Breathing: Violence In, Peace Out Ivana Milojevic, 2013-10-01 An investigation into the long term impact of transgenerational trauma and the possibilities for healing this book explores the links between personal histories and world events and helps us to understand life's dualities violence and peace self and other stability and change slavery and freedom Author Ivana Milojevic asks How does violence change us Is it possible to change the inner landscape of one's thinking in the midst of pain and suffering and If this is our past how might our future be different Oscillating between two voices Milojevic journeys between the personal breathing in which describes her experience of violence while the second academic voice breathing out tries to make sense of it The rhythm created by inhaling and exhaling reflects not only what we take from the world but also what we give back to it Breathing is an inquiry into alternative futures as Milojevic explores a range of possibilities both for each of us personally and for the world A Theological Odyssey John W. De Gruchy, 2014-09-01 John de Gruchy is one of the greatest and most respected South African theologians of the past five decades His work has left an indelible mark on both the South African and international theological landscapes In this book he describes his theological journey revisiting core themes periods and sources This is an enriching read as De Gruchy engages with some of the greatest theologians in the history of the church notably John Calvin Karl Barth Karl Rahner Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Reinhold

Niebuhr as well as with a wide selection of his fellow South African theologians Cas Wepener Researching Terrorism, Peace and Conflict Studies Ioannis Tellidis, Harmonie Toros, 2015-02-11 This book examines potential synergies between the fields of Terrorism Studies and Peace and Conflict Studies The volume presents theoretically and empirically informed contributions which shed light on whether the two fields can inform each other on issues of mutual interest and importance The book examines key themes including the conceptualisation of peace and violence the exceptionalisation of terrorist violence the relationship between scholarship and political power the dysfunctionality of the liberal peace and the opportunities offered by post liberal peacebuilding frameworks and the implications and challenges of cyber terrorism and cyber conflict Furthermore the book intends to be a launching pad for future debate on whether the recent critical turn in terrorism studies can offer a pathway for peace studies to engage with the so far largely ignored question of power Consisting of not only key scholars but also practitioners and policy makers the contributors present a number of case studies including Colombia Northern Ireland the Basque Country and Iraq where they explore the relationships between terrorism and peace and conflict approaches They critically analyse the statist approach inherent in both terrorism approaches and liberal peacebuilding frameworks the role of the grassroots levels of society the inefficiency of simplistic frameworks of understanding and implementation and the chains of governance from international and transnational actors to national actors and finally from national to local actors This book will be of much interest to students of terrorism studies peace and conflict studies IR and security studies

Embracing the Track of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Making Peace Healing A Violent World

In a world eaten by screens and the ceaseless chatter of immediate communication, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony created by the written word usually disappear in to the background, eclipsed by the constant noise and distractions that permeate our lives.
