Barab, Kenneth E. Hay, Nancy Butler Songer, Daniel T. Hickey, 2017-09-05 William Wordsworth 1770 1850 needs little introduction as the central figure in Romantic poetry and a crucial influence in the development of poetry generally This broad ranging survey redefines the variety of his writing by showing how it incorporates contemporary concepts of language difference and the ways in which popular and serious literature were compared and distinguished during this period It discusses many of Wordsworth's later poems comparing his work with that of his regional contemporaries as well as major writers such as Scott

The key theme of relationship both between characters within poems and between poet and reader is explored through Wordsworth's construction of community and his use of power relationships. A serious discussion of the place of sexual feeling in his writing is also included.

Making a Difference Linda Sullivan-Dudzic, Donna K. Gearn, Kelli Leavell, 2010-01-06 The national push for early learning is no longer about preschool alone but rather about strategic planning to increase achievement by working with communities to establish a strong Key Stages 1 and 2 foundation. This book provides the essential steps for carrying out this important work including how to reach out to community early childhood education providers to establish quality instruction and build bridges to Key Stages 1 and 2. Drawing on their success in building a PreK 3 system in the Bremerton WA school district and their work with schools across the USA, the authors provide education professionals with a field tested step by step road map that can be adapted for your own community and school district. Essential topics include Identifying the needs of families and children, Aligning resources, curriculum, instruction and assessment, Establishing key players, Training staff, Developing a plan for implementation, Instituting professional learning communities, Anticipating potential challenges, Celebrating successes. This book shows head teachers and early childhood professionals as well as county officials, Education Officers, Head Start programmes and Title I directors how to provide all children with access to high quality educational experiences in and before Reception and link early childhood standards and goals to the Key Stages 1 and 2 systems.

Making All the Difference Martha Minow, 2016-10-01 Should a court order medical treatment for a severely disabled newborn in the face of the parents refusal to authorize it How does the law apply to a neighborhood that objects to a group home for developmentally disabled people Does equality mean treating everyone the same even if such treatment affects some people adversely Does a state requirement of employee maternity leave serve or violate the commitment to gender equality Martha Minow takes a hard look at the way our legal system functions in dealing with people on the basis of race gender age ethnicity religion and disability Minow confronts a variety of dilemmas of difference resulting from contradictory legal strategies strategies that attempt to correct inequalities by sometimes recognizing and sometimes ignoring differences Exploring the historical sources of ideas about difference she offers challenging alternative ways of conceiving of traits that legal and social institutions have come to regard as different She argues in effect for a constructed jurisprudence based on the ability to recognize and work with perceptible forms of difference Minow is passionately interested in the people different people whose lives are regularly mis shaped and mis directed by the legal system s ways of handling them Drawing on literary and feminist theories and the insights of anthropology and social history she identifies the unstated assumptions that tend to regenerate discrimination through the very reforms that are supposed to eliminate it Education for handicapped children conflicts between job and family responsibilities bilingual education Native American land claims these are among the concrete problems she discusses from a fresh angle of vision Minow firmly rejects the prevailing conception of the self that she believes underlies legal doctrine a self seen as either separate and autonomous or else disabled and incompetent in some way In contrast she regards the self as being realized through connection capable of shaping an identity only in relationship to other people She shifts the focus for problem solving from the different person to the relationships that construct that difference and she proposes an analysis that can turn difference from a basis of stigma and a rationale for unequal treatment into a point of human connection The meanings of many differences can change when people locate and revise their relationships to difference she asserts The student in a wheelchair becomes less different when the building designed without him in mind is altered to permit his access Her book evaluates contemporary legal theories and reformulates legal rights for women children persons with disabilities and others historically identified as different Here is a powerful voice for change speaking to issues that permeate our daily lives and form a central part of the work of law By illuminating the many ways in which people differ from one another this book shows how lawyers political theorist teachers parents students every one of us can make all the difference College Essays That Made a Difference, 6th Edition

Princeton Review,2014 Featuring real life essays written by applicants to Harvard Princeton and Yale this guide can help students write an essay that will greatly improve their chances of getting into college Soviet Risk-Taking and Crisis

Behavior Hannes Adomeit,2022-12-28 Soviet Risk Taking and Crisis Behavior first published in 1982 examines the question for what purposes and under what conditions were Soviet leaders prepared to take risks in international relations The first part of the book sets out to define the concept of risk and to examine its analytical relevance for foreign policy its measurement and its relation to the dynamics of crisis The second part consists of in depth analysis of Soviet behavior in the Berlin crises of 1948 and 1961 The third and last part compares Soviet policy in the two crises and the actions of the two different leaderships as well as relating it to Soviet behavior in other geographical areas How Teachers Make a Difference United States. Bureau of Educational Personnel Development,1971 Reform Can Make a Difference

Darlene Leiding,2009-10-16 Public education in the United States does not fulfill either the educational needs or the social needs of children Its deficiencies have serious negative consequences in our political system our economy and within our social and cultural affairs We must seek to improve education through research policy analysis and the development of alternatives to existing policies and practices Educational reform should include promoting greater parental choice in education a competitive educational industry and other policies that address the problems of both public and private schools The ultimate goal is improved student achievement especially in our nation s cities where large numbers of students are not reaching the levels of achievement they need in order to live successful lives as adults This book explores some of the unique characteristics of school reform and focuses on the role of poverty in reform including the negative effects of low income neighborhoods on the youth who reside there concluding that reducing poverty can lead to more positive academic behavior and success Reform Can Make a Difference enables readers to look at different reform programs that are available for schools and determine which model if any will fit their needs The book assists schools in designing their own reform model that will help address issues students and families have with public schools
