In Making China Modernized Wenhui Cai, 1996      In Making China Modernized Wenhui Cai, 1993      How To Become A Modernized Country: China Modernization Report Outlook (2001-2016) Chuanqi He, 2020-08-18

Modernization is a complex phenomenon in the world and is termed as a development goal in some countries and regions. This book, the first of its kind, discusses how a country can become modernized. It takes a new approach to addressing core issues in the era of globalization from a Chinese perspective. It analyzes how to become a developed and modernized country, why some countries are developed while others are not, how many countries will rise and how many will fall, will China become a new modernized country in the 21st century, and so on. The author presents a summary of 15 annual reports of China Modernization Report from 2001 to 2016. The themes covered include basic principles of modernization, modernization science, modernization theory, and modernization evaluation level, related modernization, world, international, national, regional, and urban modernization, field, relative modernization, economical, social, cultural, and ecological modernization, and sector specified modernization, agricultural, industrial, and service modernization, etc. The book further discusses the principles and methods of world modernization, as well as the trends in modernization in the world and the modernization strategy in China based on theoretical studies and research by a Chinese team for more than 16 years. This research covered 131 countries and 96% of the world's population with a time span of 300 years from 1750 to 2050.

China's Modernization I Georg Peter, Reuß-Markus Krauß, 2015-09-09

The idea of only one way leading to a modern society seems to be hardly tenable. But even if we agree to this, our theories and terms describing modernization are gained on our own Western history. So social science has to reconsider its basic terms to describe China's modernization and maybe even the understanding of modernization itself. The first of two volumes on China's modernization collects articles by leading Chinese and Western scientists focusing on the main conflicts and differences this process involves. In a first section, Changing China: Dealing with Diversity, Björn Alperman analyses the terms Class, Citizenship, and Individualization in China's Modernization. Andrew Kipnis analyses the Chinese Nation Building as Instead of and Before Globalization, while John R. Gibbins examines Principles for Cosmopolitan Societies, Values for Cosmopolitan Places. On Modernization, Law, Business, and Economy in China, the second section deals with Modernizing Chinese Law, The Protection of Private Property in China by Sanzhu Zhu, Chinese Organizations as Groups of People Towards a Chinese Business Administration by Peter J. Peverelli, and Income Gaps in Economic Development, Differences among Regions, Occupational Groups, and Ethnic Groups by Ma Rong. The last section, Thinking Differentiations, Chinese Origin, and the Western Culture concentrates on the role of religion with articles by Richard Madsen, Christianity and Hybrid Modernity in China, and Thorsten Botz-Bornstein, Confucianism, Puritanism, and the Transcendental China, and America. Jeffrey N. Wasserstrom argues that Nathan Sharansky's test for free nations should take regional variations into account in China and the Town Square Test. In Metaphor, Poetry, and Cultural Implicature, Ying Zhang examines if the Western understanding of metaphor can be transferred to Chinese language and culture The additional rubric On Contemporary Philosophy involves three articles about the question Can Science Change our Notion of Existence by Jody Azzouni The Epistemological Significance of Practices by Alan Millar and On Cappelen and Hawthorne's Relativism and Monadic Truth by J Adam Carter Content and abstracts www.protosociology.de China's Modernizing Military Kenneth S. Fu, 2001 Does China have the military capability to threaten Taiwan What are China's intentions with its newly modernizing military How much of a threat does that pose to the United States The assumption generally is that the United States will intervene in some form in the event that China attacked Taiwan But what if the U S does not intervene and Taiwan does not succumb to threats alone Can China back up its threats and succeed in an invasion of Taiwan using only its conventional forces How successful has the PLA modernization drive been so far and what promise does it hold in the next few years to achieve the objective of taking Taiwan back by force The purpose of this thesis is to measure the results of China's military modernization efforts and determine if the PLA has the capability to defeat Taiwan in a conventional war and succeed in an invasion of the island Abstract from web site China's Modernization II Gerhard Preyer, 2015-09-09 The idea of only one way leading to a modern society seems to be hardly tenable But even if we agree to this our theories and terms describing modernization are gained on our own Western history So social science has to reconsider its basic terms to describe China's modernization and maybe even the understanding of modernization itself The second of two volumes on China's modernization collects articles by leading Chinese and Western scientists focusing on the main conflicts and differences this process involves In the first section On Contemporary Theory of Modernization Manussos Marangudakis represents Shmuel N Eisenstadt's concept of Multiple Modernities and the Theory of Indeterminacy one of the best elaborated perspectives on modernity Changing China Dealing with Diversity the second section examines how China copes with dissent and discusses the significance of law and a civil society Merle Goldman begins with Dissent of China's Public Intellectuals in the Post Mao Era The Modernization of Law in China its Meaning Achievements Obstacles and Prospect is the subject of Qingbo Zhang Scott Wilson presents a Gramscian analysis of civil society in China's State in the Trenches And Francis Schortgen and Shalendra Sharma study how China is Manufacturing Dissent Domestic and International Ramifications of China's Summer of Labor Unrest Neoliberalism and the Changes in East Asian Welfare and Education is the focus of the third section Beatriz Carrillo Garcia investigates the Business Opportunities and Philanthropic Initiatives in China Time Politics and Homelessness in Contemporary Japan is the subject of Ritu Vij Different school books show the Educational Modernisation Across the Taiwan Straits by David C Schak And Ho fung Hung discusses the role of China in globalization following the question Is China Saving Global Capitalism from the Global Crisis The additional rubric On Contemporary Philosophy involves three articles about International Development Paradox and Phronesis by Robert Kowalski The World in the Head by Robert Cummins and Communication Cooperation and Conflict by Steffen Borge Content and

Challenges and Solutions to China's Modernization Process Fang Cai, 2024-05-18 Focusing on these developing problems and growing troubles this book mainly discusses economic growth issues related to demographic transition as well as livelihood issues derived from them and closely related to policy logic It aims to make theoretical analysis and provide necessary international experience and lessons and put forward targeted policy advice This book proposes a three pronged pattern of competition policy industrial policy and social policy to achieve productivity improvement and innovation momentum gives full play to China's super large market advantages attractiveness and negotiating position and promotes each other through domestic and international dual cycles to achieve a higher level of development The Modernization of China Rozman, 1982-08 In the Modernization of China an interdisciplinary team of scholars collaborate closely to provide the first systematic integrated analysis of China in transformation from an agrarian based to an urbanized and industrialized society Moving from the legacy of the Ming and Ch'ing dynasties to the reforms and revolutions of the 20th century the authors seek reasons for China's inability to achieve rapid steady growth during a 200 year long struggle to modernize They examine the changing shape of Chinese society the role of the state in local politics military affairs economics the development of the educational system changes in family population and settlement patterns science and technology world views and foreign relations And they make frequent comparisons between China's experience with growth and that of two other latecomers to modernization Japan and Russia The result is a book that brings much needed clarity and perspective to our understanding of China and the way a great civilization attempts to meet the challenge of modernity China's Scientific and Technological Modernization, 1982 Electric Power for China's Modernization National Foreign Assessment Center (U.S.), 1980 Reinventing Modern China Huaiyin Li, 2012-10-31 This work offers the first systematic analysis of writings on modern Chinese history by historians in China from the early twentieth century to the present It traces the construction of major interpretive schemes the evolution of dominant historical narratives and the unfolding of debates on the most controversial issues in different periods Placing history writing in the context of political rivalry and ideological contestation Huaiyin Li explicates how the historians' dedication to faithfully reconstructing the past was compromised by their commitment to an imagined trajectory of history that fit their present day agenda and served their needs of political legitimation Beginning with an examination of the contrasting narratives of revolution and modernization in the Republican period the book scrutinizes changes in the revolutionary historiography after 1949 including its disciplinization in the 1950s and early 1960s and radicalization in the rest of the Mao era It further investigates the rise of the modernization paradigm in the reform era the crises of master narratives since the late 1990s and the latest development of the field Central to the author's analysis is the issue of truth and falsehood in historical representation Li contends that both the revolutionary and modernization historiographies before 1949 reflected historians' lived experiences and contained a degree of authenticity in mirroring the historical processes of their own times In sharp contrast both the revolutionary historiography of the Maoist era and the modernization historiography of the reform era were primarily products of historians ideological commitment which distorted and concealed the past no less than revealed it In search of a more effective approach to rewriting modern Chinese history Reinventing Modern China proposes a within time open ended perspective which allows for different directions in interpreting the events in modern China and views modern Chinese history as an unfinished process remaining to be defined as the country entered the twenty first century
