The introduction deals with the causes, symptoms and diagnosis of disease and with control measures which include plant health legislation. It provides an interdisciplinary coverage of the up to date information on Mollicutes such as Mycoplasma, Spiroplasma, Phytoplasma and plant diseases caused by different Mollicutes. This book is intended to serve postgraduate and graduate students. To the students this book is not merely a general reference; it is equivalent to several textbooks. Contents: Introduction, Classification of Mollicutes, Mycoplasma, Phytoplasma, Spiroplasma, Plant Diseases. Applications of Biotechnology in Forestry and Horticulture V. Dhawan, 2012-12-06. Major and exciting changes have taken place recently in various aspects of biotechnology and its applications to forestry. Even more exciting is the prospect of major innovations that the entire field of biotechnology holds for plant growth in general. The importance of these developments for the forestry sector is considerable, particularly since forestry science has not received the kinds of technical and R D inputs that say agriculture has received in the past few decades. Yet the problems of deforestation as well as stagnation in yields and productivity of existing forests throughout the world are becoming increasingly apparent with consequences and ecological effects that cause growing worldwide concern. Policies for application of existing knowledge in biotechnology to the field of forestry and priorities for future research and development are therefore of considerable value because it is only through the adoption of the right priorities and enlightened policies that scientific developments will move along the right direction leading to improvements in forestry practices throughout the world. It was against this backdrop that the Tata Energy Research Institute (TERI) organised a major international workshop on the Applications of Biotechnology in Forestry and Horticulture at New Delhi in January 1988. The present volume covers the proceedings of this international workshop.
