WHAT IS PARTICIPATIVE MANAGEMENT?

Making Participatory Management Work

Mr. Rohit Manglik

Making Participatory Management Work:

Making Participatory Management Work David R. Powers, Mary F. Powers, 1983 Participatory management means that everyone affected by decisions has a voice in making those decisions In higher education administrators are increasingly expected to consult with representatives of campus groups faculty other administrators advisory board members policy council representatives and others yet are often unsure how they can most productively involve them in the decision making team This new book fills the need for a detailed step by step guide to participatory management showing how it can be made to work effectively on a day to day basis Book Jacket

Making Working Relationships Work Helen Spencer-Oatey, Domna Lazidou, 2024-05-20 Effective relationship management at work is crucial for business success it affects employee performance and wellbeing as well as the recruitment and retention of talent Yet relationship management is demanding to handle well Professionals face a large number of challenges in the workplace that are relationship related ranging from upsetting or annoying incidents to loneliness and exclusion problems of criticism and opposition and unhealthy cultural atmospheres with inadequate psychological safety This book provides a powerful set of tools and concepts for leaders managers and employees of all levels to deal with relationship challenges at work with greater success It does not offer simplistic tips or easy fixes Rather it helps people address the challenges for themselves to read the context so that they can identify the factors giving rise to the people problems or risks they are facing Then they will be able to select the most suitable strategies for overcoming the challenges Part 1 introduces the issues at stake and the main factors affecting rapport at work Part 2 deals with key relationship challenges at work e g discord and disagreement exclusion uncooperative colleagues difficult bosses problematic employees and presents a suite of tools for addressing them The tools are all underpinned by an empirically robust conceptual framework the TRIPS rapport management framework Part 3 explains the TRIPS conceptual framework in more detail drawing particularly on psychological and pragmatic theories and findings on relationship management TRIPS is an acronym for the key factors that need to be taken into account when managing rapport the Triggers 6 key things people value in working relationships that give rise to rapport Reactions e g annoyance upset if not handled well during the Interactions what is said and done all of which are influenced by the People involved and by their situational contexts Settings Part 4 provides templates for the tools TRIPS concepts and strategies that readers can use and apply in their own contexts Authentic case studies are used throughout the book and are complemented by a range of activities The book will be valuable to a wide audience Professionals wanting to improve their own relationship building capabilities Learning and Development and HR practitioners who want to develop collaborative inclusive workplaces by helping leaders and colleagues with their relationship building skills Consultants who provide support in this area and would like a clear and robust framework for designing their development initiatives along with case study examples and follow up activities Students and scholars in the fields of pragmatics politeness and rapport theory and positive communication who would value the latest conceptual thinking in the field and handy access to key concepts

Making a Large Irrigation Scheme Work Djibril Aw, Geert Diemer, 2005 Making a Large Irrigation Scheme Work provides a history of irrigation management in Mali from colonial times to post independence It looks at how irrigation management reforms came about at Mali s Office du Niger and how relevant this reform process is for irrigation schemes in other countries Mali s irrigation scheme was an outcome of colonial settlement with the corresponding lack of rights for cultivators to own land process paddy and market rice Post independence a coalition of government and irrigation agency staff contributed to governmental unwillingness to reform the scheme s management Government interest lay in satisfying the growing demand for rice from its burgeoning urban constituency and a fear of riots in response to rice shortages and high prices It s interest also lay with maintaining the support of the agency s staff The authors analyze how field teams funded by bilateral donors shaped technical and institutional change to fully reform management and how grain market reforms provided farmers stronger incentives and raised yields The combination of changes inside and outside the scheme gradually shifted the balance of power and led to a stakeholder setup in which organized farmers replaced the agency Regime change to multiparty democracy and policy change toward economic liberalization then opened a window of opportunity that the government used to consolidate the reforms and the new balance of power The success of the reform process lies in the way Mali s government came to commit to the irrigation reforms The paper indicates how commitment by other governments may be achieved by using the same and other tools Making Large Irrigation Schemes Work is a useful resource for professionals involved in the transfer of management authority from government to user associations

An Introduction to Organizational Communication Subramania Bala Jeshurun, Selvakumar P, J. Anna Thangam, A. Vanitha, Administrative Reforms Amita Singh, 2005-10-03 This volume analyses the impact of globalisation on governance and specifically on public sector reforms Starting from the premise that adhocism and sectoralism are the main reasons why past attempts at administrative reforms in India have not succeeded this book maintains that some of the basic tenets of mainstream approaches to administrative reform require urgent and critical re examination The ten essays in this book dwell on three distinct areas urban governance energy and environmental governance and service delivery systems which have been subjected to a blizzard of reforms in recent years The contributors investigate the role of public and private partners as agents of change and showcase successful experiments that have transformed the lives of local rural communities
