Making Of A Bestseller From Author To Reader

Josephine Ellershaw

Making Of A Bestseller From Author To Reader:

The Making of a Bestseller Arthur T. Vanderbilt, 1999-01-01 Writer F Scott Fitzgerald's career itself is a metaphor for the vagaries of book publishing. If Fitzgerald would have had his way we would today refer to The Great Gatsby as either Gold Hatted Gatsby or Trimalchio in West Egg or The High Bouncing Lover. A few years before Gatsby Fitzgerald had become a literary sensation at the age of 23. Helen Hooven Santmyer, a contemporary of Fitzgerald's, would not have a successful novel published until she was 88 and living in a nursing home. In this book the author explores that mysterious place in publishing where art and commerce can either clash, mesh, or both. Along the way a wide range of authors from the literary greats to today's commercial superstars, editors, agents, and publishers share their thoughts, insights, and experiences. What inspires writers? John Steinbeck, for example, wrote every novel as if it were his last, as if death were imminent. Why are some books successful and appreciated while others fall into oblivion? The answers are often elusive, never absolute, but the stories and anecdotes are always fascinating.

The Formulas of Popular Fiction Anna Faktorovich, 2014-09-17 This book creates a taxonomy for the major bestselling fictional genres: romance (e.g., authors Heyer, Cartland, Woodiwiss, and Roberts), religious and inspirational, Corelli, and Douglas, mystery and detective (Conan Doyle, Christie, and Mankell), and science fiction, horror, and fantasy (Wells, Tolkien, Orwell, Niven, King, and Rowling). Chapters look at a genre from its roots to its most recent works. The structural patterns in the plot, characters, and setting of these genres are then explained. The book also provides a critique of currently popular hyperformulaic, hack, unliterary writings that have multiplied in recent decades. Special topics such as the publishing oligopoly and the resulting homogeneity among bestselling works and the steady movement from literary to unliterary fiction are also examined.

The Making of a Bestseller Brian Hill, Dee Power, 2005 For each of the 150,000 books published in 2002, there are dozens that are still hoping to see the light of day. Bowker estimates less than 1% to successfully climbing the bestseller list. What separates the winners in the battle for bestseller status? Capitalizing on insight gained from interviews with industry experts and authors such as Steve Riggio, Jack Canfield, Spencer Johnson, and more, this book takes a comprehensive look at the publishing process from start to finish and ultimately what separates a bestselling book from all the other books published each year. Authors and would-be authors all have a curiosity about how the other guy does it, and this book takes it one step farther by describing what goes into making a bestseller. This book is for authors and would-be authors and individuals in the publishing industry.
