Making Hate:

Making Hate Pay Tyler O'Neil, 2020-01-20 The Southern Poverty Law Center started with noble intentions and has done much good over the years but a pernicious corruption has undermined the organization's original mission and contributed to a climate of fear and hostility in America. Hotels, web platforms, and credit card companies have blacklisted law-abiding Americans because the SPLC disagrees with their political views. The SPLC's false accusations have done concrete harm, costing the organization millions in lawsuits. A deranged man even attempted to commit mass murder, having been inspired by the SPLC's rhetoric. How did a civil rights group dedicated to saving the innocent from the death penalty become a pernicious threat to America's free speech culture? How did an organization dedicated to fighting poverty wind up with millions in the Cayman Islands? How did a civil rights stalwart find itself accused of racism and sexism? Making Hate Pay tells the inside story of how the SPLC yielded to many forms of corruption and what it means for free speech in America today. It also explains why Corporate America, Big Tech, government, and the media are wrong to take the SPLC's disingenuous tactics at face value and the serious damage they cause by trusting this corrupt organization. Home-grown Hate Abby L. Ferber, 2004 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an Informa company.

Regulating Hate Speech Created by Generative AI Jay Liebowitz, 2024-08-02 Regulating Hate Speech Created by Generative AI explores the new hybrid space of Human Machine Interaction (HMI) in which hate speech is represented and computed through algorithms and AI generative systems. The book is exploratory because there are still many problem-solving challenges to be faced. It is also innovative because it is not assuming that solutions lie only in technological advancements but on a broader scale. In this sense, large language models can and are being considered from a holistic view, i.e., from the different dimensions and layers of regulatory and legal governance. Highlights of the book include: Generative AI and social engines of hate; An introduction to generative Artificial Intelligence; application trends and ethics; The mechanics and validation of generative AI outcomes; An evaluation of Generative AI for hate speech detection; Best practices and key considerations for AI regulation; Using GenAI capabilities for early detection of threats in the digital environment. This book is a hard look at ways to regulate generative AI to reduce online hate and secure justice in a digital environment. Featuring research and offering practical guidelines, the book examines guidelines for regulating generative AI models so they do not contribute to online hate, disinformation, and imagery.

BOOK JACKET Governing Hate and Race in the United States and South Africa Patrick Lynn Rivers,2008-08-20 In this book Patrick Lynn Rivers asserts that states govern racist hate by governing racial constructs Rivers maintains that state practices used to govern hate and race in both the United States and South Africa do not make citizens safer even as the United States markets itself as a melting pot of cultures and South Africa touts its status as the new multicultural city on a hill In effect the regulatory practices of the neoliberal state aid in the redirection of responsibility for the eradication of racist hate away from the nation and toward the hated leaving unaddressed the systemic causes of hate In line with emerging scholarship on hate but also taking advantage of the perspective that comparative analysis makes possible Rivers advocates a particular brand of progressive activism for a socially engaged state and citizenry where race is central and racism is not anomalous
