Making Of A Gay Asian Community An Oral History Of Pre Aids Los Angeles:

The Making of a Gay Asian Community Eric C. Wat, 2002 In this unique oral history gay Asian Americans talk frankly about their struggle for self determination and independence Despite its size until recently the gay Asian American community in Los Angeles was fragmented and marginalized as gay Asian men separated into their own ethnic cliques and preferred whites as sexual partners Using a cultural studies lens to interpret the rich oral narratives he collected Eric C Wat shows how a dominant sexual ideology can influence our desires and contradict our memories By documenting the founding of the first gay Asian organization in Southern California Asian Pacific Lesbians and Gays A PLG Wat powerfully portrays the ways gay Asian men confronted these contradictions publicly and struggled to fashion a coherent identity and community based on both their race and sexuality His analysis returns gay Asian men to the center of their lives and celebrates the power of individuals working collectively to define their desires and combat injustice

Erika Lee, 2015-09-01 A comprehensive fascinating The New York Times Book Review history of Asian Americans and their role in American life by one of the nation's preeminent scholars on the subject with a new afterword about the recent hate crimes against Asian Americans In the past fifty years Asian Americans have helped change the face of America and are now the fastest growing group in the United States But much of their long history has been forgotten In her sweeping powerful new book Erika Lee considers the rich complicated and sometimes invisible histories of Asians in the United States Huffington Post The Making of Asian America shows how generations of Asian immigrants and their American born descendants have made and remade Asian American life from sailors who came on the first trans Pacific ships in the 1500 to the Japanese Americans incarcerated during World War II Over the past fifty years a new Asian America has emerged out of community activism and the arrival of new immigrants and refugees But as Lee shows Asian Americans have continued to struggle as both despised minorities and model minorities revealing all the ways that racism has persisted in their lives and in the life of the country Published fifty years after the passage of the United States Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965 these powerful Asian American stories are inspiring and Lee herself does them justice in a book that is long overdue Los Angeles Times But more than that The Making of Asian America is an epic and eye opening Minneapolis Star Tribune new way of understanding America itself its complicated histories of race and immigration and its place in the world today

Sweet Tea (Revised Edition) E. Patrick Johnson, 2011-09-01 Sweet Tea Sweet Tea E. Patrick Johnson, 2008-09-15 Giving voice to a population too rarely acknowledged Sweet Tea collects more than sixty life stories from black gay men who were born raised and continue to live in the South E Patrick Johnson challenges stereotypes of the South as backward or repressive and offers a window into the ways black gay men negotiate their identities build community maintain friendship networks and find sexual and life partners often in spaces and activities that appear to be antigay Ultimately Sweet Tea validates the lives of these black gay men and reinforces the role of storytelling in both African American and southern cultures Rainbow Theology Patrick S. Cheng, 2013-04 To date no book has systematically examined the theological writings of LGBT people of color Nor has any book explored how such writings might actually transform contemporary theological reflections on race and sexuality This book remedies these gaps by constructing a rainbow theology around the theme of bridging or mediation Rainbow Theology is the first book to reflect upon the theological significance of the intersections of race and queer sexuality across multiple ethnic and cultural groups This is particularly important in light of the current polarizing debates over issues of race sexuality and religion within churches and communities of faith around the world Queer Women and Religious Individualism Melissa M. Wilcox, 2009-09 Melissa M Wilcox explores the complex spiritual lives of queer women in the Los Angeles area She takes the reader on a tour of a colorful array of religious and secular groups that serve as spiritual resources for these women from the well known Metropolitan Community Churches to Wiccan covens from the Gay and Lesbian Sierrans to the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence Arguing that these women s stories are exemplary cases of postmodern patterns of religious identity belief and practice Wilcox offers a nuanced analysis of contemporary Western spirituality and selfhood and a detailed exploration of the history of queer religious organizing in Los Angeles Queer Women and Religious Individualism is important reading for scholars in religious studies sociology women s studies and LGBT studies Contemporary Asian America (third Edition) Min Zhou, Anthony Christian Ocampo, 2016-04-19 The third edition of the foundational volume in Asian American studies Who are Asian Americans Moving beyond popular stereotypes of the model minority or forever foreigner most Americans know surprisingly little of the nation s fastest growing minority population Since the 1960s when different Asian immigrant groups came together under the Asian American umbrella they have tirelessly carved out their presence in the labor market education politics and pop culture Many times they have done so in the face of racism discrimination sexism homophobia and socioeconomic disadvantage Today contemporary Asian America has emerged as an incredibly diverse population with each segment of the community facing its unique challenges. When Contemporary Asian America was first published in 2000 it exposed its readers to the formation and development of Asian American studies as an academic field of study from its inception as part of the ethnic consciousness movement of the 1960s to the systematic inquiry into more contemporary theoretical and practical issues facing Asian America at the century's end. It was the first volume to integrate a broad range of interdisciplinary research and approaches from a social science perspective to assess the effects of immigration, community development and socialization on Asian American communities. This updated third edition discusses the impact of September 11 on Asian American identity and citizenship, the continued influence of globalization on past and present waves of immigration and the intersection of race, gender, sexuality and class on the experiences of Asian immigrants and their children. The volume also provides study questions and recommended supplementary readings and documentary films. This critical text offers a broad overview of Asian American studies and the current state of Asian America.

Asian American Literature in Transition, 1996-2020:

Volume 4 Betsy Huang, Victor Román Mendoza, 2021-06-17. This volume examines the concerns of Asian American literature from 1996 to the present. This period was not only marked by civil unrest, terror and militarization, economic depression and environmental abuse, but also unprecedented growth and visibility of Asian American literature. This volume is divided into four sections that plot the trajectories of and tensions between social challenges and literary advances. Part One tracks how Asian American literary productions of this period reckon with the effects of structures and networks of violence. Part Two tracks modes of intimacy, desires, loves, close friendships, romances, sexual relations, erotic contacts that emerge in the face of neoimperialism, neoliberalism and necropolitics. Part Three traces the proliferation of genres in Asian American writing of the past quarter century in new and in well-worn terrains. Part Four surveys literary projects that speculate on future states of Asian America in domestic and global contexts.

Envisioning Religion, Race, and Asian Americans David K. Yoo, Khyati Y. Joshi, 2020-08-31. In Envisioning Religion, Race, and Asian Americans, David K. Yoo and Khyati Y. Joshi assemble a wide-ranging and important collection of essays documenting the intersections of race and religion and Asian American communities, a combination so often missing both in the scholarly literature and in public discourse. Issues of religion and race, ethnicity, undergird current national debates around immigration, racial profiling and democratic freedoms, but these issues, as the contributors document, are longstanding ones in the United States. The essays feature dimensions of traditions such as Islam, Hinduism and Sikhism, as well as how religion engages with topics that include religious affiliation or lack thereof, the legacy of the Vietnam War and popular culture. The contributors also address the role of survey data, pedagogy, methodology and literature that is richly complementary and necessary for understanding the scope and range of the subject of Asian American religions. These essays attest to the vibrancy and diversity of Asian American religions while, at the same time, situating these conversations in a scholarly lineage and discourse. This collection will certainly serve as an invaluable resource for scholars students and general readers with interests in Asian American religions ethnic and Asian American studies religious studies American studies and related fields that focus on immigration and race From Sin to Amazing Grace Patrick S. Cheng, 2012-03-01 Throughout the history of Christianity lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT or queer people have been condemned as unrepentant sinners who are in dire need of God's saving grace As a result of this condemnation LGBT people have been subjected to great spiritual emotional and physical abuse and violence This issue takes on a particular urgency in light of the ongoing harassment and bullying of LGBT young people by their classmates Cheng argues that people need to be liberated from the traditional legal model of thinking about sin and grace as a violation of divine and natural laws in which grace is understood as the strength to refrain from violating such laws Rather Cheng proposes a Christological model based upon the theologies of Irenaeus Bonaventure and Barth in which sin and grace are defined in terms of what God has done for us in Jesus Christ This book serves as a useful resource for all people who struggle to make sense of the traditional Christian doctrines of sin and grace in the context of the 21st century Contemporary Asian America Min Zhou, James V. Gatewood, 2007-01-01 How does one capture the delightful irony of Edith Wharton's prose or the spare lyricism of Kate Chopin's Kathleen Wheeler challenges the reader to experiment with a more imaginative method of literary criticism in order to comprehend more fully writers of the Modernist and late Realist period In examining the creative works of seven women writers from the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Wheeler never lets the mystery and magic of literature be overcome by dry critical analysis Modernist Women Writers and Narrative Art begins by evaluating how Edith Wharton Kate Chopin and Willa Cather all engaged in an ironic critique of realism They explored the inadequacies of this form in expressing human experience and revealed its hidden often contradictory assumptions Building on the foundation that Wharton Chopin and Cather established Jean Rhys Katherine Mansfield Stevie Smith and Jane Bowles brought literature into the era we now consider modernism Drawing on insights from feminist theory deconstructionism and revisions of new historicism Kathleen Wheeler reveals a literary tradition rich in narrative strategy and stylistic sophistication Inscrutable Belongings Stephen Hong Sohn, 2018-07-17 Inscrutable Belongings brings together formalist and contextual modes of critique to consider narrative strategies that emerge in queer Asian North American literature Stephen Hong Sohn provides extended readings of fictions involving queer Asian North American storytellers looking to texts including Russell Leong's Camouflage Lydia Kwa's Pulse Alexander Chee's Edinburg Nina Revoyr's Wingshooters and No 1 Alumi's Letters to Montgomery Clift Despite many antagonistic forces these works protagonists achieve a revolutionary form of narrative centrality through the defiant act of speaking out recounting their survival plots and enduring to the very last page These feats are made possible through their construction of alternative social structures Sohn calls inscrutable belongings Collectively the texts that Sohn examines bring to mind foundational struggles for queer Asian North Americans and other socially marginalized groups and confront a broad range of issues including interracial desire the AIDS HIV epidemic transnational mobility and postcolonial trauma In these texts Asian North American queer people are often excluded from normative family structures and must contend with multiple histories of oppression erasure and physical violence involving homophobia racism and social death Sohn s work makes clear that for such writers and their imagined communities questions of survival kinship and narrative development are more than representational they are directly tied to lived experience
