarding HIV and STIs and of the conditions for which protective actions actually reduce risk Use it to update your knowledge of this under studied area at the intersection of physical emotional and sexual health
