Making Dance Special:

Enabling Access Barry Carpenter, Chris Stevens, Keith Bovair, Rob Ashdown, 2014-04-08 First Published in 1997 In special education we are at last in a good position to offer pupils a broad and balanced curriculum which is relevant to their needs and which is based on the same range of provision enjoyed by all pupils Such a curriculum can only be planned as a cohesive whole compartmentalizing aspects of the whole curriculum risks seeing one part as having more merit or worth than another The whole curriculum in all schools will vary depending on local needs and opportunities In special education it is important that we embrace that whole curriculum using its diversity and opportunity to plan for breadth balance and relevance This book makes a significant contribution to the developments in planning for access to the whole curriculum Making Dances That Matter Anna Halprin, 2019-02-08 Anna Halprin vanguard postmodern dancer turned community artist and healer has created ground breaking dances with communities all over the world Here she presents her philosophy and experience as well as step by step processes for bringing people together to create dances that foster individual and group well being At the heart of this book are accounts of two dances the Planetary Dance which continues to be performed throughout the world and Circle the Earth The Circle the Earth workshop for people living with AIDS has generated dozens of scores for others to adapt In addition the book provides a concrete guide to Halprin's celebrated Planetary Dance Now more than 35 years old Planetary Dance promotes peace among people and peace with the Earth Open to everyone it has been performed in more than 50 countries In 1995 more than 400 participants joined her in a Planetary Dance in Berlin commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Potsdam Agreements at the end of World War II More recently she took the Planetary Dance to Israel bringing together Israelis and Palestinians as well as other nationalities Throughout this book Halprin shows how dance can be a powerful tool for healing learning and mobilizing change and she offers insight and advice on facilitating groups If we are to survive Halprin argues we must learn experientially how our individual stories weave together and strengthen the fabric of our collective body Generously illustrated with photographs charts and scores this book will be a boon to dance therapists educators and community artists of all types Children, Meaning-Making and the Arts Susan Wright, 2015-05-20 This Australian text is about children's voices their minds feelings souls It's about how children's voices are liberated through the arts and how children make and communicate meaning through still and moving images sounds textures gestures and the use of many other signs It is also about how teachers parents peers and the community influence children's early development and how quality arts education in early childhood is an essential component of lifelong learning The authors are teachers and researchers who are respected for their contributions to early childhood arts education All of them have addressed their topics via practical examples which are embedded in current philosophies and theories often stemming from original research and firsthand interactions with children The Complete Worship Service Kevin J. Navarro, 2005-10-01 Just as diners visit a fine restaurant anticipating the ambiance and meal to come so first time guests and members alike come to church to experience the presence of God In this follow up book to The Complete Worship Leader veteran worship leader and pastor Kevin Navarro helps church leaders create a complete worship service by implementing a four part pattern of worship longing for preparing for experiencing and talking about a taste of heaven Approaching the worship service as an act of hospitality Navarro emphasizes clearing away obstacles and communicating the gospel He shares practical ideas for churches of all kinds and sizes everything from assisting guests to using the arts to centering the preaching on Christ Pastors worship leaders and church leaders of any denomination and worship style will benefit from this practical guide

Improving Teaching and Learning in the Arts Gloria Callaway, Mary Kear, 2005-08-08 Covering the contribution of arts to children s learning this text also looks at the state of the arts in primary schools and includes an evaluation of the relationships between the arts and moral spiritual cultural and social values

Making an Entrance Adam Benjamin, 2013-10-18 Making an Entrance is the first ever practical introduction to teaching dance with disabled and non disabled students This clearly written thought provoking and hugely enjoyable manual is essential reading whether you re just starting out or are already active in the field Taking improvisation as his focus and as the starting point of choreographic exploration Adam Benjamin asks what it has to offer as an art form and how it can be better used to meet the changing needs of dance education In the theoretical section Benjamin explores the history of a disintegrated dance practice placing it within the wider context of cultural and political movements He questions what is meant today when we talk about inclusive or integrated dance and what we might expect of it The book includes over 50 exercises and improvisations designed to stimulate and challenge students at all levels of dance Benjamin also includes useful hints on the practicalities of setting up workshops covering issues as diverse as a class size the safety aspects of wheelchairs and the accessibility of dance spaces

Choreomania Kéline Gotman, 2018 When political protest is read as epidemic madness religious ecstasy as nervous disease and angular dance moves as dark and uncouth the disorder being described is choreomania At once a catchall term to denote spontaneous gestures and the unruly movements of crowds choreomania emerged in the nineteenth century at a time of heightened class conflict nationalist policy and colonial rule In this book author Kéline Gotman examines these choreographies of unrest rethinking the modern formation of the choreomania concept as it moved across scientific and social scientific disciplines Reading archives describing dramatic misformations of bodies and body politics she shows how prejudices against expressivity unravel in turn revealing widespread anxieties about demonstrative agitation This history of the fitful body complements stories of nineteenth century discipline and regimentation As she notes constraints on movement imply constraints on political power and agency In each chapter Gotman confronts the many ways choreomania works as an extension of discourses shaping colonialist orientalism which alternately depict riotous bodies as dangerously infected others and as curious bacchanalian remains Through her research Gotman also shows how beneath the radar of this colonial discourse men and women gathered together to
